SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1930. C

DAILY, FIVE CENTS

Will Rogers Remarks:

BOSTON, June 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Everybody says "Why don't we get more fine high-type men in the Senate." Well, New Jersey goes on national exhibition. I saw with my own eyes in Mexico the way Morrow pulled us out of a terrible situation, by replacing politics with national honor and diplomacy with common sense. I honestly believe he is the most competent man I ever met, and awfully human. Few States ever have such a chance. If New Jersey turns him down they just revert back to their usual oblivion. Any man to run against him would have to have more egotism than State pride.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—I guess this German boy is a fine young man, but the condition the boxing game is in it does seem rather appropriate that its champion should be named Smelling. I know of no sport with a greater odor.

SPEED KILLS SEGRAVE

British Racing King Injured So Badly He Expires Soon After Craft Sinks

One Mechanic Carried Down With Hull and Other Hurt When Thrown Clear

WINDERMERE (Eng.) June 13. (AP)—Maj. Sir Henry Segrave, whose plaything was speed, today lost his life while testing his newest toy, a motor boat capable of racing 100 miles an hour.

The distinguished Englishman, internationally famed for holding the world's motor car speed record and known to thousands for his sterling sportsmanship, met disaster when his Miss England II, a $125,000 craft, overturned on Lake Windermere and sank.

Sir Henry's mechanician, E. Halliwell, disappeared as the spill occurred. His body was not recovered. It is thought to lie tonight in the depths of the sylvan lake in the torn hull of the speed boat.

J. Willcocks, another mechanic, was rescued at the time Sir Henry's

FRANCE HITS AT SOVIETS

Indo-China Row Widens Chasm

[Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, June 13. (Exclusive)—Franco-Russian relations are strained virtually to the breaking point tonight following new disclosures in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon as to how Moscow agents are fomenting the bloody revolution in Indo-China.

Last week these disclosures were made by various Deputies of the Right who are all bitterly opposed to Communism. Today they were formally confirmed by Colonial Minister Francois Pietri. Premier Tardieu and War Minister Maginot sat on the ministerial bench while M. Pietri delivered his address and even helped him reply to a Communist heckler.

TARDIEU TO SPEAK

M. Pietri said Communist propaganda was the principal cause of the trouble in Indo-China and in guarded but severe terms denounced the soviet government. When M. Pietri had finished a sensation was created by the announcement that Premier Tardieu will speak before the Chamber next Friday on the deliberate plots of the Bolsheviks to undermine French authority in Indo-China.

It was reported in official circles tonight that in this address M. Tardieu will deliver an ultimatum to the soviets, and if solemn assurance is not offered that agitation in Indo-China will be discontinued, diplomatic relations with Russia will be broken off immediately.

Political observers here are amazed that relations have not been broken off before. Following Maxim Litvinoff's insult to French Ambassador Eugene Herbette, and the latter's departure, France has had no Ambassador at Moscow. M. Herbette has refused to return to his post and the government has had no intention of appointing a successor.

SPEECH APPLAUDED

There was no doubt today about the feeling of the Deputies in regard to the Bolsheviks. M. Pietri's speech was vigorously applauded by all benches except the Communists. Even the galleries, which were crowded, were loud in applause. M. Pietri has been under fire for some time owing to the seeming powerlessness of the government to check the revolt in Indo-China. Opinion in political circles tonight is that he has saved his job and probably the government by his speech, which clearly and boldly laid the root of the trouble on the Communists and promised quick action by the government in stamping out the Reds.

M. Pietri, in describing the growing Communism in Indo-China, said that the organizers came from Canton, are working directly under orders from Moscow and are receiving Russian gold.

"It is a program of action," declared M. Pietri, "to overthrow by violence French imperialism, to stir up bloody conflicts, the duration of which are not certain but the results are sure to establish at once a dictatorship of the proletariat, which will ally itself with the soviet government. It is a definite plan of combat and has a disciplinary system. Betrayal of the organization's secrets or disobedience of orders is punishable by death."

EDISON OFF MORROW FOR WET STAND

Inventor's Influence to be Thrown to Fort for Senator, He Says

NEW YORK, June 13. (Exclusive) The stand taken by Representative Fort on the prohibition issue in the race for the Republican Senatorial nomination in New Jersey has won him the support of Thomas A. Edison.

The 83-year-old inventor returned from his winter vacation in Fort Myers, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. Edison and her sister, today. He was asked if he will support the candidacy of Dwight W. Morrow, who opened his campaign by declaring for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"No," replied Mr. Edison. He then was asked if he will support Mr. Fort's candidacy.

"Yes, I will," he answered emphatically. He said his declaration in favor of Mr. Fort was inspired by the fact that the latter is the dry candidate.

Making a final attempt to better his seaplane mark of 38,560 feet before he leaves Washington tomorrow for sea duty, the navy altitude ace was forced to make a dead-stick landing.

FOG TIES UP MANY SHIPS IN NEW YORK

One Grounded, Two Other Craft Collide and Plane Pilot Crashes on Street

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Fog lay so low and heavy offshore and in the lower harbor today that liners crept in and out like snails or dropped their anchors and waited for hours. One boat went aground, two others collided, and an airplane crashed when the pilot could not find the field he sought.

Among incoming liners delayed for hours were the Aquitania, the Europa and the Siboney. The first to nose through the gray wall into the clear sunshine that bathed the upper bay and the city itself were the George Washington, with a delegation of Gold Star Mothers, and the Santa Maria.

The Paris left its pier last night for France, but had to anchor below quanantine until this morning. Then it moved outward and presumably to sea, although the fog was so dense it was not sighted from Ambrose lightship.

The craft that went ashore is the Norwegian freighter Stavanger, which grounded in mud and sand off Fire Island. A Coast Guard cutter stood by all day to try to float her off at high tide.

Lieut. Donald Browner of Wright Field, Ohio, was flying to Miller Field, Staten Island, but could not find the field because of the fog. He set his ship down in a street about 300 feet from shore front and escaped with minor injuries. His plane was taken to Miller Field for repairs.

The tanker Gulf of Mexico collided eleven miles south of Ambrose light with the Franklin K. Lane, a freighter, but both proceeded under their own power.

Storm Ravages Southern Chile; Death in Wake

SANTIAGO (Chile) June 13. (AP)—Southern Chile was ravaged by a storm last night which took at least eight lives and left a fear of more casualties.

Reports are meager, since the southern part of the country it isolated and the only news is coming from emergency wireless sets.

One report said the steamer Lagunas foundered with all hands at Puerto Constitucion, but details are lacking.

Totten Chosen to be Minister

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—Ralph J. Totten of Tennessee was nominated today by President Hoover to be Minister to the Union of South Africa. The Nashville man has been Consul-General at Capetown since 1926.

The storms appeared to be a series of small tornadoes rather than one large one. They started apparently in South Central Minnesota and went eastward, striking at intervals communities in Southeastern Minnesota and then in Wisconsin.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolbert, operators of an ice company near Menomonie; Mrs. Carl Kaiser, killed near the Wolbert plant; a Mr. Hoehn, employee of the Wolberts, and William Drappe of Randolph, Minn., Great Western railroad section foreman, killed at Randolph.

More than two-score persons were injured in Randolph and near-by towns.

The greatest property damage appeared to be at Eau Claire, Wis., where several buildings were blown down and all telephone, telegraph and electric lines were out for several hours. Five fires added to the confusion there, but there were only twelve persons injured seriously enough to require medical attention.

The tornadoes almost reached into the Minnesota capital, getting as far north as St. Paul Park, a suburb, where four persons were severely injured.

The storm struck not far from Austin, Minn., destroyed the Town Hall and other buildings at Oslo, Minn., and later hit Ellsworth, Wis.

FARMS AND HOMES WRECKED IN MINNESOTA

ST. PAUL, June 13. (AP)—One man is reported to have been killed, several injured and considerable property damage done in a series of tornadoes in Southern Minnesota late today.

W. Drappe, a section foreman for the Chicago Great Western Railroad, is reported to have been killed at Randolph, Minn., about thirty-five miles south of here. Numerous buildings there were damaged. Three are reported to have been injured. A call for doctors and nurses was received at Hastings.

Half a dozen homes were destroyed in St. Paul Park, a St. Paul suburb, and two persons injured there. "Grandma" McNerny, 80 years of age, was pinned beneath a stove when her home was demolished. She was seriously burned. Grace Cooley, 15, was injured when she and her father were carried several feet in their home by the twister.

In Southern Minnesota near Brownsdale and Oslo, several buildings are reported to have been destroyed.

A roof was torn from a house and several barns, smaller buildings and wind mills were destroyed in the Munson Hill district, about twelve miles southeast of Randolph.

A number of orchards in that vicinity were leveled and many of the telephone poles blown down.

No persons were reported injured in that vicinity.

The farm of Ed Edwards, four miles northeast of Brownsdale, is said to have been destroyed as well as several others near Oslo, in Southern Minnesota.

EL CENTRO CONVICTS NINE REDS

Strike Agitators Among Melon Workers to Receive Prison Sentences

EL CENTRO, June 13. (AP)—A jury of three women and nine men in Superior Court here tonight found nine Communists guilty of three counts of criminal syndicalism.

The defendants were ordered to appear in court at 9:30 a.m. Monday for sentence, which, the county prosecutor said under the law might be from two to fifty years in San Quentin penitentiary on each count.

The trial, at which the defendants took the stand and admitted they were members of the Communist party, one of the charges against them, lasted three weeks.

Most of the defendants said they had agitated strikes, encouraged sabotage and solicited members for the Communist organization, because "it is for the betterment of humanity."

Those convicted are Frank Sklar, Southern California Communist organizer; Frank Spector, his assistant; T. Horiuchi, Oscar Erickson, Lawrence Emery, Edwardo Herrera, Emilio Alonzo, Barrilio Orozco, and Benny Roxas.

The jury recommended the Federal government investigate the men and deport those who are not citizens.

The State presented evidence that the defendants by circulating literature and in speeches attempted to call a general strike of canteloupe workers, and get the strikers to blow up railroads and burn down packing sheds.

NAVAL PACT DEFENDED

Hoover Analyzes Real Issues

World Good Will and Parity or Warlike Building Only Courses

Senate Had Part in Every Move of Negotiations, He Declares

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—President Hoover spoke up for the London naval limitations agreement today in a statement to the press as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee prepared for a vote on the pact next week.

Without direct reference to the opposition in the Senate the President said "the real issue in the treaty is whether we shall stop competitive naval building with all the destruction and dangers to international good will which continuation of these courses implies."

In two brief sentences of his last paragraph, he disposed of the Senate committee's contentions for the papers exchanged among the powers before the conference.

REPLY BY STIMSON

The Senate, through two members on the delegation, has had "a practical participation in every step in the making of the treaty," he said. "There is not one scintilla of agreement or obligation of any character outside the treaty itself."

A more definite reply to the committee's resolution asserting its right to the papers was made earlier in the day by Secretary Stimson.

In a letter to Chairman Borah, her acknowledged receipt of the resolution and said the executive branch did not intend to define the duty of the Senate nor the scope of its powers. He maintained, however, that the treaty must be "measured by the language of the document" and made no move to turn over the papers sought by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

NAVY EXPERTS DIVIDED

Mr. Hoover's sudden declaration in behalf of the London agreement followed an address last night by Secretary Stimson supporting the pact and denouncing its foes. The double pronouncements from the administration were regarded as answers to the opposition which has included high-ranking navy officers.

Mr. Hoover in his statement took note of the dispute over the limitation provided by the treaty on eight-inch-gun cruisers for the American fleet and called attention that "our naval advisers are sharply divided."

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The President's statement follows:

"The real issue in the treaty is whether we shall stop competitive naval building with all the destruction and dangers to international good will which continuation on these courses implies; whether we shall spend an enormous sum in such a race to catch up with competitors, with no assurance that we will reach parity and proportionate strength even with such an expenditure; and whether the present agreement gives us a substantial parity and proportionate strength and, therefore, with our Army absolute defensive power, and accomplishes this by an agreement which makes for good will, for decrease in the naval armament world, and puts our program of naval renewals and cruiser construction at a cost far less than would otherwise be required.

"The treaty revises the battleship program of the Washington arms conference in such a fashion that we reduce the battleship tonnage of the world by 230,230 tons, in which the United States scraps three battleships, Great Britain five battleships, Japan one battleship, and in addition to this, postpones the enormous construction program of the Washington arms treaty until after 1936.

PARITY AT ONCE

"We obtain parity of our battleship fleets almost at once instead of ten years hence. We accomplish it without building a single new ship. The aircraft, destroyed, and

TARIFF BILL APPROVED

Senate Passes Final Draft

Measure Gets 44-42 Vote; House Slated to Act on Differences Today

Hoover to Get Legislation Early Next Week and Signing Predicted

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The eighteen-month-old tariff bill neared the White House tonight after the Senate, by a vote of 44 to 42, had given its approval to the final draft of the Hawley-Smoot measure.

The Republican-dominated House tomorrow will take up the conference agreement adjusting the differences between the two branches and adoption is confidently predicted after two or three hours of debate.

President Hoover, who initiated the legislation, will receive the measure early next week. Although he will seek counsel of experts and send the bill to the various departments interested in its administration before acting, his signature is regarded as certain by administration leaders in Congress.

ELECTION ISSUE

That the bill will be made an important issue in the coming elections was forecast today as the leaders of all three Senate factions assailed and defended it before almost a full floor attendance and capacity audiences in the galleries.

The final roll call, taken after three hours of debate, showed thirty-nine Republicans and five Democrats for the bill. Thirty Democrats, eleven Republicans and the one Farmer-Labor Senator, Shipstead, of Minnesota, combined against it. The two-vote margin for the bill represents the position of the entire membership, as every Senator not voting was paired.

ROLL CALL ON BILL

For: Republicans: Allen, Baird, Bingham, Capper, Couzens, Dale, Deneen, Fess, Gillett, Glenn, Goldsborough, Greene, Grundy, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Herbert, Johnson, Jones, Kean, Keyes, McCullough, McNary, Metcalf, Oddie, Patterson, Phipps, Reed, Robinson of Indiana, Robinson of Kentucky; Shortridge, Smoot, Steiwer, Sullivan, Thomas of Idaho, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott and Waterman—39.

Democrats: Broussard, Ransdell, Fletcher, Trammell and Kendrik—5. Total, 44.

Against: Republicans: Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Frazier, Howell, La Follette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Pine and Schall—11.

Farmer-Labor: Shipstead—1. Total, 42.

SENATORS PAIRED

Of those not voting the following pairs were announced: For: Republicans: Cutting, Goff, Gould, Moses and Watson. Against, Republican; Nye. Democrats: Steck, Blease, King and Smith.

The dramatic end of the long Senate fight through the special and regular sessions saw Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, denounce the measure as a "disappointment" even to its supporters; Senator Borah of Idaho, the Republican independent leader, assert it fails to meet the party pledges and will be useless to agriculture without the debenture, and Senator Watson of Indiana, the majority chieftain, championed it in a vigorous hour-and-a-half speech.

Ripping into the bill's opponents, the Republican leader waved his arms and pounded desks all around him as he termed the opposition attack the "same old argument" used against every tariff bill.

FORD AND SLOAN SCORED

He assailed Henry Ford and Alfred P. Sloan, president of General Motors, for opposing the measure, asserting the "motives of these in-

INDUSTRIES AID GRAPE PLAN

Oil, Railway, Power and Manufacturing Concerns Get Behind Farm Board's Program

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. (Exclusive)—Pledging men who were willing to wear out shoe leather, large industries today got behind the Federal Farm Board's grape industry plan. At a meeting in the Palace Hotel, oil, railway, power, telephone and manufacturing concerns promised to make contacts with grape growers through their thousands of employees.

The San Francisco, Los Angeles and State Chambers of Commerce pledged aid, and help from an unexpected source came from the United State, Federal Prohibition Bureau. William G. Walker, administrator for this district, said he will bend every effort to thwart grape products from being put to illegal use.

Maj. Frank McReynolds, who said he acts as the personal representative of Prohibition Commissioner Doran, has been sent to California to assist the grape industry in every way possible.

A resolution was passed naming R. W. Blackburn, A. J. Mount and Wylie M. Giffen as members of a committee to call upon the Governor to issue an emergency proclamation asking every citizen to support the plan.

Giffen, as chairman of the State-wide grape sign-up committee, said the action taken by the large industries will mean the difference between success or failure of the plan to control grape prices when the growers are faced with a 400,000-ton surplus. He said the tide of business prosperity in California is not higher than that of the prosperity of agriculture.

Giffen declared forty workers are needed immediately in the Sanger, Lone Star and Clovis communities where, partially due to indifference, the sign up is only about 30 per cent. In the San Joaquin Valley as far north as Fresno, Giffen

"RAILROADING" BASE FEARED

House Navy Committee May Vote Next Monday

Britten Believed to Vision Sunnyvale Winner

Air Junket Plan Rejected at Washington

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 13. (Exclusive)—There were indications today that the House Naval Committee may vote on the California naval dirigible base controversy in executive session next Monday without sending a subcommittee to the Coast to make a first-hand inspection of the rival sites at Camp Kearny, San Diego, and Sunnyvale in the San Francisco Bay area.

The possibility of such immediate action is based on the indisposition of the Rules Committee to give right of way on the floor to the resolution authorizing the west coast junket and a factional split in the Naval Committee which may cause Sunnyvale to be voted the winner in accordance with Chairman Britten's desire, or tie the selection of the base up in a deadlock.

BRITTEN'S SCHEME

In spite of the fact that Chairman Britten has restricted the proposed traveling committee to eight, he said today that the Rules Committee did not seem favorable to a special rule for the empowering resolution and while it has not definitely turned the request down the chances of a subcommittee going to the west coast this summer seems to have dwindled.

This was taken in some quarters as indicating that Britten believes he has enough votes to put Sunnyvale over by immediate action and does not want to take the chance of losing this opportunity by a trip to the Coast before final action is taken.

AIR JUNKET VETOED

Another interpretation was that when the Navy Department today turned down his request to make the west coast junket in the dirigible Los Angeles Britten lost interest, to a certain degree, in a trip involving an ordinary train ride and less colorful publicity than he had hoped for.

In addition to the cool reception given the resolution by the Rules Committee, reports sprung up today that the House Appropriations Committee also is unfriendly to the proposed California trip.

SWING ENTERS PROTEST ON AIR BASE CHANGE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 13. (Exclusive)—Representative Swing of El Centro and T. C. MacAulay, manager of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, today protested before the House Committee on Military Affairs against the Kahn bill, which would wipe out the army air activities at Rockwell Field, San Diego, by moving them to northern sites. Swing previously had sent a letter opposing the proposed change, and asking the committee to leave the air base at San Diego to protect the naval establishment there.

Swing said it is ridiculous for the Army to attempt to defend San Diego with a pursuit group from March Field, Riverside, one to three hours away.

To offset the plea made by both army and navy officials that North Island is overcrowded with both the army and navy air forces operating from there, MacAulay offered the Army 796 acres at Chula Vista, near San Diego, and a cash appropriation of $100,000 for the establishment of a new base at that location.

He stated that he was not arguing against army air bases in the San Francisco area but against such establishments at the expense of San Diego.

Wets Fail to Qualify Party for Primaries

SACRAMENTO, June 13. (Exclusive)—An attempt to qualify an antiprohibition party for the August primary election failed today when an insufficient number of signatures were filed with Secretary of State Jordan by sponsors of the new organization.

This was the last day to qualify parties for the primary and Jordan said the antiprohibition party petition contained only 10,839 names, whereas 12,125 were required. All the signatures were obtained in San Francisco.

JUSTICE is the most fundamental quality which must be built into the structure of human society. When justice is defeated, a blow is struck at the foundations of civilization; when justice triumphs, life is made secure and strong. Plays like Martin Flavin's "Criminal Code" render an invaluable service in directing our thoughts to the defects in our machinery of justice. E. Debris crowded the streets here as a roaring wind tore down structures in the northwest part of the city. A heavy rain accompanied the wind.

Five fires that broke out shortly after the storm struck at 7 p.m. were reported under control.

Telephone, telegraph and electric light poles and wires were a twisted mass of debris. Firemen and doctors worked in darkness rescuing injured. Communication was re-established with outside points on a hurriedly repaired long-distance line.

La Crosse, Wis., reported that several farm buildings were demolished in La Crosse. Considerable damage was reported near Alma Center, Sparta and Whitehall, Wis., to farm buildings.

unconscious form was taken from the lake. Willcocks is severely injured.

Maj. Segrave's hurts, a broken arm, a broken rib and a fractured thigh, were not considered critical at first, but he failed to rally and, with Lady Segrave at his side, died two hours after the mishap.

His craft, which in the last few days had three accidents, remained afloat half an hour with her bows crushed by impact with the water.

LURE OF SPEED

Lady Segrave some time ago induced her husband to abandon automobile racing after he had won the world's motor car speed crown at Daytona Beach. She feared the risk too great. He could not, however, resist the lure of speed and turned to fast boating.

He built the craft with the intention of competing for the international trophy at Detroit this summer. Tests showed her pace could be tuned to 100 miles an hour. He felt certain of victory.

Just before the tragedy today Miss England II's time over a measured course was recorded at an average in two tries of 98.76 miles an hour, one mile being covered at the rate of 101.11 miles an hour. It was announced tonight the figures will be forwarded to the International Marine Yachting Union for recognition as a new world's mark for boats of the class.

AUTO RECORD HELD

Sir Henry established a world's automobile speed record of more than 231 miles an hour at Daytona Beach on March 11, 1929. He used a specially built car equipped with a steering device based on the sights of a rifle and thus was able to speed over the beach at a terrific rate.

On his return to England he was given a tumultuous reception and was knighted by King George for his speed feats.

After establishing the automobile record, Segrave turned his attention to motor-boat racing and for the past year has been trying out speed boats. In May, 1929, he said he was through with automobile races and that he preferred motor boats.

Segrave took part in the Venice regatta July, 1929, and won the Venice race. In trial races his boat had made 92.8 miles an hour and he said he was building one which he hoped could make 120 miles an hour.

NEW BOAT BUILT

In December, 1929, Segrave began construction of a new speed boat with which he hoped to win back the international speed boat trophy at Detroit during 1930.

Sir Henry, who was 35 years of age, served in the World War and was wounded three times. He was mentioned in dispatches. He was technical adviser to the Air Council in 1917 and previously had been attached to the General Staff in France. He was attached to the British Embassy in Washington in 1918. He was president of the Wolverhampton Engineering Society and held numerous orders of merit.

Hoover Refuses Shoals Action

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—President Hoover declined today a request of Representative Almon, Democrat, Alabama, that he intervene in the controversy between the House and Senate conferees on the Muscle Shoals bill.

Leaving the White House, Mr. Almon said the President declined to say whether he would sign the compromise bill on which the conference disagreed.

CONFERENCE AGREES ON POWER BILL

House and Senate Groups in Accord at Parley on Revising Commission

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The House and Senate conferees today reached an agreement on the administration-sponsored bill to reorganize the Federal Power Commission.

The measure, as agreed upon, provides for the setting up of an independent commission of five members to be appointed by the President.

It also would provide for an entire reorganization of the personnel and would relieve the Secretaries of Agriculture, Interior and War departments from their present duties as members of the commission.

HOOVER TELLS TREATY ISSUES

submarine programs of the treaty are fair and meet with substantially no criticism and represent a decrease in destroyers and submarines.

"Against the great battleship saving, our cruiser program increases from 300,000 to 320,000 tons. The point at issue in the cruiser program is whether or not we should have 30,000 tons more of cruisers with eight-inch guns advocated by the navy board or 38,500 tons with six-inch guns provided by this treaty. Upon the merits or demerits of these alternatives as to this very small part of the fleet of about 1,125,000 tons, our naval advisers are sharply divided.

"The Senate through two of its members upon the delegation has had a practical participation in every step in the making of the treaty. There is not one scintilla of agreement or obligation of any character outside the treaty itself."

Accepting the controversy over the confidential papers as settled, Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee called a meeting for Monday and predicted final action on the pact some time next week.

Senator Johnson indicated no move to carry further the fight for the papers. He said, however, in commenting upon the Stimson letter, "We may accept as settled now the rights of the Senate in the consideration of treaties as defined in the resolution of the Committee on Foreign Relations."

Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who in the committee debate led the demand for adoption of the resolution asserting the committee's rights to the papers, was called to the White House today by President Hoover. It is known the treaty was discussed, but beyond that there was no intimation of what was said.

Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, a member of the committee, has insisted the papers be turned over before action is taken upon the pact, but there appears not to be a majority of the committee willing to pursue this course.

SUN GODDESS TO BE TOLD OF TREATY'S DRAFTING

TOKIO, June 13. (AP)—The sun goddess, Amaterasu, divine ancestress of the Japanese race, will be solemnly apprised tomorrow of the conclusion of the London naval limitation treaty, in accordance with the ages-old custom of reporting to her major events affecting the destiny of the empire.

Admiral Hyo Takarabe, Minister of Marine and one of the delegates to the London conference, representing both the delegation and the Cabinet, left here tonight for Ujiyamada to worship at the great shrine of Ise, which is dedicated to Amaterasu.

On Sunday Admiral Takarabe will go to Momoyama, near Kyoto, to make a similar report on the conclusion of the treaty at the tomb of the Emperor Meiji, founder of the modern empire of Japan.

Completing his mission of communing with the soul's of the nation's past, the Cabinet Minister will return to modern realities Monday by attending the launching at the Kure naval base of the 10,000-ton cruiser Atago. On Tuesday at Kobe he will welcome home to Japan the chief of the delegation to London, former Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki, who is returning from England by steamer.

AMBASSADOR DAWES HIGHLY LAUDS TREATY

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—With words of high praise for the London naval treaty, Gen. Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to England, returned tonight for a month's stay in this country.

"The treaty," he said, "represents the greatest step yet taken in naval reduction and limitation and at the same time secures parity for the United States which could only be attained by a fifteen years' naval race at a cost of $2,000,000,000, during all of which time we would have naval inferiority and curtailment of other useful government activities. It protects us both in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Watson conceded business is depressed, but predicted the nation will be on the "upgrade financially" within thirty days from enactment of the bill and in a year's time "we shall regain the peak of prosperity and the position we lost last October."

Senator Borah contended whatever benefit the farmers will receive under the bill will be more than offset by increases in industrial rates.

Watson had the galleries and both sides of the chamber in an uproar as he sent verbal shafts toward the Democrats. Reading from Calhoun's speeches, the Indianan smilingly asked, "Doesn't that sound familiar?"

ON GOLDEN STILTS

"They say we live on stilts," he continued, adding: "Well, if we do, they're golden stilts, and they have put us up on a higher plane than any other people in the world."

Permitting frequent interruptions, Watson answered political challenges with the assertion that "the answer to all of this is the actual working of the tariff."

Chairman Hawley, of the Ways and Means Committee, was greeted with prolonged applause when he told the House of the Senate action and said he will call up the measure tomorrow.

Both Senators Smoot, Republican, Utah, and Simmons, North Carolina, chairman and ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, were lauded by their colleagues for their untiring efforts in connection with the long and weary fight.

CHURCH COUNCIL URGES DAY OF PRAYER

FRESNO, June 13. (Exclusive)—Resolutions were adopted today by the Fresno Council of Churches recommending that churches of the San Joaquin Valley set aside Sunday, the 22nd inst., as a day of confession, consecration and prayer for the relief of the California grape industry. The action comes upon the heels of a similar recommendation at Sanger on Tuesday by the San Joaquin Presbytery of Presbyterian Churches.

SAN BERNARDINO'S SIGN-UP NEARLY COMPLETE

ONTARIO, June 13.—Task of signing up 85 per cent of the grape growers in San Bernardino county is practically complete, and the rest of the Southern California district, over which Benton Ballou, Ontario vineyardist, is chairman, is rapidly swinging into line, assuring the 85 per cent for participation in the Federal Farm Board aid program, it was said at the Ballou offices today. With San Bernardino county practically signed up Ballou is directing his attention to San Diego, Escondido and El Cajon districts, from which no definite reports were available today. A. K. Day of the California Vineyardists' Association is expected to direct the campaign of signing up grape-control contracts in that district. Rupert Dishman and Harry Roberts of this city will probably assist in the drive.

STATE'S REPRESENTATIVES SOLIDLY BEHIND PROGRAM

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 13. (Exclusive)—The California Congressional delegation offered solid support to the co-operative marketing program for California grapes in the following telegram sent today to Wylie M. Giffen of Fresno, chairman of the "committee of fifty:"

"The undersigned members of the California delegation have full confidence in the Federal Farm Board's plan for State grape industry and will back the Farm Board to the limit in its effort to aid the grape growers of California."

The wire was signed by every California Representative.

STATE STUDIES FILIPINO INFLUX

Survey Shows 34,000 Have Entered California

Ninety-three Out of Each 100 Arriving Are Males

White Labor Displaced by Lower Pay Required

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. (AP)—The social and economic problem created by the immigration of nearly 34,000 Filipinos into California, mostly since 1920, is analyzed by a survey made public today by Will J. French, director of the State Department of Industrial Relations.

The problem, it is shown, is the most serious of its kind since solution of the Chinese and Japanese immigration problems by legislation. Unlike these problems, the Filipino riddle, it is pointed out, is not to be solved so easily for the reason that, being dependents, they can not be barred, and being oriental aliens they can not readily be made citizens.

The survey was called forth by recent clashes between Filipinos and whites.

FEW WOMEN

It was not until 1920 that the Filipino became a problem. During the ten years from 1920 to 1929, inclusive, 31,092 Filipinos were admitted into the the State by way of Los Angeles and San Francisco. Of the number admitted 35 per cent came direct from Manila; 56 per cent from Hawaii and 9 per cent from other ports, mostly in the Orient. The percentage coming direct from the Philippines is increasing. Out of every 100 Filipinos entering California in the ten-year period, ninety-three were males and seven females. This has created one of the social angles of the problem. Association of the men with white girls has caused much unrest, Mr. French points out.

CROWD OUT WHITES

The chief difficulty, however, lies in the replacement of white labor by Filipinos. Between 5000 and 6000 Filipinos are employed in harvesting the California asparagus crop, numbering more than 80 per cent of the workers thus employed. Filipinos also are gradually replacing white workers in hotels, apartment-houses and clubs and as domestic servants, the survey shows, giving as the reason that employers find them willing to work longer hours, for lower wages and under less comfortable conditions than white workers. It is this displacement that is blamed in the survey for the recent disturbances at Exeter and Watsonville. Association of the Filipinos with the white girls at carnivals and dance halls is a contributing factor.

REPORTER'S KILLER SEEN, PAINTER TELLS POLICE

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—A report that the slayer of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Tribune reporter, was seen in St. Louis yesterday was received by Chicago police today as they continued their onslaught on the underworld, arresting more than 1000 persons.

The St. Louis story, relayed by police there, came from Melvin Pryor, itinerant painter, who said he talked with Lingle's slayer just before the shot was fired and then saw him again yesterday at Grand and Olive streets, St. Louis.

Although the Chicago authorities were greatly interested in the report and asked St. Louis police to drive Pryor through the streets in the hope he might see the asserted slayer again, they allowed no let-up in their drive against the hoodlums which followed the slaying of the veteran crime reporter and the attendant public clamor for action.

Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, tonight received a telegram from Harry Chandler of Los Angeles, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, which called the murder of Lingle "at once a challenge to society, and an insolent defiance of law and order." He pledge the support of the association to the Tribune and other Chicago papers in their effort to find Lingle's killer and to end "conditions which made the atrocity possible."

"The press of America constitutes the eyes, the ears and the voice of the decent, right-thinking public in the unending warfare of society against those who would degrade and destroy it," the telegram said.

BOMBAY (India) June 13. (AP)—ing of troops here began today it became evident that events the Mahatma Gandhi civil-reance campaign are working rapup to a great crisis.

The Bombay government this evening announced a battalion of Mahrattas, 500 strong, are being summoned from Poona, and other detachments of troops from other quarters in a mobilization that will enable the local authorities to cope successfully with the increasing seriousness of demonstrations.

The announcement indicated the authorities are determined not to have a repetition of yesterday's disorders when 25,000 demonstrators violated the antiassembly act and held a meeting after the police discreetly withdrew.

Open defiance of Viceroy Lord Irwin's taxation, picketing and other ordinances, leading items in the disobedience program, led the government to order immediate steps for their strict enforcement.

Events of the week-end were awaited in Bombay with keen concern.

MEXICAN INFLUX SHOWS DECLINE

Only 400 Received Visas in May, Report Says

State Department Keeps Up Fight on Box Bill

Advocates of Measure Feel Ground Slipping

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 13. (Exclusive) — The State Department, continuing its fight to block enactment of the Harris-Box Mexican quota bill passed by the Senate and pending before the House, issued a statement today showing that during May only 400 Mexicans received visas to enter the United States, and not one of these was of the common labor type objected to by the political restrictionists on Capitol Hill.

They were all business men, students and pleasure travelers who could come into the country, regardless of quota restrictions.

IMMIGRATION REDUCED

Mexican immigration, according to the statement, has now been reduced by 86.5 per cent from the former levels applying before the diplomatic branch a little more than a year ago began tightening up on visa requirements to prove that all necessary restriction could be accomplished by administration action not carrying offense to our friendly southern neighbor.

In view of the record made by the consular officials, it is declared by the State Department that Mexican immigration "is no longer a problem."

Answering the argument of proponents of Mexican exclusion that the falling off of Mexican entries has been due to economic conditions in this country, the department asserted that the demand for visas "has not diminished during the period in question."

Moreover, the Department said that the restrictive policy now in effect will be continued "so as to prevent effectively the recurrence of conditions existing a few years ago when the recorded admissions of Mexican laborers was very high."

REMOVES SUPPORT

This seems to sweep the ground entirely from under the three or four members of Congress who have been seeking for political effect in their home States and districts to get through a Mexican exclusion law and who, having wormed it through the Senate by trickery and misrepresentation are now bringing all possible pressure to bear on House leaders to complete enactment of the legislation.

The latest visa figures show that Mexican common laborers are now coming into the United States at the rate of only 1308 a year, which is probably lower than the number which would be allowed under the proposed quota measure. The Harris-Box bill would permit the entry of between 1200 and 900. And the State Department is tightening up more every month. Therefore, it is more apparent than ever that the passage of formal restriction legislation is unnecessary.

The State Department reports will help administration leaders in the House in their effort to hold up the quota bill which, however, had already been pronounced dead for this session of Congress.

RIVERS AND PORTS BILL NEAR VOTE

Measure Made Unfinished Business of Senate to be Taken Up Monday

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 13. (Exclusixe)—The rivers and harbors bill, carrying the Los Angeles-Long Beach breakwater appropriation and many other items of interest to California, was made the unfinished business of the Senate today, following the final vote on the tariff, and is to be taken up Monday. It already has passed the House.

Republican leaders predicted the measure will pass the Senate with two days' debate, although this depends, they said, on what success is made in ironing out the controversy over Chicago water diversion. Senator Vandenburg of Michigan, leader in the fight of other Great Lakes States against the Illinois "water steal," indicated the belief that a satisfactory compromise will be reached and that the bill will be passed.

The dispute over the move to have the Federal government take over the Oswego Canal in New York State apparently has been straightened out sufficiently so that it no longer will interfere with favorable action on the rivers and harbors bill, although for weeks it was the chief stumbling block.

There is some talk that the $300,000,000 measure will be vetoed by President Hoover for reasons of economy, but inasmuch as it simply authorizes the expenditures for the future, the general belief is it will be signed.

HOUSE REPUBLICAN LEADERS READY TO QUIT

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—House Republican leaders announced today they are ready for adjournment by the end of next week, but the program hinges on disposition of the rivers and harbors bill and veterans' relief legislation in the Senate.

Hoover Asks Pension Funds

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—President Hoover today asked Congress for funds to put into effect the Spanish War Veterans' pension bill, which it passed over his veto.

A supplemental estimate of $174,500 asked for the Department of Interior included a request for the appropriation of $100,000 to help the Bureau of Pensions expedite placing in effect of the Spanish War pension and the Civil War pension bills passed this session.

CAROL ALL BUT LOST CHANCE

Throne Seized as it Was Being Offered to Another

LONDON, June 13. (AP)—Baron Jonescu, wealthy Rumanian who long has been a friend of the new King Carol II, said in an interview today the Rumanian throne was being offered to Prince Charles of Flanders, second son of the King of the Belgians, at the very moment it was seized by Carol last week.

Jonescu said the peasants of Rumania are desperate on account of inability to transport their crops and to obtain credits and modern farming machinery because of the former governmental policies which excluded foreign capital from the kingdom. Either revolution or the declaration of a republic was imminent, he added.

MOVE LOST TO REOPEN PLAY SUIT

Santa Monica Woman's Long Fight Over "Bird of Paradise" Proves Futile

ALBANY (N. Y.) June 13. (AP)—The Court of Appeals today denied a motion for a reopening of the plagiarism suit instituted eighteen years ago by Mrs. Grace A. Fendler of Santa Monica, Cal., against Oliver Morosco and others, charging the play "The Bird of Paradise" was taken from "In Hawaii," a drama written by Mrs. Fendler.

The case, which has been heard from time to time in various courts, resulted, in 1929, in a judgment in the Supreme Court allowing Mrs. Fendler $800,000 as well as property rights in "The Bird of Paradise."

Early this year the Court of Appeals reversed the finding of the lower court, holding that ideas are "free as air" and that Mrs. Fendler is not entitled to recover anything, even if a reading of "In Hawaii" might have resulted in the introduction of some new material into "The Bird of Paradise."

Mrs. Fendler then moved for a reargument of the case, which the State's highest court denied today.

Choice Liquors Found on Trains Bearing Shriners

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) June 13. (AP)—Railroad trains on which Shriners traveled from the convention held this week in Toronto, Ont., yielded between $4000 and $5000 worth of choice wines, liquors and cognacs, when they were searched at the border by United States customs inspectors, T. M. Hennessey, deputy customs collector at the Falls port, said today.

No charges were preferred or fines imposed by the customs as government officials were unable to determine who owned the liquor. It was found hidden in various places in the Pullman cars on which the Shriners traveled, Hennessey said.

Approval Given to Colton Bill

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The Colton bill intending the furtherance of the administration oil reservation program by authorizing Secretary Wilbur to enter co-operative or unit plans of operation with lessees of public lands was approved today by the House Public Lands Committee.

Under the bill the Secretary would be permitted also to extend the leases for permits beyond the usual terms of twenty years to those entering the co-operative plan to protect them from eventful losses through their participation with the government.

"Peaches" Fails in Dower Fight

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—The effort of Frances (Peaches) Browning to force her former husband, Edward (Daddy) Browning, to give her dower rights on his real estate failed, at least temporarily, when her complaint was dismissed in Supreme Court today.

She was given twenty days, however, in which to file a new complaint if she wishes to continue her suit.

Prisoner Admits Hit-Run Blame

TACOMA (Wash.) June 13. (AP)—Tony Cortez, 24 years of age, a prisoner in the Pierce County Jail here, voluntarily confessed today he is the hit-and-run driver who fled from a collision in which his car overturned another at Los Angeles and Pico streets, Los Angeles, on either April 21 or 22, when several persons were injured.

Cortez indicated he will waive extradition if the Los Angeles authorities want him.

BALD SPOT RESULTS IN AWARD TO WOMAN

DENVER, June 13. (AP)—A bald spot on a woman's head is worth $150 in damages, a jury in Judge Bray's court decided. The jury today awarded that sum to Mrs. Audra Arnold, who sued Lillian Krestschmar, beauty-parlor operator. Mrs. Arnold asserted a permanent-wave machine burned the top of her head, causing the bald spot.

CAROL CABINET FINALLY PICKED

Maniu Solves Problem for New Rumanian King

Difficulties With Helen Also Being Smoothed Out

Queen Mother Marie Plans Royal Family Reunion

BUCHAREST (Rumania) June 13. (AP)—Rumanian affairs, upset since the proclamation of former Crown Prince Carol as King Sunday, straightened out today with the formation of a government and indications that the family difficulties of King Carol II finally have been made harmonious.

Queen Mother Marie today visited Queen Helen, who has been ill with a cold, and it was announced that after the recovery of Helen, who was divorced from Carol when he was a Crown Prince in exile, the entire royal family will hold a reunion at the palace of Queen Marie.

Persons well informed in court circles, say the reunion probably will bring the reconciliation of King Carol and Queen Helen, who then will await cancellation of the divorce decree granted the wife two years ago because Carol eloped with another woman.

The government problem was solved with the formation of a Cabinet by former Premier Maniu, leader of the Peasant party and strongest political leader in the Cabinet. He had served as Premier until the return of Carol, but stepped down to permit the elevation of the exile to monarchy.

MME. LUPESCU REPORTED ON HER WAY TO BUCHAREST

LONDON, June 14. (Saturday)—The Daily Mail carries a story from Berne, Switzerland, this morning, which asserts Mme. Magda Lupescu, who was Carol's companion in exile, is on her way to Bucharest escorted by two of the new Rumanian King's most trusted officers.

Declaring that Mme. Lupescu aspires at least to retain the King's close friendship, the dispatch adds she now is staying with friends at Baden, near Vienna, and will be in Bucharest Sunday night unless she changes her plans.

Steersman Just Off Duty as Vessels Crashed

Witness, Blazing, Drops Into Fiery Sea of Oil

BOSTON, June 13. (AP)—From the lips of one of the only two survivors of the more than forty persons who either were plunged or jumped into the sea last Tuesday night when the steamship Fairfax cleaved her prow into the gasoline-laden tanker Pinthis, Federal investigators of the disaster today heard fresh details of the tragedy.

The man is J. V. Eubank of Lewisetta, Va., quartermaster of the Fairfax, whose hand had guided the wheel of the Norfolk-bound passenger liner until four minutes before the crash which to date has claimed the lives of forty-seven persons.

HEARD NO WHISTLE

Eubank insisted no whistles had been heard immediately prior to the collision. At least three of the cabin windows were open he said, including one in front of the wheel.

Eubank had been relieved at 7 o'clock and had started aft when he sighted the tanker. At that time the Pinthis appeared to be directly across the bow of the Fairfax and her stack was in line with the passenger liner's prow.

Questioning by Dickerson N. Hoover, inspector-general of the United States Steamboat Service, who was sitting with Capt. Charles Lyons and John Stewart, the local inspectors, elicited from Eubank an admission that although he was not sure, he "thought" the Pinthis probably had the right of way. A similar admission was made yesterday by A. J. Powell, third officer, who was on watch at the moment of the crash.

INTO FIERY SEA

Almost before he could think, Eubank said, he found himself cut off by flames and his clothing afire. He swung himself out over the railing and when the heat from the flaming tanker and the ignited Fairfax became intense, he dropped into the sea fully clothed.

He dove several times to escape the flaming gasoline and estimated he was in the water nearly an hour when he sighted a damaged lifeboat. He remembered nothing after reaching the boat. When he was revived he found himself with Joe Cotter, Fairfax Negro hand. Both men tore their shirts from their backs to stuff into leaky places, and in this condition they drifted about until noon the next day when they were picked up by a fishing boat.

OLD-AGE BOGEY RECEIVES JOLT

Social-Work Session Holds Out Hope to Workers

Mere Years Declared Not to Unfit Men for Jobs

Industry Taking Interest in Solving Problem

BOSTON, June 13. (Exclusive)—Church, state and industry united here today to make Friday, the 13th, a day of hope for those who have reached "economic old age." Four authorities outlined to the National Conference of Social Work successful plans to prolong man's years of useful employment. The speakers included Rev. Joseph Thorning, S.J., Washington, D. C.; Caroline Manning, of the United States Department of Labor; Glenn A. Bowers of the Industrial Relations Counselors, Inc., New York City, and Noel Sargent, National Association of Manufacturers, New York City.

Emphasizing the false materialistic attitude which shelves a man when he reaches 45 years of age, Rev. Father Thorning decried treating him as a worn-out piece of machinery.

"Certain tasks," he said, "are best left to the wise and old. In religious fields the more experienced enjoy wider responsibilities, occupy positions of greater trust and are withdrawn from strenuous labors. Both modern industry and modern society might well ponder this example."

TESTS PROPOSED

Caroline Manning stated that researches showed that industrial employment of women becomes increasingly difficult after the age of 25 or 30.

"But it has not been proved," she said, "that production automatically decreases upon reaching a certain birthday. Other qualities may compensate for lack of speed."

Miss Manning urged that industry adopt practical tests to demonstrate fitness for simple jobs. A woman of 50, she said, might prove as well able to watch an automatic weighing machine or pull the lever to start or stop a packing machine as the girl of 20.

Defending industry from aspersions that men are ruthlessly discarded when they begin to slow up production, Bowers described industry today as highly competitive, and said that competition requires the efficient to crowd out the less efficient.

FIGURES QUOTED

"In the face of increasing competition," he said, "there has been a marked increase proportionately of workers between 45 and 64 between 1900 and 1920 in all occupations except agriculture. Significant trends are shown by a study just finished in five industries for the period 1911-1929. In all five relatively more persons of 45 or more were found to be employed in 1929, and in three industries more men past 65.

"Remedies for relief of economic old age are yet in an experimental stage," said Mr. Bowers. "True it is that the employment rules of some companies are applied at times with a harshness that shows lack of human sympathy and deserves strong public disapproval. The public has a right to look to those in control of industry so to conduct their financial relations with employees that they may accumulate a reserve for old age."

NEW TREND SHOWN

It was pointed out by Sargent that an increasing number of industrial companies are intelligently considering the question of adapting older employees to different jobs.

"Older workers can be changed to less laborious and dangerous positions," he stated. "The average worker wants to keep active in the factory as long as possible. In one plant with which I am familiar (The Norton Company, Worcester, Mass.,) it was found that at least thirty-two types of positions could be filled by older employees with profit to themselves and to the company.

"This concern established an allowance fund to be drawn upon if necessary to pay each older worker the difference between what he actually earns and the amount he is paid. This was intended to prevent a hidden charge against production. Yet experience showed that among thirty-nine men more than 65 years of age only three were unable actually to earn the wages paid them.

SUITABLE JOBS

"Do not we find here the solution of the problem for many factories in which conditions are such as to make possible the finding of suitable jobs for the old?

"Man's ingratitude to man does not seem so great when we consider some actual facts. An analysis of 4655 establishments, with a total of 2,505,815 workers, showed that sickness and accident benefits were provided for 1,098,390 workers; death benefits for 1,012,722; group life insurance for 1,130,217; pension plans for long-time service for 989,983; some form of stock purchase for 623,853, and organized savings plans for 627,164."

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—Chicago's metropolitan area, embracing six counties, including one in Indiana, has a population of 4,670,996, Federal census enumerators announced today.

Estimates based on a preliminary study of census figures indicate the city's unemployed account for but 4 per cent or 134,940, which is considerably fewer than predicted.

Official figures for 100 of the 102 counties in the State and official estimates for the other two, place Illinois' population at 7,636,949, a gain of 1,151,669.

More than one-half the total population of the State is in Cook county and of the gain shown by the State more than 90 per cent took place in the metropolitan area.

HOME MAKING DENVER TOPIC

Federation President Speaks on "New Occupation"

Women Asked to Realize Responsibility

Address Delivered Over Radio Hook-up

DENVER, June 13. (AP)—The woman as a home maker and as a moral influence in the community was pictured here today before the twentieth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs by Mrs. John F. Sippel of Baltimore, newly re-elected president of the organization.

"Our newly recognized 'occupation' as home makers in the census—a recognition that comes in response to the appeal of the women of the nation—carries an obligation to concern ourselves with all that affects the conditions of life in our homes," she said, "with a quickened sense of individual responsibility growing out of a truer estimate of our power."

The address, broadcast over a national radio hook-up, stressed the "magnitude of the woman power of our time, far transcending our realization."

UNCONSCIOUS POWER

"Most of us but dimly realize," Mrs. Sippel continued, "the astonishing" fact that we are constantly, though unconsciously, shaping industrial and commercial policies. A great statesman, sitting near me at a dinner in Washington, asked if I realized that the present depression in certain phases of the textile industry would be relieved by the addition of two inches on the length of women's gowns.

"A year ago we would have said that these two inches would also afford intense relief to our eyesight!"

The federation president called upon clubwomen to use their power in shaping the policies of production of motion-pictures and radio programs, and to encourage the application of modern, advanced policies in the treatment of society's offenders. She lauded the work of women in both present and past ages in civil institutions and complimented numerous clubs for their initiative in bringing about social reforms and rendering services to the community.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

The order of business for the consideration of resolutions passed today with no mention of the resolution concerning the asserted commercialization of the Federation especially in regard to the motion-picture industry.

The resolution was given to the resolutions committee yesterday by Mrs. J. Allen Hoover and never came out of the committee.

Two resolutions were adopted on final reading, one concerning itself with prison riots and catastrophes and reaffirming the stand of the federation that "prisons throughout the country should have as their goals, protection of society, correction of the prisoner and prevention of crime."

The measure also seeks a "more earnest study of the causes of crime and its prevention and to develop adequate measures of classification, housing, treatment and training of prisoners."

The second resolution favors consideration of the "music talent fund" plan of the Kansas State Federation, which provides for the discovery and fostering of outstanding musical talent among children.

Mrs. Sippel delivered her annual address over radio station KOA and the network of the National Broadcasting Company.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK TAKES TO FIELD

Chinese President Refuses to Heed Rebel Demands

He Has Assumed Command of Forces at Hankow

Smashing of Southerns in Ten Days Forecast

SHANGHAI, June 13. (AP) — Repudiating suggestions that it is seeking a truce with rebel armies the Nationalist government military headquarters today declared unrelenting warfare against northern and southern forces challenging its existence.

President Chiang Kai-Shek, far from yielding to rebel demands for his resignation, has taken command of Nationalist forces at Hankow. The government military authorities said he will smash the Kwangsi Province rebels from Southern China within ten days. That done, they said, Chiang will resume vigorously the campaign against the northern coalition rebel armies in Honan and Shantung Provinces.

REBELS RESTING

Hostilities in the latter region are virtually at a standstill after a month of fighting. Unable to penetrate farther southward, the northerners are resting with the Yellow River at their backs.

From Hankow came dispatches stating the Nationalists' concentration of troops in that area is complete and a drive against the Kwangsi rebels is expected to begin momentarily.

Earlier reports which told of the armistice suggestions brought statements that Yen Hsi-Shan, Governor of Shansi and Feng Yu-Hsiang, militarist associated with Yen in the present northern rebellion, are demanding the resignation of Chiang Kai-Shek from the Presidency as a prerequisite to an armistice. Chiang's later reported determination to carry on the war appeared to be his response to that suggestion.

ONE DEMAND DROPPED

In connection with the demand for Chiang's resignation it is said Gov. Yen and Gen. Feng have dropped their insistence on a separate government with its capital at Peiping, formerly Peking.

The outstanding fact that lends credence to appeal for an armistice is the general deadlock in the positions of the contending forces north of the Yangtze River.

The name of Wang Ching-Wei, Canton Communist, figured again in the reports as a possible successor to Chiang in the event the latter relinquishes government leadership. Wang is admittedly the choice of South Chinese radicals for President and it often has been stated that his elevation to the Presidency together with certain liberalizations of the form of government would bring the Reds into the Nanking fold. What Feng Yu-Hsian would say to that is problematical.

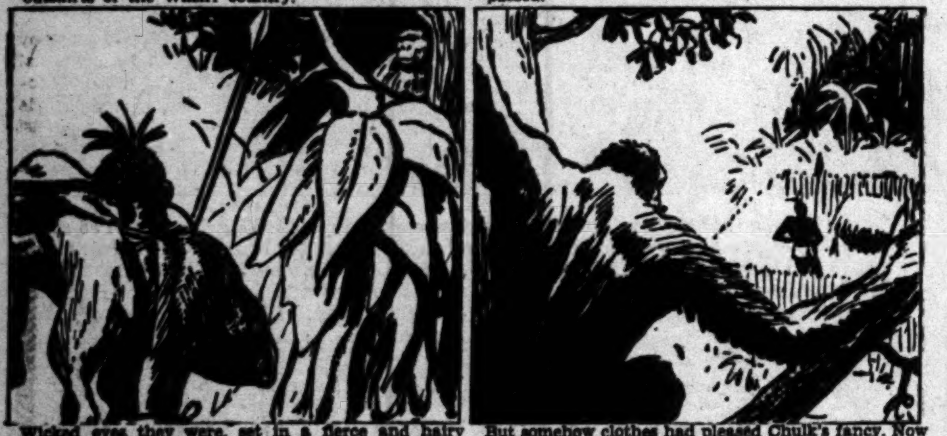
Mugambi, after his successful break for liberty, had fallen upon hard times. His way had led him through a jungle country with which he was unfamiliar, a jungle country in which there was but little water and less food. Soon he found his strength so reduced he could scarcely drag himself along. His was a pitiable state when finally he stumbled by accident upon a large river in a country where fruit and small game were abundant. A long way, he knew, lay ahead of him before he could reach the outskirts of the Wasiri country.

Mugambi wisely decided to remain where he was until he had recuperated his strength and health. And so it was that he constructed a substantial thorn boma, and rigged a thatched shelter within it where he might sleep by night in security, and from which he sallied forth by day to hunt the flesh which alone could return to his giant thews their normal prowess. One day, as he hunted, a pair of savage eyes discovered him from the concealment of the branches of a great tree beneath which the black warrior passed.



Wicked eyes they were, set in a fierce and hairy face. They watched Mugambi make his kill, and they followed him as he returned to his hut, their owner moving quietly through the trees upon the trail of the Negro. The creature was Chulk, and he looked down upon the man more in curiosity than in hate. The Arab burnoose which Tarzan had placed upon the ape had so obstructed his movements and proven such a nuisance that Chulk had long since torn it from him and thrown it away.

But somehow clothes had pleased Chulk's fancy. Now he saw the warrior arrayed in less cumbersome apparel—a loin cloth, a few copper ornaments and a feather headdress. These were more in line with Chulk's desires than a flowing robe which was constantly getting between one's legs and catching upon every limb and bush along the leafy trail. Mugambi's pouch, ornamented with fringe and feathers, hung at his hip. This also took Chulk's fancy, and so the ape hung about Mugambi's boma, waiting to steal by stealth or might the black's apparel.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. (Exclusive)—The Missions went on a home-run spree today and beat Hollywood, 9 to 5. Harry Rosenberg hit two balls into the bleachers and rapped a single for his share of the loot. Hofmann, Monroe and Boone hit balls over the right-field wall and those hits counted heavily in the scoring.

Herman Pillette shut out Hollywood for the first seven innings, but he lost his stuff in the eighth and had to be relieved with one man out. Caster finished in good style, but Pillette got credit for the win. Hollywood scored all its runs

Umpire and Arlett Are Suspended

President Harry A. Williams, after announcing that Buzz Arlett and Umpire Chet Chadbourne had both been suspended pending investigation, left last night for Sacramento to personally investigate the quarrel between the big Oakland outfielder and the arbiter. After Thursday night's game in Sacramento, during which Arlett was ordered off the Oakland bench by the umpire, Buzz met Chadbourne in front of the clubhouse. Chadbourne, almost seventy-five pounds lighter than Arlett, defended himself with his mask, kayoing the big outfielder and sending him to the hospital, where it took twelve stitches to close a cut over his right eye.

BALLOU BAFFLES SEALS

Angel Moundman Twirls Six-Hit Ball as Seraphs Win, 6-2; Schulmerich Clouts Homer

BY BOB RAY

Behind the effective hurling of Mistah Ballou, whose parents did their best to discourage him in infancy by christening him with the fancy handle of Noble Winfred, Jack Lelivelt's Angels again belted the Seals yesterday to even up the series. Noble Winfred limited the slugging Seals to six hits and turned in a 6-to-2 triumph.

WIN BALLOU

For seven innings Ballou was given considerable of a mound argument by John Miljus, the only Serbian slabster in captivity. Miljus had yielded only five hits up until the eighth, but in that round the Angels shoved across three runs to sew up the contest.

Wes Schulmerich's home run over the right-field screen was the wallop that assured the Seraphs of victory, for it stretched their one-run lead to a three-run margin. Still another Angel run crossed the plate before Miljus retired the side in the eighth.

Aside from knotting the series, the Seraph victory put the Leliveltians back in second place, a few percentage points ahead of the Seals.

DO SCORING EARLY

The Seals did all their scoring in the first inning, opening up on Ballou in a manner that looked bad for the Angel hurler's chances of sticking around all afternoon. Crosetti drew a walk for a starter and took third on Babe Pinelli's single to right. Donovan also singled to right, Crosetti scoring and Pinelli reaching third. Wingo's

Fast Horses to Clash in Stake Today

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—Fourteen speedy three-year-olds were named today to start in the $50,000 American derby at Washington Park tomorrow, with no outstanding favorite in the list, unless it be Gallant Knight, second to Gallant Fox in the Kentucky Derby.

The field for the one and one-quarter-mile race includes five invaders from the East: Snow Flake, Dark Sea, Ned O., Horn Pipe and Xenofol and two extremely doubtful starters, Flyer and Gen. Jackson, Tannery, Gallant Knight, Michigan Boy, Plucky Play, Reveille Boy, Portmanteau and Alcibiades, all western hopefuls, complete the field.

Gallant Knight, Bernard B. Jones's winner of the Fairmount Derby, and runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, appears to be the probable choice if the track is fast. Gallant Knight and Michigan Boy

CHACA MAY REPEAT WIN SCORED IN 1929 EVENT

Race Scheduled to Start at Noon From in Front of City Hall With 81 Athletes Entered

BY BRAVEN DYER

With an imposing entry list of eighty-one runners headed by that veteran campaigner, Clarence De Mar, the second annual Los Angeles Times Pre-Olympic Marathon will be staged here today. The start is billed for 12 o'clock noon and will be made from the Spring-street side of the City Hall. All runners must first report at 130 South Broadway at 11 a.m.

A grand total of eighty-one pavement pounders signed for today's classic and this insures a starting gang of approximately fifty, in the opinion of Charley Keppen, manager of the event.

CLARENCE DE MAR

The Times will give gold medals to the first ten finishers, with each additional runner who gets to the tape within the four-hour time limit receiving a survivor's trophy.

De Mar came west a year ago to test the metal of our redskins from the Sherman Indian School. The veteran runner, long regarded as America's greatest marathoner, found one Harry Chaca a bit too swift and consequently had to take second place to the local star.

SEEKS REVENGE

Now De Mar is back with the resolution to wipe out that defeat and establish himself locally as the king of all American distance runners. And the grand old man—he's 42—seems to be in a fair way to do just that for he has already proved that his 1930 gait is better than his 1929 by winning the historic Boston Marathon in the splendid time of 2h. 34m.

Chaca's winning time a year

New York Athletic Commission Refuses to Give Heavy Trophy to Schmel

WON'T ENGRAVE NAME ON CUP

Sorry Ending to Struggle Causes Plan Change

German Puts Off Rematch Until Next June

Gladiators, Garden, Fund Split Huge Total

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—After sweeping Max Schmeling into the world heavyweight championship by unanimous consent, despite his feeble showing and the delirious ending of his battle with Jack Sharkey, the fight writers, donors of trophies, masters of boxing commissions and the common customers swept him right out again today.

There was an almost complete change of opinion manifest among those who at first declared that, despite his victory on a foul in four rounds, the German youngster won the official decision over Sharkey before a multitude of the faithful in the Yankee Stadium last night and therefore was entitled to the heavyweight championship, for which both men were fighting. Calmer judgment, in the cool and quiet of another day switched the fistic leaders to the view that no one was entitled to any honors on the basis of what happened in the ring.

On one point there was unanimity of opinion—Schmeling was incapacitated by a left hook that landed fully six inches below the belt line and the punch was unintentional. That blow destroyed what promised to be a fine heavyweight fight, tossed Referee Jim Crowley into the middle of one of the most confused muddles that ever attended the finish of an important contest and added another to the already long list of unsatisfactory endings that threaten to choke boxing to death in New York State.

William Muldoon, aged member of the State Athletic Commission, declared that Schmeling's name would not be engraved on the Tunney-Muldoon trophy, emblematic of the heavyweight championship, because of the foul. Other members of the committee agreed with him. The commission deferred action on the situation until the regular meeting Tuesday, but Chairman James A. Farley indicated the young Teuton would not be recognized as the successor to Gene Tunney. Stanley Isaacs, president of the National Boxing Association, decided on a poll of members before settling Schmeling's status.

Despite the clamor and general opinion that Sharkey, because of his lack of control against both Phil Scott and Schmeling in his last two fights, had disqualified himself from title consideration, Madison Square Garden set out early to arrange a return engagement. Sharkey was eager, but the Teuton decided he would not fight again until next June except for a possible bout in Germany. He will leave for the homeland in August after an exhibition tour.

Official figures disclosed the customers paid for far more than they received in the way of entertainment Thursday night. Gross receipts were $749,934 and the net $711,668. In the total attendance of 79,222 were 74,153 paid admissions. Schmeling and Sharkey each received checks for $177,917. Adding in motion picture and radio rights, the Garden and the Milk Fund, twin sponsors of the show, profited by about $144,500 apiece.

Sharkey, as is his custom, was on his way back to Boston two hours after the fight, but Schmeling visited around the Garden. He still suffered from pains in the groin and appeared wobbly on his legs. He told his mother in Berlin all about the fight by trans-Atlantic phone this morning.

"I have been hit foul before and never complained," he said, "but this one was too much. The punch was too strong. Sharkey was slowing in the fourth round. He seemed discouraged. I wish I could have won some other way. I fight him again next year.

"I am very unhappy about it. I don't know your American rules so well, but I hope I can prove I am der weltmeister, the champion."

ment of strokes, particularly her sweeping drives, and wearing her eyeshade but not wearing stockings, which was an innovation for her at Wimbledon, the world's champion quickly ran through two sets for the first and only American point of the day.

Miss Jacobs started with great speed against her tall opponent, Mrs. Watson, but it was a pace she could not hold and after losing the first set the English woman began to cause Miss Jacobs to do a lot of running on the baseline.

With the American obviously fatigued, Mrs. Watson won the second set. Even the benefit of the "tea interval" was not sufficient for Miss Jacobs to rest up and she lost the closely contested third set.

DE MAR OR CHACA?

WHO'LL it be today—Clarence De Mar, winner of the Boston Marathon seven times in twelve starts, or Harry Chaca, the little Indian from Sherman Institute? Or some dark horse?

Chaca won the Times Pre-Olympic Marathon last year, and led De Mar, 42-year-old king of the long grind, to the tape by over 400 yards.

The little Hopi Indian, who learned to run as a youngster in Arizona, raced well within his capabilities last year. He feared the white man, and he took the latter's pace until the finish line was in sight. And then he lit out like a frightened jackrabbit.

Chaca has had a lot of experience since June, 1929. He won the Vallejo Marathon last fall, and the time was around the 2h. 40m. mark. His time for the Times Marathon was slightly over three hours.

De Mar won the Boston Marathon in 2h. 34m., and a month later followed this up by capturing the Pawtucket Marathon in 2h. 41m.

In neither race was De Mar extended. But Chaca will extend him today, and one of the best races in history will result.

Over 100,000 persons lined the course last year, and that number is likely to be doubled today.

Two years from now the boys will pound the pavement for the glory of Uncle Sam in the Olympic Games. That's why The Times is staging today's race—to pave the way for an American victory in the marathon classic of 1932.

FLAT AFTERMATH

YOU can't get a decent peep out of anybody on the Sharkey-Schmeling fiasco.

"Terrible, wasn't it?" is the general summary.

There isn't a worth-while follow-up story to the fight, and the first guy who mentions another heavyweight championship probably will be shown the nearest exit.

It seems to be universally agreed that Herr Schmeling was distinctly and palpably fouled.

The only dissenting voice is that of Bill Muldoon, the aged and czaristic member of the New York Boxing Commission.

Bill says "no," and as far as the wide world is concerned that statement sticks. He'll never change it.

But even if Schmeling was fouled, what of it?

According to all reports, he wasn't evincing any championship qualities, and Sharkey never has—so what kind of a title-holder does that make the German?

NO FIELDS REMATCH

RAY ALVIS, manager of Young Jack Thompson, the new welterweight king, spikes the story of a rematch with Jackie Fields for the title at Detroit, September 11.

That was the story brought home by the Fields contingent after Jackie lost the crown to the black boy last month.

"There'll be no rematch," says Alvis. "That was just one of 'Gig' Rooney's cracks.

"When we put up the title it will be against Jimmy McLarnin in New York.

"Frank Bruen, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, talked to me by long-distance phone the morning we arrived here. He offered $75,000 for a title bout with McLarnin in September.

"When the ante is raised to $100,000 we'll take it.

"Thompson beat McLarnin before he got the title, but they stole the decision from us."

Alvis expects the current tour of the champion to net a handsome return. Two fights have already been waged, both resulting in knockouts—Billy Wells at Omaha and Jimmy Dolan at Portland.

Joe Cardoza is the local victim, but Windy Winsor, Joe's manager, says his boy can beat any black man living. Recently, Joe gave Eddie Roberts, who once knocked out ex-Champion Joe Dundee, a man-sized beating, so Windy has plenty to say on the subject.

PHIL SCOTT IN CHALLENGE

States generally, and last night he confidentially told the world that Schmeling couldn't win because the fight was fixed in advance.

When he learned that the German had won by a foul similar to the one he claimed that Sharkey handed him, Scott sarcastically remarked that he was surprised that the Americans recognized that it was a foul.

"Fouling is a part of Sharkey's fighting tactics" Phil declared. "He got away with it when he fought me. I expect that he anticipated getting away with it last night, and he was probably surprised when he didn't. As a matter of fact I am surprised myself."

Scott flatly asserted that Sharkey deliberately fouled him at Miami.

"He practiced that blow with Cook before he met me, and there was so much trouble over it that Cook declined to remain as one of Sharkey's boxing partners," Scott declared.

keley disposed of Charlotte Miller, San Francisco, 6-4, 1-6, 8-6, to reach the semifinals of the women's singles. Every point was keenly contested, the match lasting two hours, fifteen minutes.

One of the best matches of the day resulted in Helen Marlowe, Los Angeles, entering the finals in the girls under 18 class. She defeated Alice Marble, San Francisco, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1. Miss Marlowe exhibited exceptional coolness under fire to come from behind and take the measure of her opponent.

In the girls under 15 division, Gracyn Wheeler, Santa Monica, defeated Edna Connell, San Francisco, 6-0, 6-0, to reach the finals.

Mrs. L. A. Harper, San Francisco, and Mrs. Lucy Yates, Martinez, defeated Patsy McCoy, San Francisco, and Evelyn Parsons, Pacific Grove, 6-1, 6-2. Quarter-finals.

Boys-under-18 singles: Charles Hunt, San Francisco, defeated Donald Bulge, Berkeley, 6-0, 7-5. Quarter-finals.

GYM CHAMPION OFF FOR HOME IN EAST

Al Jochim, Robert Job and Herman Witzig, members of the crack gymnasium team of the Swiss Turn Verein of Union City, N. J., left for their homes yesterday. Jochim won the American all-around gym championship in the national meet at the Olympic Auditorium last week. He also represented the A.A.U. of the metropolitan district here, and stated yesterday that he had nothing but good reports to carry home. Jochim and his teammates were so pleased with their treatment that they hope to return next year and train here for the Olympic Games.

in the eighth inning, bunching five hits and a pass with Wright's error for five runs.

Hofmann started the scoring in the third inning with a home run. Pillette was tossed out and then Mulligan singled and Monroe scored him with a home run. Rosenberg followed with another home run. Hufft and Boone popped out to end the inning. Three home runs hit in one inning ties the record for the local ball park.

The Missions rested one inning and got started again in the fifth. They scored five in that round. Pillette and Mulligan singled and Pillette was forced at third by Monroe. Rosenberg hit his second home run, driving two mates in ahead of him. Hufft was safe on Green's error and then Ike Boone caught the spirit and blasted a home run over the right-field wall, scoring Hufft ahead of him.

Pillette had had easy sailing for seven innings but he weakened in the eighth and had to have help. He walked Catina to begin that inning and Turner grounded to Burns. Hill doubled and Lee, Brannon and Green singled in succession. Green's hit bounced off Pillette's leg and nearly went into the boxes back of third base.

Caster relieved Pillette and struck out Carlyle. Shellenback was safe when Wright booted his grounder, filling the bases. Hank Severeid batted for Cook and drove in two runs. Mickey Heath batted for Catina and was tossed out by Monroe to end the inning. Score:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. "TIMES" MARATHON TODAY

De Mar Races Chaca in Twenty-six-Mile Jaunt Around City; Eighty-one Runners Entered

ago was 3h. 4m., with De Mar three minutes behind him. But that course was slightly longer than the regulation distance of 26 miles 385 yards, and on top of this Chaca is capable of better time than he made last season.

De Mar's time in Boston indicates that he ought to do around 2h. 40m. Last year he was ninth in the Boston race. This time his victory in the East may mean a win on the Coast.

The Melrose marvel has won the Boston event seven times, scoring his first triumph in 1912. He has thrice been a member of the United States Olympic team and aims to return here and run for Uncle Sam in 1932. De Mar is now 42 years of age and his record of seven victories in the Boston marathon defies comparison.

DE MAR FAVORED

It ought to be a great race, regardless of who wins. I am stringing with De Mar, but Chaca and the other Sherman Indians cannot be counted out by a long shot. In fact, their coach, Bert Jamison, refuses to even admit that Chaca is the best of the lot, stating that in his opinion any one of the Redskins has a fine chance of winning. One thing is certain. The Indians can sprint like all get-out and, therefore, if they can keep pace with De Mar during most of the race their speed at the finish may prove to be the deciding factor.

Of the first ten finishers last year four were Indians representing the Los Angeles Athletic Club. They are all back this time, including Franklin Suhu, Howard Tsemptewa and Thomas Jenkins, in addition to Chaca.

The other six runners who finished among the first ten last year are also entered this season. They are De Mar, who was second; R. M. Angler, fifth; R. H. Murray, seventh; Richard Dawson, eighth; Laurtis Larsen, ninth, and Severo Alvarez, tenth.

Angler formerly ran long-distance races at the University of Chicago. Murray is a veteran campaigner from the East, being 43 years of age.

The oldest entrant is Gilbert Carson, who calls himself Capt. Kid. He admits 57 years and competed in The Times marathons of 1912 and 1913.

Portland has sent Chester E. Bartuff here for the event while George Harback will represent the city of Denver.

Four members of the United States Marine Corps at San Diego were entered by Capt. C. M. Lott. They are Herbert G. Schaffer, John A. Perkins, James H. Hazeltine and Earl M. McWilliams.

John Bertoni of San Francisco blew in yesterday. He will carry the colors of the Unione Sportiva Italiana Virtus and be managed by Bert Rovere, notorious local athletic luminary who runs the Paris Inn Cafe during his spare moments. Bertoni is a de luxe pastry chef in a San Francisco restaurant so can probably cook himself a good meal whether he wins or loses.

EXTRA TROPHY

Manager Keppen has donated a beautiful trophy to go to the American Legion entry who is first to finish the race. This excludes De Mar, who represents the Melrose (Mass.) post.

Coach Jamison and his Indians were the guests of "Boots" Webber at the Los Angeles-San Francisco baseball game yesterday at Wrigley Field.

If the weather corresponds to yesterday's the runners should do close to 2h. 45m. Last year the heat bothered De Mar, although he refused to advance any alibi for his defeat.

T. G. Ehret and J. Stern are the only runners of the eighty-one listed who have stated they will be unable to toe the mark today. These two are out with injuries. The official entry list:

MOREING DENIES YANKEES HAVE BOUGHT MERYL HOAG

STOCKTON, June 13. (AP)—Lew Moreing, owner of the Sacramento Senators, in a telephone statement to the Stockton Record here today denied that Meryl Hoag, his star outfielder, had been sold to the New York Yanks, as reported in dispatches from New York.

"There is a controversy over Hoag and they are trying to force me to sell him," declared Moreing. "But he is not sold and I don't intend to be flimflammed into selling him."

The Sacramento owner admitted that the New York Yanks claimed an option on Hoag but denied that there was anything in the baseball records that such an option existed.

Hoag is valued at $100,00 by Moreing and in considered the prize find in the Coast League this season.

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—A few hours after one member of the New York Yankees office force announced the purchase of Meryl Hoag, outfielder for the Sacramento Pacific Coast League club, another indirectly denied it.

The first announcement, by George Perry, was followed by an outright denial from Lew Moreing, owner of the Sacramento club.

Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, declined to comment one way or another on the case but intimated that Perry's announcement had not been authorized by the club.

MAX WILL TRY REST FOR YEAR

Jacobs Won't Take Rematch Until Next September

Schmeling to Tour Sticks for European Foes

Sharkey Looked Great, Says ex-Lightweight King

BY BENNY LEONARD
Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion of the World

NEW YORK, June 13. (NANA)—Max Schmeling, foul-crowned heavyweight champion of the world, should fight Jack Sharkey a return match in September of this year and prove to the world he is a real champion.

BENNY LEONARD

But this fight will not be held. Joe Jacobs declared to me that Max will not fight again in America until one year from now. Schmeling, himself a bright chap, knows now, after being in the ring with Sharkey for four rounds, that he would have little chance to retain the crown in a return bout this year.

This being the case, what is the situation now in the heavyweight class? Who stands out as a challenger for the title? Who will be Schmeling's next opponent, and what chance will such challenger have with the German?

Let's see, Phil Scott is out of the running, according to Joe Jacobs, but very much in the running, according to Jimmy Johnston. Joe says Scott is no card, but I personally, believe that in view of the ending of this Sharkey-Schmeling fight, opinion in Europe will veer strongly toward Scott as a logical opponent for Fax.

Schmeling is going to tour Europe. He will defend his title there against the opponents selected—or maybe picked is a better word—by Joe Jacobs for him. In each battle, Joe tells me, the title always will be at stake.

Over here the situation is this: Max must fight in New York under the direction of Madison Square Garden; he already is signed, Damon Runyon tells me, to fight for the next milk fund show in New York. So somebody must be "built up" for him.

There will be stories to the effect that Jack Dempsey will return to the ring to try and wrest the title from Schmeling. Also that Gene Tunney will gird on his fighting armor and come back. I will place no credence in such stories. Both Tunney and Dempsey are irrevocably out of the picture, in my opinion. I mean so far as coming back to make any attempt to regain the title is concerned.

SHARKEY GREAT

I suppose I should be writing all about the new champion, yet somehow I cannot refrain from telling how great a fighter Sharkey was, even though he lost. He moved gracefully, boxed beautifully, was calm and cool at all times; in fact, I think Jack was too cool for his own good in that third round, after he had pumped those staggering blows to Schmeling's head and face. He had Max on the verge of a knockout and then stepped back and boxed cautiously instead of tearing in and finishing his man.

I guess that was his desire, yet he kept thinking:

"If I do that they'll say Sharkey has lost his head again. Why should I go in and swap punches with this fellow when I've got him so well in hand and am winning so surely and steadily. I'll just beat him down and stop him deliberately."

I think Sharkey put up the greatest fight of his career. Such good judges as Mickey Walker and Jim Corbett, with whom I talked after the fight, agreed with me that Schmeling was outclassed and that it was only a matter of time when he would be beaten down.

I cannot see how Max could have won this fight by any other way than by a foul, which was purely accidental, as it happened, for Sharkey let his punch fly right into the midsection as Schmeling jumped up a bit. Had Schmeling not hopped up a bit on his toes, the blow would have landed fair.

disposed of Stanley Pearson and Samuel B. Gilpin of Philadelphia, in the semifinals, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

The other finalists, Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., bowled over Donald Strachan and Charles Lockhart of Princeton University, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, in the quarter-finals and won their semifinal match from Harold MacGuffin of Philadelphia, and Henry Culley of Santa Barbara, Cal., by default. MacGuffin and Culley had put out Calvert and Prokosch of Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-3, in the quarter-finals.

Pearson and Gilpin entered the semifinals by defeating Gabe Lavine and Emmanuel Kardon, University of Pennsylvania, 6-1, 6-3.

FANS THRONG TO SEE PICTURES OF FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—The Schmeling-Sharkey bout, with all its boos and squawks, was moved today from the Yankee Stadium to a Seventh Avenue theater, but even the clear-cut pictures and new-fangled sound-recording devices could not disguise it. It was the same old bout.

Crowds thronged the theater all day, most of the customers with a question, "Was it foul?" After looking at the reproduction of the closing scenes of the fourth round a great majority of the crowd voted in the affirmative.

Calexico Fans Buy Clothing for Andrade

CALEXICO, June 13.—Joe Andrade, 13-year-old Calexico boy, who won the junior division of the Junior Olympic meet in Los Angeles on the 7th inst., was presented with a $200 outfit of clothing and travel equipment by local business men here today on the eve of his departure for Atlantic City, where he is to represent Southern California in the national finals during the first week of July.

Jack Anderson, also, was instrumental in securing the local fund for Andrade. He expects to take the boy to the Coast tomorrow, where he will be coached by Arthur A. Dietz of San Pedro for a few days prior to his departure for the East.

The Calexico boy is the oldest of seven children, and came to the United States eight years ago from Hermosillo, Mex. His father is a building mechanic, employed at Tecate, Lower California.

BROWN IS WINNER IN LEGION GO

Veteran Outpoints Rival to Take Decision in Main Hollywood Clash

Newsboy Brown, veteran bantamweight, took on a young upstart in Tommy Gardner in the main event at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last night, and handed the youngster from the Northwest a clever licking in ten rounds.

Gardner, who has had a string of successes at Hollywood, started fast, and scored early with his sharpshooting tactics, but Brown soon solved his style, and came home a winner. The veteran set a sizzling pace, and Gardner could not keep up.

The bout was fast, but there was no serious damage to either contestant, Gardner suffered a cut over his left eye.

In the semifinal, Johnny Romero took a decision over Erwin Bige in six rounds. Both boys were reputed to be punchers of exceptional ability, but nothing sensational developed.

Pete Sarmiento, veteran Filipino, proved too smart for Abie Miller, a willing local boy, and won the decision in the six-round special event. Miller couldn't get away from Sarmiento's left hooks to the head and body, and, although he tried to rally gamely in the last two rounds, Sarmiento had enough margin to win handily.

Bobby Flores had an edge on Speedy Ponce in the second bout, and Leo Domingo won by a technical knockout in the fourth from Don Reyes in the opener. Reyes was badly beaten and cut when the bout was stopped.

Quinn Burns Up Track at Ascot

Reports of sensational speed having been made in trial spins at the track by Francis Quinn yesterday has resulted in the veteran Los Angeles pilot being installed as a favorite to win the lion's share of the prize money in tomorrow afternoon's five-event program of auto races at the Legion Ascot Speedway, it is declared by local critics of the game.

Quinn was clocked turning the five-eighths of a mile saucer well below the twenty-nine-second mark, according to the reports, which was accepted by racing men as proof that the new 151-cubic inch motor, which he has installed in his Dayton special, is one of the highest-powered engines now being run on the Pacific Coast circuit.

Quinn's unexpected and sensational performance will make him an even stronger favorite than Jimmy Sharp, the San Pedro youngster, who has annexed first money in the last four major races held in California, it is declared.

Oaks Rally to Nose Out Sacs

SACRAMENTO, June 13. (AP)—Oakland scored two runs in the first half of the ninth to nose out the Sacramento Solons in the fourth night baseball game of the series here tonight. Ernest Lombardi, big Oakland catcher, socked a double to score two runs and win the game.

The Sacs were trailing until the seventh when Ray Rohwer hit a home run with two on to put the Solons in the lead. Tom Flynn was on the losing mound and Howard Craghead relieved Paul Andrews in the ninth for the Oaks to hold the Sacs runless in the final chapter.

BROWNS WIN

ST. LOUIS, June 13. (AP)—A single by Ralph Kress, Brownie shortstop, his first hit of the game, broke up a pitchers' duel and gave St. Louis an eleventh-inning 1-to-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox here today. It was the second win for the Browns of the series.

Rip Collins turned in a four-hit game for his victory of the season as he held the Red Sox powerless. He overshadowed Gaston's fine pitching, who let the Browns down with seven hits. Score:

YANKS ON TOP

DETROIT, June 13. (AP) — With pitchers playing very little part in the game except tossing the ball up to the plate, the New York Yankees won a slugfest from the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 9, today. The victory gave the Yanks the odd game of the three-game series.

A home run by Sam Byrd with two on in the sixth proved the most valuable.

Babe Ruth had a perfect day at the plate, getting a double in his one official time at bat. He walked three times and sacrificed another. A perfect throw to the plate by Ruth in the ninth cut off what would have been the tying run. Score:

CARDS TOPPLE

BOSTON, June 13. (AP)—The Braves came from behind after giving St. Louis a seven-run lead in the first two innings and defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 8, in ten innings. The Bostonians pecked away at Wee Willie Sherdel's offerings until they were on the level with the westerners in the eighth, when Sherdel gave way to Herman Bell.

Mancuso's homer gave the Cards a one-run lead in the ninth, but it was short-lived as Bottomley's error sent the game into extra innings. Singles by Welsh and Maranville and a fielder's choice on Johnny Neun's drive gave the Braves the game. Score:

Diegel Shoots 69 at Hoylake

HOYLAKE (Eng.) June 13. (AP)—After a severe trouncing by Archie Compston at Nottingham yesterday, Leo Diegel returned to Hoylake today to strike a wonderful golf pitch and return a score of 69. He was out in 36, but came home in 33. His irons from the tees at the short holes were deadly in their accuracy.

Diegel and Horton Smith played a four-ball match against Bobby Jones and George Von Elm. The amateurs were 1 up at the turn, but the professionals won the match, 3 up and 2 to play.

WEIGHT FORFEIT FOR JOE CORDOZA ASKED

Joe Cordoza may have to post a weight forfeit. He is signed to meet Jack Thompson at 148 pounds next Tuesday night at the Olympic. No mention of a forfeit was made when the match was completed.

Yesterday Ray Alvis, manager of the Negro champion, rushed into conference with Wad Wadhams demanding that Fred Winsor put something on the line to show he would keep the weight clause.

The arrival of Cordoza here from the mountains finely trained started the trouble. The Mexican weighs only 148 pounds now and when he dries out as all fighters do twenty-four hours ahead of a bout he will be lucky to tip an ounce over 147.

Thompson once knocked out Joe Dundee when the Baltimore Italian was champion in an overweight bout. He had to drink water to weigh over the limit. Dundee made him take water on the scales. Technically it saved Dundee's championship, but it proved Thompson was the best man.

Chato Laredo, flyweight champion of Mexico, arrived here yesterday from Juarez. He is a legitimate 111-pounder. The Mexican will box Speedy Dado his first start in Los Angeles. Dado had a tough time getting a draw at Pasadena Thursday night with Canto Robleto, it is said.

Dan Shaw's welcoming dinner to Jack Thompson, welterweight champion, will be held the 18th inst. at the Dunbar Hotel, Forty-first street and Central avenue, it was announced yesterday. Bob Roberson, manager of the Entertainer's Cafe, will be in charge of the banquet details.

Ace Hudkins failed to appear for a confab with Olympic officials yesterday as was scheduled and said he would come into town Monday. The Wildcat is being sought for a ten-round bout with Bert Colima July 1. Colima has signed. Hudkins has okehed the match but hasn't quite been satisfied with terms, it is asserted.

GERMANS PHILOSOPHICAL OVER SCHMELING'S WIN

BERLIN, June 13. (AP)—Press comment on Max Schmeling's victory on a foul over Jack Sharkey expressed satisfaction today that the first European to gain world's title recognition should be a German, but deplored the fact that Schmeling won through disqualification of his opponent. Belief was general that Schmeling had won the championship despite the unsatisfactory ending.

"Schmeling himself would have preferred victory through his own fighting ability," Tempo reported. "However, the mistake of his temperamental opponent was not his."

Der Abend was frankly disgusted. Headlines said: "Beaten into championship," adding:

"Not the stronger, but the weaker has conquered. After all, why not? The theory that not brutal force but suffering and patience conquer the world is not new. Religions have been based on it. Why not boxing, also?"

Der Abend concludes:

"We are on the way to becoming the foremost sporting nation in the world if only hit often enough below the belt line."

SOLONS BEST

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—Ad Liska limited the White Sox to four hits today and Washington won the deciding game of the series, 6 to 2.

The victory put the Senators' young under-handed pitcher at the halfway mark in his pursuit of twelve wins and a $1000 bonus this season. It was his fifth official victory and President Griffith has granted him an extra unofficial decision for an excellent relief bit at Philadelphia. Score:

EL DORADO OIL WORKS IN MERGER

Colgate-Palmolive-Peet to Take Over Assets of Western Company

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. (Exclusive)—Conclusion of merger arrangements between El Dorado Oil Works and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company is announced today in a letter sent to stockholders of the western company setting forth details of the consolidation.

Under the plan agreed upon, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet will acquire the entire properties, assets and good will of the El Dorado firm as of July 1, next, and will discharge all debts and obligations of the company outstanding at that time. In payment for the western company, Colgate-Palmolive will deliver 30,000 shares of its common stock and 25,000 shares of its preferred stock directly to stockholders of El Dorado Oil Works in proportion to their holdings in the latter.

There now are outstanding 150,000 shares of common stock of El Dorado. Under the merger terms, holders of the stock will receive one-fifth of a share of preferred and one-sixth of a share of common in Colgate-Palmolive for each share of El Dorado common. While the number of shares of common and preferred tentatively has been fixed at the above-mentioned figures, on the basis of the net worth of the company as of Dcember 31, last, adjustment will be made for any change in net worth which may have developed since the end of the year.

Since the listing of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet stocks on the New York Stock Exchange early this year, the preferred has ranged between a high of $100 and a low of $97. Range of the common stock has been between 64 7-8 and 57 7-8.

INDUSTRIAL USE OF NATURAL GAS GAINS

Industrial consumption of natural gas in this country increased 154 per cent in the ten-year period from 1919 to 1929, as a result of which industry now consumes approximately 80 per cent of the nation's natural-gas output, according to a booklet surveying the natural-gas industry just published by G. E. Barrett & Co., which since 1925 has specialized in financing natural gas projects.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Early declines in cotton were followed today by moderate rallies on week-end covering. No aggressive demand developed, however, and prices later eased again owing to the generally favorable view of weather, crop reports and the failure of buying to become more active on the bulges. The mid-afternoon market was barely steady, with July selling about 36 points and later months 20 to 25 points net lower.

PICTURE TRADE ON AGAIN

Paramount-Warner Discussions Spurred by Need of Economies, Recent Reports State

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Relative dullness in the stock market is prompting the revival, among others, of the Paramount-Warner Brothers negotiations. The principals in this frequently rumored trade, according to recent information, have been brought together again, but this time by the impelling argument of possible economies through consolidation of operations.

More attention was given to stock market aspects of many of the proposed trades last year, at least it appeared from the actions of the stocks and the preliminary propaganda. Negotiations were more prone to look at relative stock price levels than relative values, and the failure of most of these projects was traceable to disagreement over prices and profits from the flotation of new stock.

NEED EMPHASIZED

With the glamour and the attraction of stocks abruptly shorn by declining business profits, the possibility of effecting business economies, the basic reason for consolidation, has come to the front. People close to Paramount and Warner Brothers insist a merger of these two companies is warranted from this point of view and should ultimately materialize.

Economies in such a set-up, it is reasoned, would be developed principally through the theater end of the business. The theater chains of the two companies are complementary to a large degree, Paramount having a strong hold in the metropolitan centers and Warner Brothers a comprehensive network covering the smaller cities.

To expand into the larger key cities in which it is not now represented would be costly for Warner Brothers. The same holds true for Paramount in the smaller centers. Both companies apparently face this decision, for the pressing need of the larger picture companies is better and wider distribution for their product.

Paramount, so a recent survey shows, owns or leases approximately 1400 theaters. Warner Brothers is rated at 500 and Fox, in combination with Loew's, at 1175 houses.

LOGICAL BASIS SEEN

Rather than invest large amounts of capital in the building or buying of new outlets, which would possibly involve expensive rivalry in the form of cuts in admission prices, the Warner and Paramount executives are understood to have resumed merger conversations. The logical basis of the proposed set-up would, it is believed, place the companies outside the scope of Federal Trade Commission complaint.

It is also true that this and other large business combinations materializing in a dull stock market are less liable to arouse public criticism of monopoly and trust. If the news of such combinations should stimulate stock prices, it is likely, moreover, that the discouraged public would even applaud the enterprise and confidence of the merger-makers.

FIRST QUARTER BEST

Paramount and Warner Brothers, in their first quarter reports, have probably put forth their best foot already this year from an earnings point of view. The second quarter reports are usually the poorest in theater income because of Lent week and final examinations for school children; the third quarter better than the second, and the fourth a distinct improvement over the third.

Third quarter reports, while covering the slack summer months, are stabilized by the accounting practice in the theater business of budgeting income and expenses over a forty weeks' period. This practice allows for two months in the third quarter during which rental is not charged against theaters. The gross income is less but the elimination of fixed expense stabilizes the net income at a satisfactory level.

Oklahoma Will Keep Oil Quota

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 13.—Daily meetings will be held by the proration committee of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association at Tulsa to hold the daily average crude-oil production of the State at 650,000 barrels for the next quarter beginning July 1, according to a decision just reached.

Production in the State has been averaging 650,000 barrels daily. In the curtailment order issued by the Corporation Commission late in March for the quarter ending the 30th inst., the quota for the State was fixed at 600,000 barrels plus such increase from the Oklahoma City pool as the effective demand might justify and within a maximum of 25 per cent of the potential output for the field.

Net Profits of Fox Film Jump

The recent net was figured after writing off $6,966,000 on negative and positive film of the year 1930 against $4,765,000 written off last year.

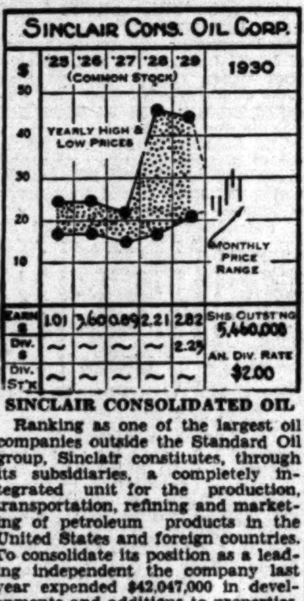
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



SINCLAIR CONSOLIDATED OIL

Ranking as one of the largest oil companies outside the Standard Oil group, Sinclair constitutes, through its subsidiaries, a completely integrated unit for the production, transportation, refining and marketing of petroleum products in the United States and foreign countries. To consolidate its position as a leading independent the company last year expended $42,047,000 in developments and additions to properties. A large number of bulk and retail service stations were acquired or constructed, oil lands developed, and refining equipment modernized to effect lower production costs.

The company recently acquired the assets of the Pierce Petroleum Corporation, by the exchange of slightly more than one share of Sinclair common for every four shares of Pierce common. Sinclair takes over the debentures and current liabilities and will pay off the outstanding preferred stock of the smaller company.

Net income for 1929 was up 23 per cent from 1928, being equal, after preferred dividends, to $2.82 per share in 1929, as against $2.21 in the preceding year.

REVENUES OF ARIZONA UTILITY UP

Peoples Light Subsidiary Reports April Increase in Gross and Net

Gross revenues and net operating earnings of the Arizona Edison Company for twelve months ended April 30, last, increased substantially over the similar period a year ago to hold successive gains in business reported monthly over last year's figures, according to a statement issued yesterday. The company is a subsidiary of Peoples Light and Power Corporation.

Gross revenues for the twelve months' period aggregated $1,934,187 as compared with $1,712,859 for the same twelve months ended a year ago, an increase of $221,328, or more than 13 per cent. For the twelve months ended March 31, last, the company reported gross revenues of $1,916,236, also a 13 per cent gain over the preceding year.

Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, other than Federal income taxes, totaled $1,071,876 for the year ended April 30. This compares with $1,002,149 reported for the same period a year ago and represents an increase of $69,727, or nearly 7 per cent.

Fresh Slash Announced in Copper Price

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Custom smelters sought a buying level for domestic copper today by reducing the price to 12 and 12 1-4 cents delivered. The large producers held their price at 12 3-4 and 13 cents delivered.

Two cuts of a quarter of a cent a pound each by customs smelters brought the domestic price of the metal yesterday to 12 1-2 cents and resulted in Copper Exporters, Inc., reducing the export price today to 13 cents from 13.30 cents, c.i.f., European base ports.

Custom smelters cut another quarter of a cent from the domestic price today, bringing the level to 12 1-4 cents delivered. An absence of demand caused some custom smelters later in the day to offer the metal at 12 cents delivered. It was reported in the trade that fabricators were not inclined to buy as they had purchased considerable stocks last month and new business from ultimate consumers was small.

Shea on Board of Fairbanks

PATERSON (N. J.) June 13. (Exclusive)—Albert G. Shea, head of the investment house of Albert G. Shea & Co., was elected a director of Fairbanks Company at the annual meeting today, succeeding William Harris, resigned. It is understood that Mr. Shea acquired a substantial interest in the company.

George M. Naylor, president, stated that while earnings so far this year are running considerably behind the same 1929 period, the company has been able to "keep well out of the red." The company manufactures valves, and the sharp changes in copper prices in recent months have tended to upset the stability of its business. It also makes hand trucks and other products.

His general impression was that business here is in better condition than in most of the eastern cities.

FOODSTUFF EXPORTS GAIN

Figures for 1929 of $430,000,000 Worth Reveal Increase on 1928 of $8,000,000

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Exports of United States foodstuffs, direct to the European markets, showed up well in 1929, increasing $8,000,000 in value over 1928. During last year the total of all foodstuffs shipped was $430,000,000 as compared with $422,000,000 in 1928.

Grains and grain preparations comprised 31.9 per cent of the total; while fruit and fruit preparations comprised 21.5 per cent, and edible animal oils and fats amounted to 20.1 per cent.

The United Kingdom took over $200,000,000 of the total; Germany took $71,729,954, and the Netherlands, $49,011,661. Other leading markets in the order of their importance were: Belgium, Italy, Denmark, France, Sweden, Norway, Greece and Finland.

The Europeans are buying more American canned goods than ever before, with pears and peaches leading. Exports to Europe in this field have reached a total of more than $2,000,000 a month.

When John D. Rockefeller, Sr., established the General Education Board in 1902 for the purpose of promoting education throughout the United States, he turned over to the board assets with a ledger value of $61,189,300.

Most of this amount was invested in Standard Oil stocks, carried on the books at very conservative figures.

The board has spent many millions and given away other millions. Yet its last issued statement showed assets with a ledger value of $65,533,640, of which 72 per cent is in various common stocks.

Now these common stocks, which are carried on the board's books at $47,139,642, were worth on the market yesterday $89,083,000.

Substantial stocks held include Standard Oil of New Jersey, South Penn Oil Company, Ohio Oil Company and Anglo-American Oil.

The General Education Board is the most successful investment trust in existence!

Pace of Trade Continues to Show Let-down

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

The main point of interest in the absence of decisive new commercial trends, has been the recurrence of conspicuous unsettlement in speculative channels. Confusion and uncertainty over the general situation have led to hesitation in many instances, but a period of inertia in the stock market has been succeeded by comparative activity and sharply fluctuating prices. The basis for that movement was not to be found in any important change in the status of trade, although the continued lack of a broad and impressive revival has unfavorably affected sentiment in quarters where the time element in economic readjustment had not been fully allowed for.

With summer near at hand, a further deferment of expansion in most lines is indicated, and receding manufacturing operations, where they appear now, are in keeping with the usual seasonal tendency. Naturally, restrictive influences are intensified in the present era of transition, with the persistent decline of commodity prices still being one of the principal restraining forces. Except in the relatively few cases where needs are urgent, the advantage remains distinctly with the buyer, and the steady easing in wholesale quotations is beginning to be reflected more plainly in retail circles.

Weekly bank clearings $10,355,516,000, a decrease of 3 per cent from a year ago.

OUTLOOK ON WOOL MART IMPROVING

Mill Demand Gain Hold Spur to Buying of New Clip at Firmer Prices

BOSTON, June 13. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

A general buying movement on the part of the manufacturers has caused the wool dealers to buy more intensely in the West and it is estimated over two-thirds of the new domestic clip has passed out of the hands of the producers, at prices which have shown a strengthening tendency.

In the eastern seaboard markets, prices have not changed materially during the past week, but clearly in favor of the seller. Fine and fine medium wools constitute the bulk of the business done, but there has been a broader inquiry for the medium wools.

The manufacturing position is believed to be sound and encouraging, although a large proportion of the wool taken for manufacturers' accounts doubtless has been in anticipation of needs and in the belief that wool is cheap.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to June 12, 1930, inclusive, were 61,190,000 pounds, against 83,038,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to June 12, 1930, inclusive, were 112,796,700 pounds, against 119,350,955 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Crude Oil Pipe Line Planned by Mellon Group

PITTSBURGH, June 13.—Plans have been made for the construction of a pipe line to transport crude oil from Eastern Oklahoma to Pittsburgh by the Union Gulf Corporation which has been organized by Gulf Oil Corporation. Refineries will be erected at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Toledo and these will be connected with the general pipe line system of Gulf Oil Corporation near Tulsa, Okla. Work on the new line will be started at once.

W. L. Mellon, president of Gulf Oil Corporation, in a statement today said that the plan of the Union Gulf Corporation is considered by the Gulf Oil directors to be the most economical and convenient means to enable Gulf Oil to utilize fully the large production of its subsidiaries in the Midcontinent, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas fields in directly supplying the company's present marketing facilities and to promote the growth and expansion of the company's business in the territory east of the Mississippi.

The new pipe line in view of the existing freight rates should effect a very substantial saving and will also enable the company to reach economically territory which it does not now serve, according to the oil company's president.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Improvement in an extensive list of railroad and utility issues, the firmness of the foreign group and strength of United States governments were the encouraging notes in a quiet and irregular bond market today.

Despite the erratic course of the listed market which moved within narrow limits, the general tone was better by a shade as time money rates eased slightly and call money renewed at 2½ per cent for the first time since March 20.

Railroad and amusement convertibles rallied with stocks but others of the group sold off. The German annuities issue was again the feature of the foreign group which was firm. The German 5½s, selling on a when issue basis, failed to retain the high level established yesterday, selling off ½ at the close but the turnover was about $750,000.

Both prime and secondary railroads were in demand today. St. Paul adjustment 5s, Erie 5s, Erie and Jersey 6s, Louisville & Nashville 4½s, Pennsylvania 4s and 4¾s, and Reading General 4½s gained from ¼ to ½ points.

The improvements in International Match 5s, which gained nearly a point, was a feature of industrials. Trading in oil company issues broadened. Transcontinental oil 6½s gaining a full point. Amusement bonds eased.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

13,741 more homes
now have the benefits of Automatic Refrigeration

13,741 automatic refrigerators were recently sold by the Associated System in six weeks, the largest number ever sold by a utility system in a single campaign.

ASSOCIATED SYSTEM electric lines and gas mains now carry convenient automatic refrigeration to 13,741 additional homes. Employees sold this number of refrigerators, 230 carloads, to customers during a recent six weeks' campaign—more than twice as many as were sold by the Associated System all last year—more than were sold in the entire United States in 1922.

These 13,741 customers now have greater health protection, greater home comfort, greater convenience. Convenience is a watch word in the modern home. Electricity and gas supply it.

Year by year, the use of electricity and gas consuming appliances increases. During 1929 customers purchased appliances with a value of $6,016,535 from the Associated System.

1930 purchases were estimated at $8,221,000. $5,000,000 worth have already been purchased and the peak season is yet to come. This rapid increase in the use of appliances assures a future of greater convenience for customers and continued growth for the Associated Gas and Electric System, serving over 1,368,000 customers.

For the sake of health, comfort, and convenience neither your home nor your food stores can afford to be without some means of modern refrigeration.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Shares on the curb market worked irregularly higher in dull trading today, after a further outburst of selling in the morning. When the selling dried up around mid-day, shorts hastened to cover, and the more actives issues made substantial headway, recovering earlier losses, and closing a point or two higher.

Total sales announced as 2,184,900 shares, but of this total, more than 1,200,000 was accounted for by the turnover in rights to purchase City Service convertible debentures. These rihts, which have sold as high as $1.50, got down to 12½ cents, and closed at 25 cents. They expire on Monday, and as the stock has been depressed close to the levels at which the debentures are convertible, the rights have been heavily sold. The stock sold off fractionally to 29, and closed at 29⅝.

Public utilities closed irregularly. Electric Bond and Share, an active feature, was up more than 2 points, and United Light at 1½.

In the industrials and specialties, Columbia Pictures was a strong feature, rising more than 6 points. This company had the rights to make the Schmeling-Sharkey fight pictures, and has arranged to take the pictures to Germany.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh receipts were nominal and 260 head of holdovers did not include anything with quality. Sales consisted mainly of odd lots and a good clean-up was accomplished with little change in prices, quality considered.

Odd head of low grade steers cashed at 7.00@7.75 with one small lot at 8.75.

A few medium to low good cows turned at 7.75@8.00 with bulk being common to medium quality at 6.25@7.50. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 3.00@6.00 with thin shells down to 2.00. A few bulls brought 6.00@7.00 with some down to 5.00.

CALVES—A few head of trucked-in calves and some holdovers were available. Practically everything sold and although some offerings looked a little cheap it is probable that desirable kinds would have shown no change. A few lots of in-between vealers brought 10.85@12.00 with odd head up to 13.00. Heavy calves went down to 9.00 with culls of light weight down to 7.00.

HOGS—Trade was of short duration with prices holding steady. Two loads of 163 to 170-pound Kansas butchers topped at 11.15 with a load of 177-pound local fed hogs going to an outsider at 11.00. A load of mixed California butchers sold at 10.15 and a few packing sows brought 8.00

SHEEP—No fresh offerings were available but four decks of holdover Utah lambs averaging 76 pounds brought 8.50 straight. This price was considerably lower and in the opinion of the trade good to choice lambs are quotable at 9.00@9.50.

BOSTON, June 13. (AP)—Domestic wools of 56s quality are moving in fair quantities at steady prices. Strictly combing fleeces of this grade out of Ohio and similar lines bring 29@30c in the grease. Territory strictly combing 56s wools are bringing 60@63c scoured basis. The demand for 56s wool is not near as strong as in the case of 48s-50s quality, but in comparison with the previous week the demand for 56s grade has greatly improved.

All Futures on Grain Markets in Fresh Drop

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—Unsettled by drought-breaking in Canada and by auspicious harvest conditions in this country, all grain values smashed downward today. Wheat, rye and oats outdid the season's low-price records, wheat coming within ½c of touching a dollar-per-bushel level. Contributing to the weakness of grain was selling ascribed to stock market houses and resulting apparently from recent declines in prices for securities and for commodities as well.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at ¼@⅝c rally from the day's bottom quotations, but 1⅝@2½c under yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1c down, oats ⅝@1c off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 7c. Except for one strong rally after downturns at the start, wheat showed a general downward trend throughout the entire day.

The rally referred to was based to a great extent on reports of severe crop damages in Canada, reports which temporarily more than offset news of continued beneficial rains. In some wheat districts of Canada 20 to 25 per cent total losses were specified, notably west of Moosejaw. Helping also as a transient bullish factor were estimates that yesterday's export business in wheat from North America was larger than generally supposed, totaling between 1,500,000 and 2,500,000 bushels.

Stop-loss selling, however, set in during the last half of the day, and with holders of wheat showing more and more anxiety to let go, the buying support for the market dwindled so that in the final hour the sole demand was from previous speculative sellers.

Corn, oats and rye gave way chiefly as a result of wheat weakness.

Notwithstanding that hog values advanced, provisions weakened in sympathy with grain.

Bowling

REDLANDS, June 13.—The grand challenge, or open rink championship for Southern California, the premier event of the lawn bowlers' meet now being held on the Redlands greens, carrying with it the beautiful trophy presented to the Southern California Association of Lawn Bowlers by the British team who visited California last season, was won yesterday afternoon by a Redlands rink composed of George Bunnell, W. E. Hutchinson, Dr. W. J. Moore and M. L. Hooper (Skip). This rink came through the tournament undefeated and disposed of Joe Roncalli's Los Angeles aggregation in the finals by a score of 28 to 20 in a 21 end game. The Los Angeles rink composed of Bowler, Davis, Scott and Roncalli, was "doped" to upset the local rink, but every player on the Redlands team "did his stuff" and the trophy will now remain in Redlands until the next association tournament in Beverly Hills in October.

In the consolation rink finals the dope was again upset when a rink skipped by Romaday of Los Angeles, with Stimson, McCann and Moore, defeated the crack Pasadena rink skipped by Keesling in a 21 end final game for first prize in the consolation rinks and second place in the tournament.

UPLIFTER FOUR TO FACE FREEBOOTERS

The Uplifters' Club poloists take the turf against the Freebooters four from Will Rogers's rancho tomorrow afternoon with their line-up considerably strengthened by the return of Clair Brunson, who has returned from playing in the Boise tournaments. Brunson has developed into a dependable rider at the important berth of last man on defense. His back-hand strokes have shown consistent distance and accuracy this season and his appearance tomorrow should materially aid the ranch riders in their attempt to get revenge for last week's 10-to-6 defeat at the hands of the Freebooters. Will Rogers, Jr., will ride at No. 1 in place of his celebrated dad who is still in the East, with Hal Roach directing play at the No. 3 position.

STROMBERG TROPHY PLAY ON TOMORROW

Resuming play in the race for the William Stromberg trophy, the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club four will clash with the Saddle and Sirloin polo squad tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 on the Ventura Boulevard field.

Hollywood will be out to stop the brilliant offensive work of Fred Fredericks, who tallied three goals against the Movie City team the last time the two outfits played. Joe Smith, who has been playing great polo lately, will be the big threat for Hollywood.

Aiding Fredericks is Milsap who is rated along with the lanky veteran in speed of play. Two of the best youthful prospects in the Southland will ride for Hollywood when Kirk Sterinert and Buddy DuBrock take the turf.

BARRACUDA RUNNING FISHERMEN REPORT

Large catches of bass, halibut, barracuda, sea trout and bonita continue to be caught off Santa Monica from the live bait boats W. K. and Palisades, it was announced last night by Capt. Jack Dugan of the Morris Boats. The splendid fishing, which has been favoring the Santa Monicans for some weeks, has attracted literally hundreds of fishermen to the beach this week. Not only have big catches been made from the boats, but from the Challenger barge as well. According to Capt. Bill Hall, commander of the Challenger, exceptionally good catches of barracuda have been made from the ship.

MANUAL UPSETS DOPE TO DEFEAT JEFF NINE

The Manual Arts High nine went contrary to form yesterday afternoon and did it so well that they emerged from the ball game with an unexpected 7-to-1 victory over the strong Jefferson High team on the Toilers' diamond. The Manual fielders gave excellent support in the field to Sass, who allowed eleven hits but managed to scatter them out.

Danny Manacuchi of Manual was the outstanding hero of the game, accounting for all of the Toiler runs. In the sixth inning he singled to score two men and then scored himself on a sacrifice fly. In the next inning he bludgeoned out a home run with the bases loaded.

The Franklin Kiteflyers conquered the Poly nine yesterday afternoon on the Mechanics' own diamond by the score of 10 to 4. Redondo, Franklin hurler, pitched a nice game, although the Poly batters touched him for eleven hits and he was given errorless support by his mates in the field.

Ybarra started to pitch for Poly but was replaced by Yusuba, who finished the game. The Franklin players got busy in the first inning to score five runs and sew up the game. McCue led the batting with three hits in five times at bat. Goodman of Poly also secured three bingles in five at bat.

NIAGARA FALLS (Nueva York), Junio 13.—Los trenes de ferrocarril en que viajaban los Templarios que regresaban de la convención celebrada esta semana en Toronto (Ontario), produjeron selectos vinos, licores y coñacs, valorados en cuatro o cinco mil dólares, al ser registrados en la frontera por el inspector aduanal de los Estados Unidos, T. Recurso Denegado a una Escritora

ALBANY (Nueva York), Junio 13. El Tribunal de Apelación ha denegado hoy el recurso intentado por la señora Grace A. Fendler, de Santa Mónica (California), para reponer el juicio por plagio que entabló hace dieciocho años contra Oliver Morosco y otras personas, a quienes hace el cargo de que le plagiaron su drama "In Hawaii", del que asegura ella fue tomada la pieza "The Bird of Paradise".

Este litigio, que se vino viendo en distintas épocas ante varios tribunales, culminó en 1929 en un fallo de la Suprema Corte, por el que se adjudicaban $800,000 de indemnización a la señora Fendler, y se le reconocía derecho de propiedad sobre "The Bird of Paradise".

A principios de este año, el Tribunal de Apelación revocó el fallo del inferior, manifestando en un considerando que las ideas son "tan libres como el aire", y que ningún derecho tiene la señora Fendler a indemnización, ni aun en el caso de que la lectura de "In Hawaii" pueda haber inspirado nuevas ideas al que escribió "The Bird of Paradise".

De allí que la señora Fendler haya intentado la reposición del juicio, cosa que le ha denegado hoy el más alto tribunal del Estado.

sacrifice fly brought Pinelli home. Donovan was then caught stealing and Sheely flied to Harper for the third out.

Los Angeles came back and tied the score with a couple of runs in the home half of the opening inning. After Sigafoos had fouled off about six pitches he finally drew a walk. The first of Johnny Moore's three singles moved Siggy to third. Dittmar fouled to Sheely. After Moore had stolen second Harper slashed a single to right and both Sigafoos and Moore crossed the plate. Jacobs hit into a double play to end the round.

The Seals got three walks and a single and Ballou tossed in a wild pitch for good measure in the third but still the San Franciscans weren't able to score. It happened this way. Crosetti walked and was caught stealing. Pinelli singled. After Donovan went out, Wingo walked. Ballou wild-pitched the runners to second and third, thus forcing him to purposely pass the dangerous Sheely, filling the bases. The strategy worked for Ballou set Sulik down on strikes.

ANGELS BREAK TIE

Los Angeles broke the tie in the fifth after two were out. Sigafoos walked, stole second and continued to third on the second of Penebsky's wild heaves to center field. Moore came through with his third single, a solid smash to right center, and Sigafoos romped home.

After the fourth inning the Seals weren't able to get a man as far as second and only one visitor got as far as first, so well did Ballou have the situation in hand.

The Angels put on their three-run splurge in the eighth, which opened with Harper punching one of Miljus's slow balls to left for a single. Jacobs sacrificed and Schulmerich followed with his drive over the right-field screen. Baker then booted Haney's grounder. The fleet-footed Angel third sacker proceeded to steal second, take third on a wild pitch and come home when Truck Hannah neatly placed a single over the heads of the drawn-in infielders.

Jimmy Zinn, of no-hit and one-hit game fame this season, will pitch for the Seals today. Berly Horne is due to hurl for the home guards. Score:

Foul Tips

Jimmy Zinn, who pitched the only no-hit, no-run game of the Coast League season this year, will be on the mound for the Seals in today's game. Zinn set the Sacramento club down without a hit or a run May 14 and a week later hurled a one-hit shutout against the Oaks.

Berly Horne, the little giant, is expected to be Lelivelt's mound choice against the husky Mr. Zinn. If Horne has his control, he'll give Zinn all the pitching argument he wants.

Ballou has pitched good ball his last five appearances and is more than fulfilling the confidence Manager Jack Lelivelt had in him.

Johnny Moore cracked out three solid singles yesterday to raise his batting average. When Moore came up in the seventh with two men on, Miljus purposely walked him.

The Sherman Institute Indian runners, who are entered in The Times Pre-Olympic marathon today, were present at Wrigley Field yesterday as the guests of Joe Patrick. The only thing resembling a marathon the runners saw at the ball game was when Wes Schulmerich clouted a homer and galloped around the bases in the eighth inning.

Truck Hannah gave the fans a bit to laugh at in the eighth after he had protested a decision at second. Miljus and Pinelli were ragging Truck, who nonchalantly took his "chaw" out of his mouth and flipped it in Pinelli's ear.

Hannah kept up a running stream of chatter to the Seal hitters and noticeably bothered young Sulik and Red Wingo. Neither got a hit, Sulik being replaced by Benny Morganstern after striking out twice.

Hannah just reached out and tapped one of Miljus's offerings over the infielders' heads in the eighth to drive in a run. Truck made getting a hit look easy the way he did it.

Fred Haney tossed out the side in the eighth inning, throwing out Pinelli, Donovan and Wingo on three well-handled and difficult plays.

In the last half of the eighth, Haney stole second to give him twenty-four for the season, double the number of his nearest competitor. Moore stole two bases and Sigafoos one yesterday. Penebsky twice making wild throws.

Bill Rumler and Mike Gazella were both sent home from San Francisco by the Stars. Rumler has a lame back and Gazella has an infected hand.

Miljus tossed Harper a slow ball in the eighth, but George was waiting for it and easily tapped it into left for a single.

QUEER GOINGS ON MARK FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

Old Bronze Cannon Takes Tumble
Mary Hiersekonn examines venerable weapon on Courthouse steps.

One of the old, very old, bronze cannon that has stood at the foot of the Courthouse steps since 1887 celebrated Friday the thirteenth yesterday by rolling from its pedestal and tumbling to the concrete pavement, where it lay until restored by a gang of janitors.

The accident which dislodged the weather-beaten ordnance was caused when a flivver with supplies for the Courthouse backed into the muzzle of the venerable fieldpiece.

According to one legend, the two cannon were employed by American sailors from San Pedro in defending the town of Los Angeles from an attack by Mexicans in the War of 1847. Another story places their pedigree even further back and has it that the weapons were used by Spanish generals in Indian wars of the eighteenth century.

THERE'S CENTS IN 13

Friday the 13th was not an unlucky day for the motorman operating Los Angeles Railway car No. 513. Hugo R. Krohn, a passenger, attests to this.

"When the car stopped for a signal yesterday the motorman got off and picked up a 50-cent piece, slightly mutilated from the wheels of another car rolling over it," Krohn reported.

"Then to demonstrate that the 13th inst. was especially kind to him, he produced another 50-cent piece he had found in the same manner, then a quarter, a nickel and a penny—a total of $1.31, a figure that also contains a thirteen, backward or forward.

"'Take a look at the number on my car,'" Krohn said he was directed by the motorman. "'She's 513 and it's too bad there aren't more Fridays like this.'"

PEETAH, BUT NO PETE

Detective Lieutenant Gottlieb recovered a stolen car and learned that the car keys were in the possession of a diminutive Italian by the name of Pete, and that Pete was in the habit of making an occasional appearance at a certain East Side Japanese rooming-house.

So he went to the rooming-house.

"You know where Pete is? he asked of the Japanese landlady. "Little Peetah, you know."

"Unhunh," said the landlady and took the detective to a first-floor room. She opened the door. Inside a middle-aged man lay on the floor very much under the influence of liquor.

"No, no," cried the detective, "Peetah, a young fellow."

The landlady then led the detective to the second floor and opened the door of another room. On the bed were two young men, snoring vociferously. The fumes of alcohol were thick. Neither one was Pete and the detective gave up in disgust. After making arrangements to have the three inebriates legally attended to he returned to Central Station to learn from a brother officer that "Peetah," or the word it sounds like in Japanese, means a "drunk."

WHERE'S JERRY'S HAT

It is no aspersion to relate that Detective Lieutenant Jerry Hickey during the last thirteen years or so has worn the same sun-bleached Panama each summer, for Jerry has always taken much pride in it and would wear no other.

Jerry was driving to work yesterday when, turning a downtown street corner, a gust of wind whisked the treasured headpiece away into a congestion of traffic. He drew into the curb. Traffic was heavy and he saw no sign of his hat. But just then a newsboy ran toward the detective.

"Hiyah, hereyuhare," he cried holding out a hat. At that moment Jerry was jostled by a pedestrian and he reached out and took the hat before he noticed it was a brand-new sailor straw. The newsboy vanished, and Jerry could do naught but keep the hat. For half an hour he lingered searching for his old Panama and the owner of the new hat. But the search was futile. He continued to work to be congratulated by his brother-officers on his new "purchase." In fact, so unusual was the occasion that they took up a collection and bought a new green band for it. But Jerry still hopes some one may have found the old Panama and will return it to him.

BAD MATTER WORSE

"If you don't halt, it'll be an unlucky Friday the 13th for you!"

This warning, shouted by Arthur Duncan, bank manager, as he aimed a revolver at the back of Thomas Kelly, 28 years of age, of 1050 Overton street, yesterday landed the latter in the City Jail on suspicion of forgery.

According to Detective Lieutenants Crowley and Posner of the forgery detail, Kelly several days ago cashed a worthless check at the Bank of Italy branch at Eighth street and Vermont avenue. The transaction necessitated his return to the bank yesterday.

Suspicious of the check, Manager Duncan notified police who instructed him to detain Kelly pending arrival of the detectives. Duncan accordingly tried to interest Kelly in conversation; but the suspect refused to be thus detained. He started to leave the bank in jig time. Then Duncan seized a gun and shouted the warning. Kelly obeyed and a moment later was in custody.

JINX RIDES HORSES

Milton D. (Farmer) Page yesterday was sentenced to six months in the County Jail for violating a city ordinance forbidding possession of race track form charts. His codefendant, Gus (Pinky) Palmer, received a similar sentence from Municipal Judge Willis following their conviction.

Both defendants appealed from the conviction to the Superior Court and will be released under $5000 appeal bond each.

The two were arrested at 707 South Broadway on May 21, last, charged with operating a bookmaking office for a Tia Juana race track.

SANTA FE OIL PRICE RAISED

Production Curtailment Shows Result as Standard Announces Boost in Quotations

The Standard Oil Company of California yesterday announced that former crude oil prices at the well in the Santa Fe Springs field will be restored this morning, the prices which were in effect May 17, becoming effective again at once.

Restoration of the old crude oil prices at Santa Fe Springs, according to leaders in the oil industry, indicates that the oil-curtailment program for that field has proved successful, despite the four or five companies which have held out against the new agreement calling for curtailment of oil production until November 1.

As a measure to encourage 100 per cent curtailment at Santa Fe Springs the Standard Oil Company was the first operator to announce a cut in crude oil prices May 17, last. Other major companies followed suit and the price of oil there dropped nearly 50 per cent. Oil of 21 gravity has been selling for 50 cents a barrel and the better grades for 95 cents a barrel. The restored schedule enables the producer to sell his output for from 92 cents to $1.65 a barrel.

According to an announcement yesterday, the operators who still are expected to sign the new agreement have signified their intentions

CALTECH GIVES DEGREES TO 156

Exercises Mark Closing of Successful Year

Prof. Buwalda Delivers Commencement Talk

Dr. Millikan's Annual Report Shows Great Stride

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 13.—Symbolic of the "passing of the torch of human progress," were the annual commencement exercises of the California Institute of Technology this afternoon when Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the Institute's executive council, handed diplomas to 156 candidates for scientific degrees.

Approximately 2000 persons witnessed the graduation ceremonies which were held outdoors between Gates and Dabney halls.

The exercises were featured by Dr. Millikan's annual report of the Institute's progress and by the commencement address delivered by Dr John P. Buwalda, professor of geology.

"Any one who knows the history of the California Institute knows that to her trustees, buildings and endowments, however indispensible, are yet of secondary concern in comparison with her human assets," Dr. Millikan asserted in prefacing his announcements of faculty promotions and new endowments.

WORLD AUTHORITY COMING

"The faith of the trustees has always been that enough of students and of facilities would come to an institution that possessed men who deserve to have the first, and who know how to use the second. Their creed has been that the torch of human progress can be passed on only by hands which are carrying it themselves."

In noting that Prof. Theodor von Karman, world authority on aerodynamics, last week accepted the directorship of the institute's graduate school of aeronautics, the famous physicist voiced the hope that the local scientific institution is destined to be the center of aeronautical research in the United States

"Prof. von Karman has been willing to transfer his activities because he looks on this as the inevitable center for the development of commercial aerodynamic art, with the theory that must go with it. For there is no other population of this size separated by 2000 miles of desert from any other similar center between which rapid communication is a necessity—and all kinds of developments take place in general where the situation demands them.

AIR RESEARCH WORK

"Also, the research work carried on in America in the lighter-than-air field is to be divided between a lighter-than-air laboratory in Akron, O., and the aerodynamic laboratory here, for the Daniel Guggenheim Lighter-than-Air Institute at Akron has been placed under the direction of the staff of the California Institute. This move has been dictated, first by the character of the institute's staff, with Karman leading it, and second by the fact that the future of the lighter-than-air art probably lies in trans-Pacific travel, with the Los Angeles region as the eastern terminus."

Dr. Millikan, in speaking of the addition of other "human assets," announced that Dr. Beno Gutenberg, leading European authority on certain phases of the earthquake problem, last week telegraphed his acceptance of his appointment as professor of seismology.

As another forward step in building a faculty that will give students the historical and social understanding lacking in past generations of scientists, the institute has procured Dr. Theodore Soares, formerly of the University of Chicago, to head the department of ethics.

GREAT PROJECTS

Ground already has been broken on the institute campus for the first of two million-dollar dormitory groups, and Dr. Millikan revealed today that with the establishment of the Balch Graduate School of Geological Sciences provision has been made by "two friends" for erection in the near future on the southwest corner of the campus of a group of geology buildings.

The $500,000 Athenaeum, which will serve as a headquarters for Southern California scientists, is nearing completion on Hill avenue. It is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch. Another important group of buildings now under construction on the institute campus are the machine shop, optical shop and as-

NAZARENE MINISTERS BACK FITTS

Unanimous Indorsement of 364 Clergymen Voted at District Meeting

The candidacy of Buron Fitts for Governor received the unanimous indorsement of 364 ministers here yesterday. The clergymen assembled for the twenty-fourth district meeting of the Southern California Conference of the Church of the Nazarene at the First Nazarene Church, Sixth and Wall streets, commended Fitts for his vigorous enforcement of law here and expressed the hope that the people of this State will elevate him to the position of chief executive.

There was not a dissenting vote to the resolution introduced by Rev. E. I. Ames of Pasadena and after passage, signed by the executive committee of the conference. This committee is comprised of E. A. Gir[illegible], Los Angeles; W. E. Hardin, Santa Ana; E. I. Ames, Pasadena; F. Stoy Spangler, Los Angeles; H. H. Hooker, Los Angeles; E. G. Roberts, San Diego, and D. E. Vanderpoll, Pasadena. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, that we, the members of the Twenty-fourth District Assembly of the Southern California District of the Church of Nazarene feel honored by your visit to our assembly, and assure you of our appreciation and approval of your address to us. We gladly pledge you our hearty support for Governor in the State of California and in the campaign which you are carrying on as the able, honest and fearless champion of law enforcement, and all that is best and noblest in those great principles and institutions for which the fathers of our nation fought and died."

Fitts was notified yesterday that the Los Angeles County Central Committee delegates of the Fifty-seventh Assembly District have also indorsed his candidacy.

LEGION PLANS FEAST

Romance under the stars, together with a steak dinner, is being offered by Los Angeles Post, No. 8, American Legion, the night of the 19th inst., at the Vermont avenue entrance to Griffith Park. The affair is in charge of Past Commander Harris and a committee.

Funds raised will be applied to financing the national convention of the American Legion, which has been invited to come here in 1931. A program of entertainment will be supplied by Hyams and McIntire.

Council Struck by Sudden Rain of Resolutions

A wave of resolutions struck the City Council yesterday. A tabulation of the result shows:

By Randall, proposing that a special election be called in Municipal Improvement District No. 62 to determine whether the balance of $40,000 left over from the paving of Ventura Boulevard between Lankershim Boulevard and Laurel Canyon Road be applied to the construction of a pedestrian tunnel under the boulevard or for the retirement of the bonds. It was referred to the Finance Committee.

By Randall, proposing a special election in Municipal Improvement District No. 61 to determine whether the balance of $147,298 remaining from the paving of Ventura Boulevard between Laurel Canyon Road and Sepulveda Boulevard be devoted to the retirement of the bonds after the construction of a pedestrian tunnel. It was referred to the Finance Committee.

By Holland, directing departmental heads to allow as many of their employees as possible to have July 5, a Saturday, as a holiday. This was adopted.

Actress in Mother Role Second Time

A baby girl, tipping the scales at eight pounds, was born yesterday to Eleanor Boardman, motion-picture actress and wife of King Vidor, director. The new arrival was born at the Monte Sano Hospital. According to the doctor, mother and child are doing nicely.

ELEANOR BOARDMAN

This is the second girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Vidor, the first now being 3 years of age. They had not named the new arrival last night.

Miss Boardman and Vidor were married September 8, 1926.

WATER-TUNNEL SURVEY BEGINS

Mono Basin Project Start Reported Officially

Eleven-Mile Bore to Lead Into Owens Valley

Van Norman Gives Details to Commissioners

Actual work looking toward the construction of the eleven-mile tunnel to bring Mono Basin water into the Owens Valley was begun yesterday, Chief Engineer Van Norman reported to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

Engineering crews with rigs moved on to Deadman's Summit and began test borings for the proposed tunnels, while surveying crews were completing surveys on the proposed route.

Commenting on the work being done to establish the best possible method of diverting Mono Basin water into the Owens River so that it will flow naturally into the Aqueduct, Van Norman in his report to the board states:

TUNNEL PLAN FAVORED

"On account of the value of combining the waters of Mono Basin with those of the Owens River in Long Valley so that water from both sources can be passed through power plants hereafter to be built in the Owens River Gorge, it is more valuable to the city to build a tunnel from Mono Basin to the headwaters of the Owens River at the upper end of Long Valley. This has been the plan that always has been looked upon by engineers of the department as being the most desirable.

"Geological studies have been made of two tunnel lines, and it seems apparent that the geology is favorable. As these tunnel lines will be a considerable distance underground in places, there is a possibility that high temperatures in the ground might be encountered at this depth. Therefore, a sufficient number of holes will be drilled along the proposed lines to determine the conditions.

"In the event that conditions are found that will preclude the possibility of diversion being made as above outlined, it is possible to divert the waters of the Mono Basin by a conduit constructed easterly from either Grant or Silver Lake on Rush Creek, to the south of Mono Lake through the divide between Mono Basin and Adobe Meadows by conduit or a short tunnel, as preferred, thence a conduit to the Adobe Valley past Benton through the Hamill and Chalfant valleys and into the Owens River near Laws. These possibilities have been known to the engineers of the department for many years and have been given considerable study.

"As to the cost of the two general diversion methods just explained, the eleven-mile tunnel route will extend entirely across and under government land. The cost of a right of way for this, therefore, will amount to nothing, practically speaking. The conduit route through the Adobe Valley also will pass almost entirely across government land. Whatever rights of way are required across privately owned land may be acquired by condemnation proceedings, and it is expected that the cost under such proceedings will be only nominal.

WORK PUSHED

"Engineering parties are in the field now rapidly completing investigations, and in the course of two or three months it is expected that the final locations will be selected. With the detailed survey work completed we will then be in a position to submit and the Board of Water and Power Commissioners complete plans and specifications and estimates of cost."

The commissioners yesterday received from Mayor Porter a letter in which he cautioned the board to take steps guarding against possible exploitation of lands in either Mono Basin or Owens Valley at the expense of the city.

He urged that the following points be made clear to the landowners: That the city expects to deal fairly and frankly with them; that the city must receive full value for every dollar invested; that the landowners get all the money to be paid out by the city for lands and that none goes into the pockets of speculators or option brokers.

The board adopted a resolution expressing hearty accord with the Mayor's suggestion.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IT IS no surprise to the wise that the sporting impresarios are already talking about a "return match" between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey. The situation is typical of the business.

PROFITABLE BUNK

The dismal part is that the confiding public has contributed fortunes to these near-fighters. Sharkey has sound securities in a Boston bank running into millions. Ace Hudkins has a roll like a national bank. Even Carnera, the seven-foot joke, and Frankie Campbell, who refuses to fight anybody who can fight back, are in the Rolls-Royce class.

HUGGING THE FOUL LINE

In Mr. Sharkey's case he stays too near the foul line. He bellowed that he had been fouled by Jack Dempsey; undoubtedly he hit Phil Scott and the German pug below the belt. His eyesight is too punk for the prize ring.

LOVING COUPLE

When the King and Queen of Rumania sit on their twin throne a chicken-wire fence will have to be erected between them.

The Queen Mother Marie and her revamped royal son kissed on the platform when she returned from the Passion Play; but I'll bet she bit him.

CRIMINALS

Dr. W. C. Hassler of San Francisco tells the American Health Association that crime is due to poor health conditions. Chicago must be enjoying a permanent epidemic.

GANGSTERS

What destroys criminology figures is the psychology of the modern gangster. He is not a crook as we have been accustomed to think of the class. He is a hired assassin. He works on a salary-and-commission basis and knows little or nothing about the graft or loot that is involved in his own killings.

THE BILL OF RIGHTS

The grievous feature of modern crime is that criminals thrive and gain immunity by reason of the rules of justice and evidence implanted, after a long and bloody struggle, for the safeguarding of the innocent. The legal rights of the innocent and decent have become their peril.

OUR MAIN STREET

An eastern newspaper man who came to see me asks with palpitation whether the Civic Center plan will destroy the picturesqueness of old Main street. With its peddlers, its side shows, its country store districts where they sell saddles and seeds, its hawkers, its cross-section of Mexico, he says that it is the most interesting and colorful street in the whole world. This is true, but he had better go down and take another good look at it. It won't be long now.

DODGING COMETS

Prof. Baldet is congratulating the world because we missed colliding with a comet by a mere 6,000,000 miles. It isn't so funny, after all.

We have been bumped before. The Arizona meteor was a peewee compared with a comet, but the belief of modern science is that in the crash when it lit an inland sea which formerly extended from Imperial Valley up through Antelope Valley and nearly to Salt Lake City, was suddenly poured out through Grand Canyon and

SECT'S "PROPS" TO GO ON BLOCK

Massive Gold-Leafed Furniture, Built for Messiah of Mrs. Blackburn's "Great Eleven" Order, Awaits Sale in Auction Room—to Meet Debts

From imposing surroundings in a weird sect center in the Santa Susanna Hills, the so-called "Lord's Furniture" of the Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven yesterday sat incongruously in an auction market at 626 North Western avenue, awaiting bids under the hammer next Tuesday, to satisfy claims against the order.

Meanwhile May Otis Blackburn, founder, faces a San Quentin prison sentence as result of being convicted last March on grand-theft charges brought against her by one of the "disciples" when the order became disrupted.

Her arrest on the charges brought about an investigation that revealed the existence of the massive gumwood furniture, elaborately carved in leonine suggestions and leafed with pure gold, which was preserved in the isolated hill retreat awaiting the coming of the Messiah. It was guarded by a dusky "priest."

The largest of the pieces is the throne, and with it is a dressing table with a huge mirror, and a bench, all glittering with yellow metal. Other pieces—large chairs and a bed—are covered heavily with the finest of golden satin.

From testimony at Mrs. Blackburn's trial it was adduced that the furniture was made and held in readiness for the arrival of the Messiah.

The leonine motif is accounted for by the bibical reference to the "Lion of the tribe of Judah," according to the testimony. A great design of a lion's head adorns the throne, while it stands on huge hand-carved claws. The set is valued at $6000.

Thus the furniture remains, stripped of its state in a seat which, Mrs. Blackburn said, was to have produced a Messiah, and by contact she asserted she had with angels was to have given the world a book of the Great Sixth Seal containing all the secrets of the universe. And all its gold is to be converted into pieces of silver to meet worldly debts.

SEA YIELDS AMECO VICTIM

Fisherman Finds Body Which Police Recover and Identify as W. S. Ferguson of Glendale

After two weeks of futile search the sea yesterday gave up the first body of the thirteen missing in the wreck of the fishing boat Ameco, which foundered on May 30, last. Santa Monica police recovered the body of W. S. Ferguson of 117 West Garfield street, Glendale, from the ocean about a half-mile off Santa Monica Canyon.

The body was identified by Police Chief Webb of Santa Monica from papers and a bank book found in the clothing. It was the first to be brought ashore despite a daily search by Coast Guard patrol boats and small boats chartered for the search by relatives of the missing passengers.

Police Lieutenant Randall of Santa Monica received the report of the floating body from an unnamed fisherman, chartered the small boat Alert and after a short search recovered the corpse.

The bodies of three passengers were recovered on the afternoon of May 30 when the Ameco, crowded with Memorial Day fishermen, turned over in the face of a heavy off-shore swell. The boat sank about a mile and a half off the Santa Monica coast at a point between Santa Monica Canyon and Topanga Canyon.

Searching parties endeavoring to locate the hull of the still missing Ameco have reported that the area

ATTIC-MURDER SHOTS RELATED

Woman Neighbor Awakened by Bark of Gun

She Peers Through Window and Sees Man

Sanhuber's Attorney Blames Another for Crime

What a neighbor woman saw and heard from her bedroom window furnished the outstanding testimony yesterday at the trial of Otto Sanhuber, so-called ghost of the garret, on trial before Superior Judge Hardy for the murder of Fred Oesterreich.

The neighboring woman was Mrs. Flora L. Rawson, who lived at the time of the murder—August 22, 1922—at what is now 871 Lafayette Park Place, next door to the Oesterreich home.

On the night of the shooting, she testified, she was wakened from her sleep, and made her way to a guest room occupied by Mrs. Cora A. Norton.

SHOT HEARD

"What was that?" she asked her guest.

"I heard a shot," was the answer.

The two women tiptoed to the window and kneeling there looked across toward the Oesterreich house.

"Under the partially lowered shades of French windows of the dining-room I saw the feet and legs of a man walking," continued Mrs. Rawson, under questioning by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Russell. "The man turned and walked back toward the living-room."

"Then we heard three shots—like that," the witness said, rapping swiftly upon the witness stand.

"I heard a woman's voice scream, 'Fred, Oh, Fred,'" the woman witness went on. "We knelt there by the window for perhaps twenty or twenty-five minutes but nothing more happened, except that the front porch light went out and a light upstairs went on. I went to the telephone and called up the Oesterreich home. We heard their telephone ringing but no one answered. I called the police."

POLICE ENTER HOUSE

Mrs. Rawson said that she accompanied Police Officers Stoll and Aubrey when they arrived and that the two officers found the Oesterreich automobile in the driveway with its headlights lighted. They were unable to get in the front door, but gained egress through some French windows.

The woman witness was still on the stand when court adjourned until Monday. After she finishes her testimony, probably some time Monday afternoon, the jury will be taken to the scene of the murder, where particular attention will be paid to the garret in which Sanhuber supposedly lived for years while he carried on an asserted illicit romance with Mrs. Oesterreich.

Before Mrs. Rawson took the stand yesterday Assistant County Autopsy Surgeon Webb testified that Oesterreich had been struck by three bullets. One entered the upper portion of the head, in the back of the ear, pierced the brain and ranged downward through the torso. A second pierced the heart and a third grazed the same organ. Either of the first two bullets, Webb testified, would have caused instantaneous death.

STATEMENTS TO JURY

The other witness of the day was Deputy County Surveyor Slavin, who produced various charts of the first and second floors of the former Oesterreich house, drawn to scale. The dimensions of the attic room were given as ten feet by twenty-eight feet.

Previous to the taking of testimony both Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell and Defense Attorney Wakeman made opening statements to the jury of six men and six women.

Russell declared that the prosecution would show that a romance between Mrs. Oesterreich and Sanhuber began in Milwaukee many years ago when the latter, a young representative of a sewing machine company, met Mrs. Oesterreich in the apron factory of her wealthy husband.

"They fell in love," said Russell, "and at one time, believing they were followed by private detectives, they fled from Milwaukee to Chicago and then to St. Louis."

"Later they returned," continued the prosecutor, "and we are going to produce evidence to show you that over a period of eleven years Sanhuber lived in five different attics to be near the woman he was infatuated with."

The prosecutor asserted that further evidence would show that Oesterreich was shot with a .25-caliber pistol and that a gun of similar description was given by Mrs. Oesterreich to Roy Klumb, a prosecution witness, with instructions to throw it in the La Brea oil pits, which he did, although it was later recovered.

In his reply, Attorney Wakeman declared that Mrs. Oesterreich had two lovers other than her husband—one the diminutive Sanhuber and another a man of towering stature and great weight.

"Both of them were there on the night of the murder," Wakeman told the jurors. "We will leave it to you, ladies and gentlemen, to decide whetred it was Sanhuber, weakened mentally and physically by eleven years of love in a garret, or this other powerful lover who struggled with Oesterreich—himself a heavy figure—and finally murdered him."

SUMMER SCHEDULE SET FOR LIBRARIES

Branch libraries of the Los Angeles Public Library will close at 1 p.m. on Saturdays during July and August, according to the announcement of the Board of Library Commissioners. Patrons are asked to co-operate with this necessary economy measure by visiting branch libraries on Friday evening and Saturday mornings to select week-end reading. The Central Library, which is largely used as a reference center, will continue to keep all departments open for both reference and circulation, week-days from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. and periodical and newspaper rooms, Sunday 1 to 9 p.m.

YOUNG AUTOISTS SEEK RECORD

TWO 16-year-old Los Angeles youths, Edwin Beinecke and Lyman Abbott, will step on the starter of their new Ford roadster at 5 a.m. today and roll away on what they expect will become a junior transcontinental automobile record.

A week from today Beinecke expects to be in New York City. His companion, who will alternate at the wheel between here and Detroit, will get off there, and it will be up to Beinecke to drive the remaining 800 miles to New York alone.

Today's start will be made from the offices of Sperry and Hitchinson Company, 311 South San Pedro street.

The youths will follow the Santa Fe Trail to Kansas City and head northward for Detroit. They are taking no special equipment, excepting goggles to protect their eyes during the scheduled continuous day-and-night driving.

Quorum Lacking at Democratic County Meeting

Failure of a quorum to attend a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee last night at the Alexandria prevented the transaction of any business by the political group.

Only twenty-seven of the ninety-two members of the county organization answered the roll call and the formal gathering met only to adjourn after the secretary announced the total membership present.

Informal discussion after adjournment was to the effect that the meeting had been called for the purpose of voting on the Democratic indorsement of some incumbent Superior Court judges in the coming election. The informal gathering declined to take any vote or action on the matter.

Woman Booked as Vice Squad Captures Still

Barrels, bottles, stills and finished liquor and equipment of a large distillery at 161 East Forty-sixth street were taken last night in a raid headed by Patrolman Fears, head of the administration vice squad, and four investigators of the District Attorney's office. Mrs. Lucille French, 22 years of age, who was in the building at the time of the raid, was held by police on a charge of violating the Wright Act.

The raiders said two men fled from the place as they made their entrance and escaped over a back fence. They estimate the value of the liquor and equipment at $15,000.

Educator Gets Eastern Call

Prof. H. G. Lucas, educational secretary of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, has accepted a call to go to Washington to connect with the educational department of the world's general conference of the denomination. He has spent twenty-eight years in educational work in this section of the country, where he has been directing head of the 100 parochial schools, twelve academies, one junior college and one senior college.

Prior to his present work in the union conference Prof. Lucas was a teacher at Healdsburg College, principal of the San Fernando Academy and educational superintendent of the Southern California conference.

FLORISTS TO PLAN CONCLAVE TONIGHT

Representatives from all over the United States will attend the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association banquet tonight at the Elks' Temple to complete plans for their national convention, to be held in the near future. Fred C. Dostal, local representative, announces as honor guest Charles H. Grakelow of Philadelphia, president of the organization. Other guests of honor will include Angelo Possi of San Francisco and Tommy Luke of Portland, outstanding in the world of flowers. Covers for 200 guests will be laid.

GLADIOLUS EXHIBITION CONCLUDED

Two-Day Show Declared by Its Sponsors to Have Been Most Successful

The close last night at the Biltmore of what members of the California Gladiolus Society describe as the most satisfactory show they have yet produced, ended a two-day exhibit viewed by thousands.

Competition by amateurs was a marked feature of this year's show. One of these exhibits, which scouts for some of the commercial distributing houses say has great potential popularity, was entered from the gardens at Laurel Center in West Hollywood, where the children of the elementary schools have their agricultural instruction. The flower is the result of hydridization done under the direction of the instructors.

There was a marked tendency this year toward two distinctive types, those having large, well-opened blossoms, with many open at one time, and those of a more lacy and dainty form and color. Pastel shades still predominate, with pink and salmon variations noticeably in the lead.

Some of the most successful hybridists in the country are located in California and originations from this source have won high recognition in England and Europe.

Anna A. Hills, Landscape Painter, Dies

Anna A. Hills, well known in Southern California as a landscape painter, died suddenly at her home in Laguna Beach last night, apparently the victim of a heart attack. Miss Hills was president of the Laguna Beach Art Association and a director of the art galleries in that city.

Miss Hills was born in Radenna, O., and spent most of her girlhood in Olivet, Mich. She received her education in Chicago, New York and Paris and studied art in the Julian Academy, Paris, and in Holland and England.

In addition to her father, Rev. A. N. Hills of Pasadena, Miss Hills leaves four brothers, Rev. James A. Hills, Dayton, O.; H. M. Hills, San Bernardino; Styles P. Hills, Pasadena, and Dwight Moody Hills, New York, and one sister, Mrs. M. Hills Everett of Edmonton, Alberta, Can.

Long-Distance Dancers Warned to Leave Floor

The remaining five couples in the Pico dance marathon, near Whittier, were warned last night to leave the floor at 10 a.m. today by Harry Owens, District Attorney investigator.

If they comply with the order, made on the grounds that the dancers are violating a county health ordinance, the young men and women will have put in 224 hours, walking around the boxing ring, singing, dancing and resting.

J. H. Berringer, promoter of the contest, told Owens last night he will attempt to prevent the District Attorney's office from halting the affair.

Cash prizes totaling $1000 were posted for winners of the novel endurance contest.

PSYCHOLOGISTS IN CONVENTION

Delegates in Attendance from Coast States

Many Papers Presented on Behaviorism

Washington University Man Elected President

The square chin has lost its prestige.

Those who ought to know do not associate great determination and bravery with the outthrust jaw. Its owner may be a coward getting by nicely on a public misconception.

Again, if 3-year-old Willie socks his little playmate, aged 2, on the nose, do not spank him. He is running true to form. This is his first social gesture.

These and sundry other facts relating to human behaviorism were called to the attention of the 150 delegates of the Western Psychological Association meeting at the University of Southern California yesterday in annual session. The meeting will come to a close this afternoon.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year and Eugene, Or., was selected as the 1931 place of meeting. Delegates are here from all over the West and from points as far east as Toronto.

Dr. Stevenson Smith of the University of Washington was named president, and Dr. George H. Mount of the University of Southern California, vice-president. Dr. P. R. Farnsworth of Stanford was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

PAPERS PRESENTED

Last night the delegates considered their sensory reactions to a club steak dinner given at the Students' Union.

Yesterday twenty-three papers on a wide variety of subjects were presented. They varied from studies of white rats to babies and stenographers.

H. R. Crossland of the University of Oregon presented a paper on "The Influence of Letter Position on Range of Apprehension." He declared that one is able to read better from right to left than from left to right, but would not admit that the Hebrew and the Chinese method is better than English.

Quinn McNamar of Stanford University presented a paper on "Relearning the White Rat" and M. E. Herriott of the Los Angeles schools spoke on "The Belief in Attitude."

"So-called intelligence tests and educational tests do not have a firm foundation," he said. He said he felt that the statistical techniques are not wholly adequate to the need but possess value nevertheless.

CHILD ANALYSES

Barbara Burks, Stanford, declared in her paper that "the new baby may look like his father but be like his mother." She said that physical characteristics have little if anything to do with mental capacity and emotion. She said the square-chinned man might be cowardly. These public misconceptions are being exploded by modern psychology.

Miss H. M. B. Bridges, of McGill University, told of her observations of the play reactions of the pre-school children. She said that up until 2 years, a child will play by itself. Its first attempt at meeting companions in all probability will be to strike the child with whom it wants to become a friend. At the age of 3 the children form compact groups to which no other child is admitted.

One of the interesting papers to be presented this morning will be a study of crying babies and what makes them cry. Nancy Bayley of the Institute of Child Welfare, University of California, will speak on "The Emotionality of Sixty Infants During Their First Year of Life as Evidenced by Their Crying in a Given Situation."

Lyon, 1052 Redondo Boulevard, Republican, for State Senator, Thirty-eighth District.

Bandits Hold Up Diamond Broker at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 13. (Exclusive)—Gerald Cowell, Long Beach diamond broker, was robbed of diamonds valued at $4000 and $40 in cash tonight by two bandits who invaded his home and locked Cowell, his wife and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Amsbach in a closet.

Police believe the bandit pair are the same men who have been preying on local jewelers since last September and have garnered loot valued at approximately $15,000. The men evidently followed Cowell home from his store and knew that he carried a number of valuable stones with him, for the addressed him by name. The police were given a meager description of the pair, one of whom was masked.

AIR SCHOOL PILOT WINS ARMY POST

Carl Schellbach Chosen to Take Combat Training as One of Ten Civilians

One of ten commercial air school pilots in the nation who are to be drafted by the Army for combat training at Kelly Field, Tex., Carl W. Schellbach, transport pilot of the Standard Flying Schools, will leave today for the army field.

Schellbach is the only student to qualify for one of the coveted military scholarships among contestants trained in the Los Angeles schools.

The Army has picked the ten flyers from advanced students of all thirty-seven approved schools throughout the country. The ten will receive the standard rigid course of four months at Kelly Field, and will be allowed to specialize in pursuit, bombardment, attack or observation piloting.

Success of the ten commercial school flyers will determine whether the Army can draw competent combat pilot material from approved civilian schools. The usual preparation for entry in the advanced combat training group is made at March or Brooks fields.

At the end of the four months' course Schellbach automatically will become an officer of the Army Air Reserves, and will be given the opportunity to enlist for active service.

He attended the local Standard Flying Schools from San Diego. He is 24 years of age. His appointment was announced following exhaustive tests by army and Department of Commerce observers.

Producer Lays "Ingagi" Woes to Jealousy

Attributing attacks on the film "Ingagi" to jealousy on the part of the larger film producers over the success of an independent production, N. H. Spitzen, president of the Congo Pictures, Ltd., producers of the disputed jungle picture, yesterday declared in a signed statement that only 15 per cent of the total footage of the film as presented had been made in Hollywood.

Mr. Spitzen said in his statement that the balance of the film had been purchased from a film library and was made up of travel scenes originally made in Africa and India.

"It was found necessary to include the element of story entertainment in proper sequence based on tribal legends described by writers," Mr. Spitzen said. "This story portion of the film was made in Hollywood and constitutes not more than 15 per cent of the entire film."

Pair Hold Up Utility Office

Two youthful bandits, both carrying revolvers, yesterday held up a branch of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation at 1009 East Forty-third street and obtained $400, W. Skelton, the manager reported to police. Covering Skelton with their guns, they forced him to open a cash drawer from which they seized the money, then commanded him to unlock the office safe. Skelton convinced them he did not know the combination, whereupon they fled, escaping in a waiting automobile.

Skelton told police he recognized the youths as the same two who obtained several hundred dollars in a hold-up of his office last March.

Young Predicts Brilliant Future for University

The University of California at Los Angeles will be one of the world's largest educational institutions within another generation, Gov. Young predicted last night at the annual banquet of the university's alumni association at the Roosevelt.

"The value of the service rendered by the university is recognized by all, and Southern California may be sure that every possible aid will be given by the State government to expand the institution and increase its usefulness," said the Governor.

Other speakers at the alumni dinner, which was attended by more than 300 graduates of the university, included Dr. E. C. Moore, university director; Dr. Fred P. Woellner, faculty member, and Samuel M. Haskins, '93; Paul Hutchinson, '26, presided.

FIERY RESCUE OF CHILD CAUSES MOTHER'S DEATH

A mother's love for her child cost the life early yesterday of Mrs. Ulysses George, 28 years of age, of 2360 Fellowship Parkway.

Mrs. George died in Las Campanas Hospital, Compton, from burns received when she dashed through the flames of her burning home Thursday afternoon and carried to safety her 7-year-old daughter Burnetta.

Gasoline fumes ignited the George residence while Burnetta was asleep in an upstairs bedroom. Mrs. George ran into the house, protected Burnetta in the folds of her skirt and carried her outside. The mother was burned all over her body and expired a few hours later.

Her brother, Charles Partin, Los Angeles motorcycle officer, was killed two years ago in a traffic crash while attempting to stop a speeding motorist.

Funeral services for Mrs. George will be conducted today at 2:30 p.m. from Brown Brothers mortuary, 935 West Washington Boulevard. She was born in Arkansas, but spent most of her life in Southern California.

Besides the child she saved, Mrs. George leaves an 8-year-old son Julian, her husband, Ulysses George, and her mother, Mrs. J. A. Partin, of San Pedro.

Dr. Harry Rimmer, who has frequently met Dr. Riley in debate, took the negative side and insisted that there is abundant proof that the period of creation in Genesis I and II referred to solar days.

"Whenever the word 'day' in the Hebrew is used to mean an indefinite period of time the context makes the meaning clear. In the seven days of the creation the context fails to show that it is an indefinite period of time, but clearly states that it is a solar day," Dr. Rimmer contended.

The great auditorium was crowded to the doors and the applause for both speakers was well balanced.

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH GINGELL'S UNLUCKY DAY

Yesterday was the most important day in the life of August A. Gingell, 27-year-old Glendale merchant, for he was scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Marshall McComb for sentence after his conviction of the murder of his wife Vera, 36-year-old artist's model, and Sigurd Bjorneby, musician.

And it was Friday, the 13th.

Having stated through his attorney that there was no legal cause why sentence should not be pronounced, Gingell stood up before the court and Judge McComb sentenced him to death by hanging on the two charges of which he was convicted. The date of execution will be fixed by Warden Holohan of San Quentin prison.

Before all this happened Gingell filed oral notice of appeal from the conviction.

The complaint against Gingell charges that he followed his estranged wife and Bjorneby to an apartment at 1225 West Sixth street on the night of February 21, last, and, finding them together, shot them both down.

According to investigating officers Gingell then walked to Seventh and Lucas streets where he surrendered to Officer Hoffman, handing him the gun used in the slaying and stating that he had just killed his wife and her asserted sweetheart.

During the trial Gingell took the witness stand and sought to defend his act by invoking the unwritten law, stating that he became mad with rage when he discovered that Bjorneby had usurped his place.

FAILURE OF INDIA RISING PREDICTED

British Lieutenant States Revolt Will Collapse Due to Lack of Leadership

India's insurrection will collapse within a short time from sheer lack of its own weight and lack of active, inspired leadership, George Douglas Cookson, 34 years of age, a lieutenant of the Gordon Highlanders and son of a retired district manager of the London Midland and Scottish Railway, declared on arrival yesterday from Birmingham, Eng., on the Los Angeles Limited.

GEORGE D. COOKSON

"British stolidity and permanence are the bulwarks against which the movement inaugurated two months ago by Mahatma Gandhi must inevitably collapse, whether the salt insurrection is passive or active resistance," Mr. Cookson explained.

Reports of unemployment in England have been exaggerated, the visitor said, as railroad traffic is on the increase and operation of many coal mines has been resumed. He added that England has great faith in Ramsay MacDonald and predicted continued retention of his Cabinet.

Mr. Cookson was met at Central Station by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Cookson, 817 Parkview street, Los Angeles resident for two years.

Swedish Groups Preparing Fete

Eighteen Swedish societies are participating. About 5000 persons are expected. Miss Gerda Nord is to sing and the crowning of the midsummer queen is one of the events that will attract the younger folk.

Padlock Asked for Roadhouse

Suit was filed yesterday in the United States District Court by Asst. U. S. Atty. Sommers against the Plantation roadhouse at Main and Una street, San Diego. It is asserted that Federal dry agents made ten purchases of liquor at the place.

The government seeks to declare the place a nuisance and restrain it from further operation. Others named as defendants are Ludalia D. Mueller and James Moore, owners.

SKELETON DECLARED NOT BAUMGARTEKER'S

Captain of Detectives Condaffer, head of the police homicide detail, yesterday received a letter from Dist.-Atty. Heald of Imperial county stating that the body of a man found in a shallow grave near Brawley recently is positively not that of Frank Baumgarteker, wealthy Los Angeles vineyardist, whose disappearance last November has remained a police mystery. The Imperial county official reports the decision was reached after a careful comparison of Baumgarteker's teeth charts with those of the unearthed skeleton.

TWO FOUND GUILTY OF ROBBERIES

Farrell and Gourdin Face Sentence as Hold-ups; Appeal Indicated

Despite the testimony of John Williams, Federal narcotic agent, that Daniel D. Farrell was working as an undercover agent for him in El Monte at the time he was accused of committing two robberies, Farrell was convicted on two charges of first-degree robbery by a jury in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday.

George Gourdin, codefendant with Farrell, also was convicted. Both defendants were ordered returned to court Monday at 9:30 a.m. for sentence.

They were charged with robbing Robert M. Payne of 4798 Alhambra avenue, and Miss Alice Pryor, his companion, of $10 in cash and a watch valued at $25 while they sat in a parked car at Eastern avenue and Huntington Drive. The second charge accused the defendants of robbing W. E. Taylor, service-station operator of 928 South Boyle avenue, of $15.

George Damon, attorney for Farrell and Gourdin, indicated yesterday that he will appeal the case.

Two Boys Hurt, Each Seriously, in Auto Crashes

Two small boys, one 9 years of age and the other 3, received severe injuries yesterday as a part of the toll of automobile accidents for Friday the 13th. Billy Ashman, 3, of 221 North Boylston street, suffered a basal skull fracture when he ran into the rear wheel of an automobile driven by a neighbor, P. E. Smith, 220 North Boylston street.

Smith was not aware that the boy had been injured until a passer-by shouted to him. The boy was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where physicians said his condition is serious.

John Shubin, 9, 314 South Gless street, was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a basal skull fracture received when he rode his bicycle into the side of a car driven by Jack B. Kasaress, 317 South Bodie street. The accident occurred near the corner of First and Pecan streets.

Court Delays Widow's Suit Against Lloyd

United States District Judge Cosgrave yesterday continued the suit of Mrs. Sadie S. Witwer, widow of H. C. Witwer, author, and also executrix of his estate, against the Harold Lloyd Corporation.

Mrs. Witwer is suing for an asserted infringement of copyright of one of Witwer's stories. Lloyd, one of the witnesses, was to have appeared, but his deposition was taken and he left to make a motion picture at Honolulu. The case probably will be called for trial early next week.

Mrs. Witwer asserts that a story submitted by her late husband to the Lloyd Corporation was used as a basis for one of the comedian's comedies.

MRS. LANGDON SOBS ON STAND

Denies Present Mate Stole Her from O'Brien

That all the love and affection for her first husband, Thomas J. O'Brien, had been banished from her heart by his cruelty and mistreatment years before she met and married Harry Langdon, film comedian, was the assertion yesterday of his present wife, Mrs. Helen Langdon, his star witness in defense of the suit brought against him on three promissory notes aggregating $11,500.

Mrs. Langdon, after a tedious day of examination conducted by her husband's attorney, Paul Schenck, was under cross-examination by Attorney Bayard R. Rountree when court adjourned at 4:30 p.m. until Tuesday at 10 a.m. Once during her direct examination, when being asked about some most intimate relations between her and O'Brien during the last days they were together, Mrs. Langdon broke down on the stand and wept. A recess was taken until she regained her composure.

DODGING NOTORIETY

While the suit is an action on three promissory notes, in reality it is one for damages directed against the comedian asserting he stole the love and affections of the woman while she was the wife of O'Brien, a steel engraver.

The three notes, one for $1500 and two for $5000, along with $15,000 in cash, were given, according to Langdon, in a settlement to prevent O'Brien from instituting a $250,000 heart-balm action against him. The notes have never been paid.

In his defense the comedian asserts he made the agreement to avoid the notoriety of an alienation-of-affections suit, also to aid Mrs. O'Brien and her little daughter, Virginia.

ROW STARTS AT ALTAR

Mrs. Langdon has been on the witness stand ever since the trial began testifying in behalf of the actor. Under the questioning of Attorney Schenck she sketched a picture of a life of constant quarrels and bickering while living with O'Brien, from the day they were married, November 26, 19.., at Toledo, O., until their separation in 1927. She said O'Brien quarreled with her on the church steps the day they were married and kept it up for years.

From the witness stand she emphatically denied she had been guilty of any misconduct with Langdon after he came into her life in 1923, when she went to work in pictures in Hollywood.

Mrs. Langdon said she first met Harry Langdon in September, 1923, when she applied for work in the motion pictures at a casting agency in Hollywood. It was years later, however, before their relations ripened into friendship.

SUICIDE SECRET UNSOLVED

Why Comely Red-Haired Widow Took Her Own Life Proves Unanswerable at Inquest

Whatever the motive that prompted Mrs. Kathleen Parrish Walsh, comely red-haired widow, to fire a bullet through her heart Wednesday night in her Hollywood apartment it is likely forever to remain a mystery, for a Coroner's jury yesterday could find no reason why she should seek death by self-destruction.

The jury listened for an hour or so to testimony that told of recent fits of despondency and development of suicidal tendencies, and then returned a verdict that she shot herself through the heart with suicidal intent.

Mrs. Walsh once was questioned in the investigation of the death of Mrs. Dorothy Moormeister last February in Salt Lake City, but only once was that case mentioned at the inquest.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses asked Detective F. E. Jaggers, a friend of Mrs. Walsh, who found her body, if she ever seemed affected by being questioned by Sheriff Patten of Salt Lake City about the Moormeister murder. Jaggers replied negatively, and declared that Mrs. Walsh did not know Mrs. Moormeister.

During the inquest the Sheriff's office received a request from Sheriff Patten at Salt Lake City asking that he be supplied with a copy of the transcript of the testimony and it will be forwarded immediately.

The principal witness was Detective Jaggers. He told the jury that he had befriended the woman and had induced her to attend night school to better her position, but he said recently she had become extremely despondent. Once, he said, he found her unconscious from self-administered gas, but revived her.

Tuesday, he said, they had a slight quarrel and he left. She obtained a revolver several hours later, lay down on the bed and shot herself.

Elva Pack of 6557 Fourth avenue, a schoolgirl friend of the dead woman, was another witness and formally identified the body of Mrs. Walsh.

Today the body will be shipped to Salt Lake City to foster-relatives of Mrs. Walsh for burial, which appears due to be the last chapter in the more or less mysterious life and death of the attractive 25-year-old Austrian immigrant girl, who left her mother in New York soon after arrival in America, was adopted by a Utah family and here slew herself without revealing a reason.

When filling a fruit jar or jelly glass, put a silver knife or spoon into the jar or glass before pouring in the hot jelly or fruit and it will not break. If receptacle is very fragile it should also be placed on a damp cloth before pouring in hot liquids.

For relief of irritation from the use of too much iodine apply a paste of thin, cooked starch. Iodine can be removed by washing it with alcohol.

Don't you think this is just the very time to have those fluff rugs made from the carpets you have discarded? The Hoffman Rug Works of 2914 W. Jefferson street (EMpire 2048) do such work remarkably well and very reasonably. They also make Colonial rugs from rags.

When fixing the baby's bottle, hold a piece of white twine across the opening of the bottle and slip the nipple over it and it will not close or stick together; if baby pulls the string, cut it close to the nipple. Use new twine for each feeding; the nipples also last twice as long. A solution of baking soda and water left to stand in the bottles after washing will keep them sweet.

You know you just can't get along in the summer—or any other season of the year—without the Laura C. Scudder famous "Mayflower Brand of Potato Chips." They are perfectly delicious spread with peanut butter and served as appetizers. Ever use them that way? Try it, but be sure you get the Mayflower brand, won't you?

Egg shampoo—Beat the whites of two eggs as stiff as possible; take all of the egg, a handful at a time, and rub it in the scalp with a light circular movement of the fingers. Dry the hair in the sun for twenty minutes; then brush it with a cleaning brush for several minutes. This leaves the hair clean and fluffy.

And now for another cooling summer beverage which, it goes without saying, calls for Guasti Pure Concentrated Grape Juice, that product par excellence of the Italian Vineyard Company, whose address you will want if you have any difficulty in buying this Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice. 1248 Palmetto street is the address; MUtual 2124 the phone number. They will direct you to the nearest dealer or see that you are supplied at once! Today's recipe is the best ever and, oh, how your family and guests will rave over it when they taste it! Copy it this very minute before you forget it and try it out "pronto."

Guasti Punch

Add 1 quart water, 1 cupful lemon juice, 2 cupfuls orange juice, 1 cupful grapefruit juice, 1 cupful pineapple juice to one 16-ounce can of Guasti Pure Concentrated Grape Juice. Garnish bowl with sliced orange and lemon.

Arthur M. Werner—th Custom Shirt Maker, whose address is 111 S. Spring (MUtual 1589) makes shirts to individual measurements and does repairing and altering of all kinds such as changing collar bands, turning frayed cuffs and collars and shortening sleeves.

Fruit cream pie—Bake the crust the same as for lemon pie and fill the shell with cream filling; whip one cupful of cream, add ½ cupful of more of strained fruit pulp and pile it on top of the cream filling. Fresh fruit, such as raspberries, strawberries or peaches may be used, or stewed prunes or apricots may take the place of fresh fruit.

Isn't it great to know that your old clothes and articles about the house you do not have any further need for will do so much good if sent to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department of 712 Maple avenue. TUcker 1203 Then just think what a worthy charity you thus contribute to—helping some wee lad or lassie to get well and strong and be happy.

For external burns caused by lye, wash them freely with a large quantity of water, and apply a dressing of olive oil or cottonseed oil.

When bathing baby, fold a thick turkish towel and lay it in the bottom of the bath to prevent slipping or injury from a fall.

If the bottom of your silver coffee pot has gotten out of shape by the heat of the stove take it up to the Peerless Platers of 239½ S. Spring street (upstairs.) They do all kinds of repair work; replating of silver and gold and, my word, but their prices are reasonable; so take in your silver pieces to them soon to be mended and cleaned.

Freckle remedy—Grate a fresh horseradish root very fine, cover it with fresh buttermilk, or sour milk, and let it stand over night; then strain it through cheesecloth, and bathe the skin night and morning with the liquid, letting it dry on. Cream from sweet milk, if rubbed in the skin and then gently wiped off with absorbent cotton before going into the sun, will prevent freckles.

tronomical laboratory, which will house much of the research of the institute's 200-inch telescope.

The giant instrument itself will be assembled and many of the parts constructed in these buildings, which will represent an expenditure of approximately $2,000,000.

Definite provision for the ultimate large expansion of the Robert Roe Blacker and Nellie Canfield Blacker Scholarship and Research Endowment Fund is one of the major events of the year looking toward the rounding out of the institute's program, Dr. Millikan asserted.

DR. BUWALDA'S TALK

"The Geological Sciences and Human Progress," was the topic of Dr. Buwalda's commencement address.

Dr. Buwalda, who came to the institute from the University of California, traced the development of geological science and noted the important parts it is playing in shaping human philosophy and in assisting the oil and mining industries.

"The promulgation of the evolution theory by Darwin in the last century," he asserted, "gave an entirely new outlook on the problem of man's place in nature.

"The concept derived from the biological doctrine that present living things were evolved by modification of earlier species now extinct has been extended to many other fields of thought and activity; we speak of the evolution of the earth, of the solar system, of the universe, of the elements, of social customs, of republican government, of religion.

"Underlying this mental attitude is the recognition that we understand people, things, phenomena, only when we know their past and how they came to be what they are—in short, when we know their evolutionary history, their place in a dynamic scheme of things.

"Darwin, however, did not consider his biological doctrine as proven; he stated very frankly that the final demonstration of the validity of the theory of evolution should be looked for in the rocks in the form of fossil remains of the long chain of the ancestral species. It is to the glory of the science of paleontology that this prophecy of Darwin's has been fulfilled and that the lineage of many groups of creatures, and of man himself, have now been quite satisfactorily established.

"The general theory of the origin of species by descent with modifications ha sbeen proved to the satisfaction of the majority of reasonable persons who are acquainted with the facts, even if the cause and mechanism of biological evolution are not as yet completely understood.

"In any broad view of human aspirations, I think we must agree with Dr. Millikan, when he states, in his recent book that in the last analysis, "There is nothing that is practically important at all except our ideals, our group of concepts about the nature of the world and our place in it, for out of these springs all our conduct."

Rev. Edward Archibald Thompson, pastor of First Congregational Church of Pasadena, gave the pastor's address, and music was furnished by the institute's orchestra.

LONG BEACH, June 13.—Superior Judge Crawford this morning took under advisement his ruling on the defendant's motion for what in effect is a directed verdict of dismissal in the Signal Hill gas conservation case.

Argument by the State and operators' attorneys were concluded this morning on the motion asking the court to deny a temporary injunction, relieve the oil operators from presenting testimony and order the case dismissed. The court will rule on the motion next Wednesday morning. If the motion is denied testimony on behalf of the operators will start; if it is granted the case will end.

Today's Bible Text

For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.—2 Cor. 1:5.

THE TARGET

RUBBER

Modern business is elastic, says a trade magazine. Check and double check! We heard a man stretching the truth in a deal just the other day.

FELLOW

A youthful Hollywood astronomer has been made a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society with headquarters in London, Eng. Dwelling in the heart of moviedom would seem to qualify a man as a regular fellow with the stars.

SEVEN-CENT PIECE

A 7-cent piece may be coined to accommodate the street car and telephone companies of the cities. The vast majority of people, however, would be perfectly satisfied with the good, old reliable nickel.

STOLEN

Only $10,000,000 worth of property was stolen in New York City last year, boasts a Gotham journal. However, it should be taken into account that some things are called playing the stock market.

HARNESS

An American harness company that has been doing business for ninety-six years has just passed out of existence. Possibly for lack of anything on which to clap its products! The institutions that are hitching up mountain streams and thunderbolts are in the game today.

MACHINE AGE

Canada and the United States use about $23.60 worth of machinery per person. England comes next with about $11 worth. China, India and Java have about 30 to 40 cents' worth apiece, says Editor Crombie of the Vancouver Sun. The supremacy of some countries is easily understood. Nature is built for those who work sympathetically with her. We may suffer from overproduction and our farmers may be crying for relief; but we have no decimating famines in America. They may accuse us of standardizing everything; but our machines have slain the wolves at the door.

VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVICE

In an office requiring more than ordinary ability and attention to public business, State Controller Riley of San Bernardino has served the people of California for many years with great efficiency and credit. He is a candidate for re-election and deserves the support of those who approve capable management of an office so closely related to taxation and governmental finances.

Few public officials in the State have demonstrated a deeper understanding of the vital relationship existing between the service rendered by government and the price which the people must pay for such service. The State Controller is not responsible for State expenditures and does not fix tax rates, but it is his duty to inform himself on all aspects of State finances and to convey this information to the people.

Controller Riley has an efficient organization giving strict attention to the business of the State. He is an active member of the Republican party and in his earlier plans for seeking his party's nomination for Governor he had State-wide and substantial support. However, the administration of the Controller's office under Mr. Riley has not been handicapped either by personal or factional politics.

He has devoted profitable time to a study of the science of government and is recognized as an authority on the subject. The functions of his office require integrity, intelligence, training and energy. Mr. Riley possesses all of these essentials and his retirement from public office would be a loss. Happily it seems at this date that he will have no formidable opposition in his plans for re-election.

The Times indorses his candidacy and recommends him unreservedly as an officer of government in whom public trust has been well placed.

THE COLISEUM

Whatever changes the City Council may make in Mayor Porter's budget, there is one item that ought by all means to remain undisturbed. That is the allocation from the permanent improvement fund of $227,200 for the construction of Unit B at the Coliseum. If this appropriation is made, benefits will flow which cannot be equaled by any other appropriation of a similar amount of money for any project in the city. If it is not made, the whole schedule for the Olympic Games in 1932 will be thrown out of joint, the good faith of the city's pledge to the Berlin games conference challenged and the public will be enormously and unnecessarily inconvenienced.

It is being asserted that the permanent improvement fund is already overappropriated. This is true in a bookkeeping sense only. Practically, the drafts upon the fund to which reference is made in such assertions are so far in the future as to have no present significance. The Board of Supervisors has provided $227,200 for the county's equal share of the Unit B improvements and there is no genuine reason why the City Council cannot follow suit. Indeed, it is under moral obligation to do so and cannot back out without a breach of faith.

This follows from the representations made to the Olympic committee at its recent meeting in Berlin by the Los Angeles delegates, when a definite pledge was given that the Coliseum would be completed long before the Olympic Games are to start, predicated upon the letting of the Unit B contract this summer. City and county authorities backed up this pledge at the time by cable to Berlin, and a very embarrassing situation will be created if it is now repudiated. Both city and county assumed a moral obligation to push the improvement work to early completion at the time they took over the Coliseum contract. If the Coliseum had been left in unofficial hands there would have been no doubt that it would have been pushed.

The most important schedule of football games in several years is slated for the Coliseum this fall, with two or three struggles that will certainly tax its capacity. Unit A, which is now under construction, does not enlarge the seating capacity; it merely provides concrete in place of the wooden structure that formerly supported the upper tiers of seats. It is Unit B that adds approximately 25,000 seats to the structure and if the contract is let this summer for Unit B, a large proportion of these additional seats will be available for the big games scheduled for November. That they will be needed is plain from the sellouts of past seasons in similar games.

Then, too, Unit B contains all the changes that will be required for the Olympic Games, such as the shift in the size of the track from 440 yards to 400 meters, the promenade, new illumination, new scoreboards, a new communications system and the like, all adding to the convenience of the public. There is no reason why most of this work should not start to earn money this fall, which it will do if it is made available for the 1930 football season.

The 1931 track and field games offer another good reason for making the changes now. The Coliseum was out of use this spring because of the Unit A work and track and field meets customarily conducted there had to be shifted to other fields. If the Unit B contract is postponed until next spring, another track season will pass without games in the Coliseum and local athletes who may be preparing for the Olympic Games will be denied the advantage of practice in the structure where the games will take place.

Furthermore, starting the Unit B work this summer will give employment to many men who need jobs, put money into profitable circulation and aid in the return of prosperity. Next summer such employment may not be so badly needed.

THE FLAG

The American flag is more loved today than it has ever been. The war did one thing. It inspired new respect for the flag. Nothing brings a concourse of people to its feet quicker than the approach of the Stars and Stripes.

And it is not mere ceremony. It is a genuine expression of affection. There was a time when Old Glory had become just a stand cover at a political meeting, or a new coat for the hood of a car; or a piece of bunting to decorate a place of business. With some it had degenerated into a billboard upon which to advertise.

It could be hung from any corner at any time and in any place. However, it had a new birth in 1914 to 1918. Our legislators understood and enacted laws with reference to its use. It was dry-cleaned of all commercialism and hung against the sky in new dignity and honor. Its stars were restored to the heavens where they belong.

It is true it had all this high regard in certain periods before. It was the center of rally in '97. It was greatly beloved and revered from '61 to '65. It was esteemed in 1812. It was in the hearts of the fathers in the old days when the Thirteen States gave it its number of stripes and constellation of stars. But how quickly we forget!

We may forget again! It is possible that a new race of youngsters may come that never paid for it in blood. They may not realize its cost. They may not appreciate its sacrifices. They may forget its demands in times of crisis. Humanity so easily slights the sufferings of others. New reminders may be required through the years. The pitiful thing about the race is that each generation seems to need its new birth of freedom.

The great brotherhoods were founded by men who had toiled together and suffered together. These institutions may fall back into mere insurance companies or social clubs in time; but they were cemented together by blood in the beginning.

Each age has had its periods of marked vicarious suffering; but the sacrifices of one time do not seem to last. Each seems to need its own Valley Forge, its own Gettysburg, its own Argonne Forest to appreciate its benefits.

Little dreaming where the flag has been or where it may lead, we follow it with a hurrah. Not knowing the cold and fright of the zero hour that enshrined it in the hearts of men, we throw up our hats in a frenzy of jingoism. We prate about our privileges and accept the benefits conferred upon us like honorary degrees. We yelp about our blood-bought boons and turn to trivialities.

One of the perils of peace is forgetfulness. Why we have to be bereft of our treasures that we may know their value, is one of the mysteries. The jingoist has his best talking point in the frailty of reverence. It is amazing that only hateful war seems to be able to arouse the loftiest patriotism. It seems that we learn some of our deepest lessons only in the academy of affliction. Nature seems to be able to stir up our nobler selves and keep our high-mindedness alive by pain alone. If peace softens us and robs us of heroic qualities, then it were better that we fill unknown graves and have our Gold Star mothers make a pilgrimage of tears.

The war lord fattens and battens on bad memories!

HOME FOR AGED JEWS

Jewish charity is proverbial. Los Angeles Jewry has already provided generously for its sick, its needy and its orphaned children. It is now engaged in completing this social program by providing shelter and comfort for the aged.

The old cottages built long ago on South Boyle avenue to take care of aged Hebrew men and women have been condemned by the fire department. An emergency fund campaign is under way for the erection of a new Hebrew Sheltering Home for the Aged, to house not only the fifty old people who face expulsion from the Boyle-avenue cottages, but as many more who are waiting for admission to this haven.

To carry out the present plans of the building finance committee a sum of $150,000 is still needed, not a large sum to ask of a big-hearted community for so noble an object. In times past the Jewish residents of Los Angeles have raised many times this required sum for the destitute in other lands.

So the building finance committee is making a special appeal to those blessed with health and prosperity, assured positions and comfortable homes to come to the rescue of their co-religionists, debarred by the infirmities of age from any further active part in their own support. Their work in the world is done. To see that they are not cast off on the wayside like worn-out garments is more than a charitable sentiment—it is a solemn and holy duty.

Phrendhoff Manne Has Another Attack

Phrendhoff Manne, the peripatetic philosopher of Ourville, called on us yesterday with another of his wild proposals.

"There really ought," he said, "to be a cafeteria-plan hospital. Last week my wife fell from a nut tree from which she was picking my breakfast and taken to a hospital, unconscious. Everything there was as modern, efficient and pleasant as could be and the nurses were soothingly attentive and thoughtful. But while she was lying there, still only semiconscious, they brought her a nice, ample, steaming-hot dinner.

"Of course she couldn't eat a bite, couldn't even take a sip of water. All night long she was distressingly nauseated from the shock—and so in the morning they brought her a hearty breakfast. Again she couldn't touch a bite, and it was the same at lunch. Then, in the afternoon, a doctor who knew about diet—which so many doctors don't—came and told her that for the next day or so, or till the upset condition passed—she shouldn't attempt to swallow anything but strained grapefruit juice and water, half and half.

"I told a friend about it, and he said my wife had got off lucky—that two hours after his wife had undergone a major operation in a hospital which boasts that it feeds 'em well they brought her a lovely steak surrounded by fried potatoes.

"So I feel that we can easily become millionaires by launching a new hospital giving one his choice of American, European and cafeteria plans. It might help, too, if all the doctors on the staff would take at least a correspondence course in dietetics. I wish to capitalize at $2,000,000, putting in the idea as $1,000,000 and allowing my associates to put up the other $1,000,000 in cash. And I feel that such a hospital would be so unique that it would undoubtedly draw 'em from far and near."

BILL WHEELER ANNOUNCING

Make Your Wheel Chairs Your Stepping Stones

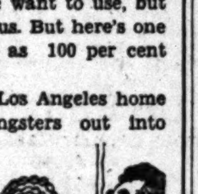
Houghton Mifflin announce "Tharlane" as a "a great novel of Australian life" by the author of "The Singing Gold," Dorothy Cottrell. Private advices also assure us that the publishers think Dorothy Cottrell is an author whose career is just starting. They think enough of her work to put sizable advertisements, with art, in the newspapers to tell about it.

We noticed the advertisement on The Times book page and were struck by the effectiveness of the art. We wondered, too, why a "great novel of Australian life" was being so featured here. We asked who this Dorothy Cottrell is, who writes so compellingly of the great outdoors.

Dorothy Cottrell is an invalid, a wheel-chair invalid, who lives on the bluffs overlooking the south shore of Lake Elsinore. She is an Australian by birth, but more English than London in her speech and a Southern Californian by choice. She has made her life in a wheel chair blossom into two noteworthy books, one of which the publishers consider really great. And they and her friends confidently look forward to other books.

What Could Be Sweeter?

Because we sometimes write of our children, many readers write us of theirs. The other day we were told a delightful story about a Santa Monica youngster, which we want to use, but it has slipped from us. But here's one which strikes us as 100 per cent natural!



The mother in a Los Angeles home had led all her youngsters out into the kitchen for a whispered consultation. "We want to make the very best kind of impression on our guest today," she told them. "It is very important to your father and to me that he should be charmed with the behavior of all of you. So please be just as polite to him, as thoughtful of him, as you can be. And, of course, you mustn't ever say anything while he is speaking or unless you think it will add to his pleasure."

Dinner was very quiet for a while. Then the guest spilled something on the cloth and apologized profusely.

"Oh, it's perfectly all right," the hostess assured him. "You mustn't let it worry you an instant."

"Yes," spoke up the little daughter, sweetly. "It's really perfectly all right, Mr.—Butterfingers!"

THE JAPANESE QUOTA QUESTION

[Detroit Free Press]

The Japanese quota question ought not to be broached in Congress as Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee has suggested may be done either presently or next winter, unless the members of the Senate and House are prepared to act affirmatively on a proposal to relieve the islanders of their present disability with respect to entrance into the United States, and place them on a regular quota basis under the general restrictive immigration law.

There is a strain on the friendship between America and Nippon because of the present complete exclusion here of immigrants from the latter country. The reasons why Tokio resents the exclusion are well known and need not be recited. Neither is it of first importance whether they are good reasons or poor reasons. They exist, and are a threat to present and future good understanding.

The resentment that has arisen, and with cause, in Mexico, because of the introduction in Congress of a bill which purposes taking from its people the right of free ingress into the United States, ought to be sufficient warning of what is likely to occur in Japan in case an abortive effort to give the people of that country quota rights is made. Such an occurrence will be interpreted as a fresh slap in the face.

We believe Japanese ought to have quota rights: but we also believe that Congress should know its own mind before taking up the matter in the form of a bill. Such a measure should be treated from the standpoint of the highest, most enlightened statesmanship, or should not be considered at all.

THE JINGO CHORUS

[New York World]

Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Wakatsuki and Mr. Stimson overlooked a great opportunity when they were in London. Under Article II of the treaty, which provides for the scrapping of some battleships, they should also have provided for the temporary exchange of admirals and big-navy opponents. It would be most helpful if Mr. Winston Churchill could be imported to Washington to show the Senate how Mr. Stimson waylaid Mr. MacDonald, if the General Board could be exported to London to show how the wily Britons seduced the innocent Americans, if Senator Johnson could be wafted to Japan to show how America was bamboozled, and if a few Japanese admirals could be produced in Washington to demonstrate what a terrible bargain the Yankees forced the Japanese to accept. For by the testimony of the big-navy groups in all three nations this three-power limitation treaty is a triangular disaster. Everybody defeated everybody else. We are all ruined and we are all defenseless. The British, who, according to Mr. Churchill, have never been so nearly defenseless since the reign of Charles II, are at the mercy of an American fleet that, according to the General Board, is very nearly impotent. It does not make sense. It is not meant to make sense.

One might say of the jingoes in all countries what Mr. Dooley once said of two Presidential candidates: that they are as far apart as the two poles and as much alike.

THE ICONOCLAST AT THE CANYON

BY FRED HOGUE

At sunrise we were bidding farewell to the hills of Hollywood, at sunset we were camping under the stars and a crescent moon on the green banks of the tawny Colorado.

Counted among the elect are they who name California as their homeland and Los Angeles as their residence; but even a paradise palls without an occasional change of scenery and environment. So concluded Chris, Harry and I one night after we had returned from a premiere that bored us in Hollywood.

We agreed to pack our mess kits and blankets in a touring car and depart for an aimless, timeless excursion over the mesas and through the mountains of the great southern deserts; to visit the canyons, the pa. and the forests of the three great scenic States to the east of us—Arizona, Utah and New Mexico.

Harry packed his easel, brushes and palette, for he was going to paint. I packed my portable typewriter, with extra tablets and an extra ribbon, for I was going to write. Chris packed his guitar and harmonica, for he hoped from communion with nature's orchestras to find themes for new melodies.

All morning we traveled over the foothill boulevard, through the enchanted villages of Southern California, where every bungalow is an enchanted villa half hidden in a garden of palms and flowers; through the fruit-laden uplands, where the last oranges were being picked and the spring flowers were a riot of blooms.

We lunched under lush green water poplars on the banks of a silver stream just east of Cajon Pass. The highway over the pass is a paved boulevard, wide enough in most places for four machines to move abreast. Harry Wagoner, the artist of Pasadena and Palm Springs, was driving. He negotiated the pass easily without changing gear.

Cajon Pass is now one of the great arteries of commerce, joining the East and West. Through it pass the Santa Fe lines, United States Highway No. 66, the lines of half a dozen stage routes connecting Los Angeles with points of Arizona made accessible by the new highway bridge at Needles on the Colorado, and at least two transcontinental air lines.

As we lay under the poplars there was a steady hum of passing cars on the highway; for it was the beginning of June and the Southern California influx of motor tourists over the northern route had begun. A passenger train eastbound and two long freight trains passed. Then came the hum of motors overhead, for two great broad-winged airplanes were winging their flight eastward.

New villages are springing up each year along the northern route and, I am told, along the southern route as well. Traveling motorists must be fed, cared for at night and their cars refueled and conditioned. This northern highway, No. 66, stretches all the way back to Chicago and caring for the traveling tourists has become an important industry in which tens of thousands of persons are engaged.

There are spacious, luxuriously equipped tourist hotels for the accommodation of the wealthy, as well as imposing garages and thousands of service stations. Then there are cabins in sheltered auto camps for those who wish to stay with their cars, and again free camping stations for those who carry their bedding along and sleep in the open. The feeding stations range all the way from the lunch counters to first-class restaurants. In many of the villages the grocery stores are supported by the ambulatory trade.

I was surprised to find on the California side of the Colorado so few pedestrian tourists. I am sure we did not pass so many as fifty in a distance of 250 miles.

East of Barstow we passed over the frontiers of the Southern California paradise and bearded the lava desert in its lair. Here the only sign of civilization was along the highway. On either side stretched away the waste of black lava rock, until it faded into the base of the sentinel mountains, treeless and grim that formed barriers blocking the horizon, like the jagged sky line of a great city.

Spring had passed this way and tiny desert flowers of countless varieties sent forth their delicate, fragrant blooms—white, purple, blue, yellow, pink and red—in the shadows of the rocks.

Harry, the artist, was interested. He parked by the side of the highway and we counted eight different species of flowering plants in a space not more than ten feet square.

Motoring over the lava desert on a June afternoon has its discomforts. The desert sun is pitiless in summer and the desert winds are hot and dry. Many persons traveling over the northern route in summer prefer to leave Los Angeles in the middle of the afternoon, to reach Barstow by sunset and drive in the blue summer night over the lava desert to Needles.

We did not find this part of the drive especially discomforting, however. The swift movement of the car provided its own breeze; the highway is wide, well paved and driving is not nearly so difficult or hazardous as in the traffic of a big city.

We started at 9 o'clock in the morning and were in Needles on the Colorado at sunset.

And Needles and the Colorado are worth a trip across the lava desert.

The Colorado is destined to become one of the most renowned of the rivers of the world. For wild, natural scenery it is nowhere surpassed. It is the only river of importance that carries its waters across the great desert from the northern ranges of the Rockies to the sea. While it is not navigable the value of its waters for power and agriculture is almost inestimable.

I have followed its 100-mile course from Yuma to the Gulf of Lower California and can easily envisage a population along its banks equal to that of the valley of the Nile or the Guadalquivir.

Needles is more of a cosmopolis, considering its population, than any other city I can recall. Three living civilizations and at least two vanished ones have passed that way. Its present population is composed of members of probably a score of Indian tribes, of Mexicans of native or Spanish descent and of American descendants of probably a dozen European peoples.

I was in the little city only an hour, but, during that time I heard five different languages that I distinguished spoken and saw some Indians conversing in their sign language. Mexicanized Spanish predominated.

I alighted from the car at a corner on a main street. At the corner was a barber shop. Two plump, comely Indian girls were swinging their slippered feet in the two barber chairs—getting their blue-black straight hair bobbed, while half a dozen male customers of mixed nationalities and races waited patiently their turns.

Portly squaws were everywhere, waddling like ducks when they walked. They have learned to bob their hair, but not to reduce. Waiting about the station were a dozen squaws, past middle age and averaging about 200 pounds on the hoof. They were wearing colored scarfs and head-dress to attract the tourists and were offering for sale carved and colored Indian bows that a buck would scorn to carry on the trail; also strings of colored beads made from shells.

Needles derives its name from a series of about ten jagged mountain peaks that rise up to block the horizon almost sheer from the banks of the Colorado just south of the interstate bridges. They resemble more the fingers and thumb of a giant's hand than needles. But needles the first pioneers and prospectors called them when they saw them on the western horizon from the foothills of the Black Mountains on the Arizona side of the Colorado.

They are notable in color at sunrise and sunset; come into full view from train or auto from the Colorado River bridges south of Needles and are well worth looking for.

Sunrise of the second day. We have repacked our bed rolls and mess kit and are about to depart for the Black Mountain country, the land of lost mines and Indian legends without number.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Perspective on Man?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A perspective on human behavior is the aim of the modern problems class at Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard. All phenomena are studied—economics, religion, education, politics and psychology—with the questions in mind: What is man? Why does he behave as he does? How can he regulate himself or his behavior to his environment to obtain happiness?

Visitors are welcome and are invited to take part in the discussions. The class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in room 150, on the first floor of the main building from 7 to 9 p.m. There is no charge of any kind and people of all ages, including tourists, are welcome.

The school is reached by the "U," "W" and "I" cars.

INVENTORS PROLIFIC

A number of times in the history of the world men have predicted that the age of invention is past and that there is nothing left to invent. But it seems, according to the records of the Patent Office of the Department of Commerce, that never have inventors been as prolific with patentable ideas as now. The office is practically swamped with labor-saving device patents and safety inventions, with aviation and submarine patents. It is estimated that it will take six years to catch up with investigations of the present patent applications, numbering 111,757. Yet an inventive inventor threatens to refuse to divulge his latest idea unless prison bars are removed! Plainly, he has little sympathy for the Patent Office workers. F. H. H.

Harvey W. Gilbert

TEXAS PORT BACKER HAS HIGH HOPES

Development of Business With Pacific Coast Said to be Notable Now

Harvey W. Gilbert, chairman of the Beaumont-Port Arthur (Tex.) Industrial Commission, arrived in Los Angeles last night for a week's conference with industrial leaders pertaining to waterway traffic between California and Texas ports. Mr. Gilbert, who is an extensive landowner in Texas, is interested in developing steamship shipping between the Beaumont-Port Arthur harbor and Los Angeles.

"The astounding growth of Los Angeles during the last ten years is not surprising to us back in Texas," asserted Mr. Gilbert. "Our own towns have grown in proper ratio. We have been depending on the steamship lines that run from our ports to New York. We have begun to realize that Los Angeles is more accessible by the steamer channels than New York.

"Goods can be exchanged between Texas ports and Los Angeles much cheaper than between eastern cities. We have come to realize that the Pacific Coast offers us better advantages and quicker profits than the Atlantic ports. Our shipping business in the metropolitan area of Beaumont and Port Arthur offers a year-around employment to more than 45,000 men.

"I am out here to boost the ports of Texas. We are building a canal from New Orleans to Brownsville and from there to the sea. This development will open up the interior of Texas to the rest of the world, and we believe that the Pacific Coast is our best bet."

Mayor Rolph Speaks Before Lunch Crowd

More than 400 men and women greeted Mayor Rolph of San Francisco at a noon luncheon at the Alexandria yesterday and pledged their support of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor. The luncheon was arranged by the Mayor's local committee.

"We need confidence in capital and labor to create more employment for our citizens and the entire State for constructive work," said Mayor Rolph. "To have people happy and contented prosperity must again reign in every section of California. If elected Governor I shall do everything in my power to help bring about such a condition."

The Mayor will speak tonight at Avalon before the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Los Angeles county, representing seventy civic bodies. Tomorrow he will go by plane to Modesto, Turlock and San Francisco.

Two Contract Awards Made

The contract for paving and widening Sunset Boulevard from Normandie avenue to Havenhurst Drive was awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works at $563,647.88. This stretch is about four miles long. The trees adorning the street are to be retained.

The board also awarded, at $436,129.44, the contract for improvements in the Main street and Ninetieth street district. This improvement consists of seven miles of permanent paving and seventeen miles of sewers, curbs and sidewalks.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PRESERVED WHOLE STRAWBERRIES

Simmer for twenty minutes mashed strawberries, adding no sugar, strain the juice in a jelly bag, and to each two cupfuls of the juice add two cupfuls of sugar, allow the juice to reach the boiling point, then add the sugar, skim and let it boil until thick, have whole strawberries washed and hulled, place them in hot glasses, and pour the syrup over them, being careful not to have too many berries in each glass, allow to cool, cover the tops with waxed paper, and set in the sun daily for one month.

FRICASEED CALVES' LIVER AND NOODLES

One-half pound of liver, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, a seasoning of paprika, three tablespoonfuls of flour, three tablespoonfuls of shortening, one-half teaspoonful of celery salt, one teaspoonful of poultry seasoning, three medium-sized tomatoes, two medium-sized green peppers, six small onions, one and one-half cupfuls of cooked noodles. Pour boiling water over the liver, allow to stand for five minutes, then drain, wipe dry, and dredge with the flour, then brown quickly in shortening, cut the vegetables into quarters and when the liver is browned, add the vegetables and two cupfuls of boiling water, add the seasonings, and cook until the vegetables are tender. Place the mixture in the center of a large platter and surround it with the noodles.

BISCUIT TORTONI

Three-fourths of a cupful of stale macaroon crumbs, three-fourths of a cupful of rich milk or cream, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of whipped cream, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla extract and one-fourth teaspoonful of almond extract. Combine one-half a cupful of the macaroon crumbs with the milk, sugar and salt, and allow them to stand for one hour, fold in the whipped cream, and the flavoring, pour into small paper cups, and cover with the remainder of the macaroon crumbs. Freeze for four hours in the refrigerator tray.

EGGS AND MUSHOOOMS

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, in a saute pan, and add one cupful of mushrooms that have been cut in half and drained of their liquor, season with salt and a few grains of white pepper, cook until the mushrooms are thoroughly heated, then place them in a baking dish, and carefully break on top of them the required amount of eggs, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and carefully pour in at the side of the dish a quarter of a cupful of the mushroom liquor. Sprinkle thickly with buttered bread crumbs to which has been added a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, bake in a moderate oven until the egg whites have set, serve with buttered toast.

is danger of an aneurysm developing during some great physical strain. This is the reason the greatest number of aneurysms occur among men performing hard muscular work. Nevertheless, an aneurysm would not be likely to develop if the arterial walls were not first weakened in some way. This usually occurs because of a disease of the artery walls, although it may occur from some constant pressure from without, such as wearing tight garters or belts. Wounds may also damage the arterial walls so that an aneurysm may form.

Sometimes patients are unaware that they have aneurysms, as there may not be any severe pain unless there is pressure upon some adjacent part, such as nerves, bones, or air passages. The symptoms may vary greatly accoring to the size and position of the aneurysm which generally appears as a round swelling which pulsates. If it is close to the surface of the skin it has a natural color, thus distinguishing it from an abscess.

Aneurysms are very dangerous because there is a possibility that they may become ruptured by the constant pressure and pulsation of the blood. A rupture of this sort would, of course, be likely to cause death.

The dilations of the artery's wall tend to become larger because of the constant pressure of blood against the weakened walls. We can help nature greatly by understanding this process. In order to avoid additional strain it is better to have the patient rest and it is aso a good plan to begin the treatment with a short fruit juice fast. This lowers the blood pressure and reduces the toxins which may be irritating the arterial walls, making them softer and more pliable. The patient should be encouraged to develop mental calmness and avoid the use of stimulants. After the fast, when we begin to feed the patient, it is a good plan to prescribe lots of the foods containing calcium, since this element assists the blood to cvagulate. This element is abundant in such vegetables as watercress, lettuce, spinach, cabbage, Swiss chard, turnips, lemons, organges, milk, cottage cheese, asparagus and strawberries. It is also a good plan to see that the patient obtains some gelatin once or twice a day.

It should be remembered that in most cases the real causes of an aneurysm are hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. If these causes can be removed it is possible to bring about a complete recovery, but such a cure can be accomplished only through the most rigid dietary measures. I have seen many patients restored to health under this treatment.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BE TACTFULLY BLIND TO IMPERFECTIONS IN CHILD'S WORK

It is indicative of the amazing optimism of the child that he can rise above his daily discouraging disappointments. We suppose children get used to having their work or conduct criticised by adult standards, and their imperfections and weaknesses pounded home. But there must be many who haven't the faith in themselves to rise above these discouragements and who accept the dictum that they are "terrible."

Mother is anxious that junior shall be interested in art. So she buys junior a lovely box of paints, just the right kind of paint brush, an easel, and starts him off. Then junior shows his effort to copy the tree in the front yard. "Why, junior, look at that tree more closely. Did you ever see a tree with great big thick branches like that? Mercy, no. Let mother show you how it ought to be."

To junior it is true that the branches look almost as thick as the trunk and he had so painted them. He recognizes now that his tree was ridiculous and he rapidly loses interest in trying to paint. It's too hard work.

DON'T BE TOO CRITICAL

Baby builds what he says is a house and daddy takes enough interest to sit down on the floor and show him how it should be done. There is nothing left for baby to do after he has been shown how inferior his toppling house is to daddy's substantial one but to throw the blocks down with a satisfying crash.

If we leave children alone they correct their own mistakes. But they are happy doing it. They have no sense of their inferiority. They are willing to keep on making more and more successful efforts toward copying either the model of conduct or the physical model which we have set for them.

Junior's mother could have applauded the nice, brown color of the tree and said nothing of the thickness of the branches. Later junior himself would have discovered that they would look more real if they were thinner. Then his fine frenzy of artistic effort would not be effectually wet-blanketed. He would enjoy painting.

PRAISE EFFORTS

The successful parent always manages to find something admirable in what the child makes or in his conduct. She is tactfully blind to his failures.

To try at one leap to rise to adult standards of any kind is discouraging to a child. He wants to be all the things demanded of him, he wants to paint like fine artists, or be liked because he is a good child or a quiet one or a brilliant one, but there are many obstacles in the rapid accomplishment of these goals. If we keep on praising his efforts and ignore his lapses, we find in the end that our applause has kept him straining toward the higher goal instead of so discouraging him that the knowledge of his faults overwhelms him and he can't make the effort to surmount them.

HEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

knew what he was doing. All he knew was that he had been frightened by a sudden noise. Now he stopped and looked all around. He looked back toward the Smiling Pool. Nowhere could he see anything that was cause for fright.

He hesitated a few minutes. Then very slowly he began to make his way back toward the Smiling Pool. Every few steps he would stop to sit up, look and listen. So at last he got back to the place where he had been sitting. He looked all over the Smiling Pool. It was as peaceful as it had been before he dozed off. Apparently there was nothing and there was no one to account for the sudden fright Peter had had.

"I must have dreamed it," thought Peter. "That's it; I dreamed it. That's what comes of dozing off in broad daylight."

Just then Jerry Muskrat started to swim across the Smiling Pool toward where Peter was sitting. "Hello, Peter!" said Jerry. "Where did you come from?"

"I've been here a long time," said Peter.

"My mistake," replied Jerry. "I sure thought I saw you coming from over there on the Green Meadows. It must have been some one else." Jerry's eyes were twinkling as he said this. Peter turned his head to look back. Jerry's tail struck the water again—slap!—and Jerry disappeared beneath the surface. Peter jumped and all but jumped right into the Smiling Pool.

Frills and Furbelows Gain Allure

Friend Missing, Clothes Locked Up

Ruby Evans (left,) and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, seek Prosecutor Nix's aid in locating man acquaintance with whom they trusted their feminine apparel when they went on a hike.

A WOMAN can't be expected to wear hiking clothes all of the time, explained Ruby Evans and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans of Houston when they appeared yesterday at the office of City Prosecutor Nix and asked his aid in obtaining certain articles of wearing apparel they had left in the city while they hiked to San Francisco and back.

The pair explained that on arriving in Los Angeles two weeks ago they left their strictly feminine items of attire at the home of John Dura, 3217 North Main street, through arrangements made with Harry Von Feldern, a friend they had known in Houston. Then they went to San Francisco. Returning here yesterday they explained they were unable to obtain their clothes without the aid of Von Feldern, who could not be found. The prosecutor promised his aid in locating Von Feldern.

MENTALITY OF MOZIER CONSIDERED

State Checks Up on Man Who Told Tale of Plot to Fleece Pantages

Mental qualifications of Eugene Mozier, former naval aviator, came to the attention of investigators yesterday following issuance of local grand jury subpoenas for him to appear and amplify his assertions that he was approached by a girl who said she was Eunice Pringle and asked him to assist her in "framing" Alexander Pantages.

While Mozier said in an affidavit to Atty.-Gen. Webb that he had told his story to Dist.-Atty. Fitts and it had been ignored, Fitts denied the assertion and Webb started his investigators to look into Mozier's past and his reliability.

The investigators say the records of the State Athletic Commission show that Mozier, also known as Aloysius Mozier, had been a Vallejo boxer prior to revocation of his ring license a year ago. He also is asserted once to have been a patient in the Mare Island Hospital mental ward.

When called before the athletic commission, the records say that Mozier told of piloting two airplanes from San Francisco to Sacramento. The license was revoked.

Atty.-Gen. Webb says Mozier's story can have no possible effect on Pantages's conviction, as the theater man's plea is now with the District Court of Appeal.

Nevertheless, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert P. Stewart, declare they will go ahead with inquiry into Mozier's charges and he will be given ample opportunity to present his statement to the grand jury.

ORATORY CONTEST LAUDED

Army-Navy-Marine Corps Association Votes to Join in Support of Intercollegiate Event

The Army-Navy-Marine Corps Association has voted to join the Better America Federation in attendance at the Sixth National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, in the Sala de Oro of the Biltmore at 8 p.m. next Thursday, it was announced yesterday by Lieut.-Col. A. T. Copp, commanding. This will take the place of the monthly meeting.

Two members of the association, Lieut.-Col. E. A. Evans and Lieut.-Col. W. H. Fairbanks, are directors of the Better America Federation.

"Los Angeles should be proud to entertain the entrants in the finals of this great event," said Prof. D. Caspar Harvey, national director of the event, who is here from Liberty, Mo., to supervise the affair. "They are the pick of 112 colleges and universities from forty-seven of the forty-eight States. Their work is outstanding.

"The purpose of this contest, as I conceive it, is five-fold:

"First, to show college students throughout the entire country the importance of a knowledge and a study of the fundamentals of the United States government in such an appealing and vivid way that the solidarity of the nation is emphasized to the present college generation.

"Second, to inculcate in college students a realization of the responsibilities of citizenship.

"Third, to cultivate progressive, cumulative, and sane patriotism.

"Fourth, to train leaders from the oncoming generation, and to reward brilliant students for their efforts.

"Fifth, to call the attention of the American public to the fact that college and university students can be and are serious minded, and that the jazz age has not affected the ambitions of our youth."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Cupid has accepted radio as his strongest ally. He may now laugh even more loudly at locksmiths.

Records disclose that more telephone and written requests are registered with radio stations for lovelorn ballads or similar songs than for all other compositions combined.

Throughout Radioland ballads of today are making things easier for the lonely and hungry-hearted, assuaging the frayed dispositions of Mr. and Mrs., and bringing the happy memories of bygone days with little children to the older folk. Popular love songs, melodies of old times and the universal fashion of the classic over radio are having a definite effect which time will prove.

The files of KHJ show that eight disrupted homes were reattuned through radio influence. Fan letters by the thousands attest the hunger of humanity for love.

RESOLUTION BROKEN

"I promised myself never to marry, preferring single blessedness," wrote a young lady from Santa Ana. "But radio has broken my resolution. I now realize that music means love and matrimony."

In the days of Shakespeare's immortal lovers, poor Romeo had to twang, blow or bow out his own ballads. If his delivery was below par no one but the policeman responded. Today, joyful Juliets loll on the overstuffed sofa, while radiant Romeos dial love ballads, allowing them to provide the proper atmosphere for the proposal. The age of science has thus brought balm to the nervous, hesitant swain.

There is no question but that the far-reaching effect of etheric harmonies is bridging many a chasm of the disconsolate.

ON DIAL FOR TODAY

KHJ between 1 o'clock this afternoon and 7 tonight will offer a variety of Columbia network programs that should please every radio fan. Dead Man Found Dangling From Rafter in Barn

Frederick Lewis, 63 years of age, retired Pomona merchant, ended his life by hanging yesterday, according to a police report, in a barn on a ranch at 6275 Chester Drive, Van Nuys. Ranch employees found him dead when they entered the barn. He had fastened one end of a rope to a rafter and the other about his throat and then kicked away a box on which he had stood.

Lewis, police learned, went to the ranch some weeks ago to recuperate from a nervous breakdown. Despondency over his failure to recover, they believe, led to the suicide. The body is at the Todd & Reeves mortuary, Pomona.

SMUGGLING CHARGED IN TRUE BILLS

Three Accused of Bringing Aliens Across Border; Seven Other Indictments

In two indictments yesterday three persons were accused of smuggling aliens across the border from Mexico and of conspiracy to commit the same offense. The indictments, together with seven other true bills, were returned by the Federal grand jury before United States District Judge James.

The three mentioned on the two indictments are James W. Martin, Lawrence Varney and Mrs. Winona Martin, the bail for each on each indictment being set at $2500. Other indictments included three for violations of the Tariff Act, and two for violations of the Immigration Act. One indictment, involving three persons, Jimmie Roche, Joe Brown and Floy Guinn, contains charges of violating the national Prohibition Act.

SCREEN BUDGET COSTS MILLIONS

Columbia Corporation Plans $10,000,000 Outlay

Columbia Pictures Corporation will spend more than $10,000,000 on feature productions at its Hollywood studios during the next year, it was announced yesterday at the Columbia western sales convention in the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

In addition to twenty feature vehicles, the company will produce and distribute approximately 100 short cartoon, novelty and dramatic subjects. It was announced that Columbia will stop production of silent films.

In addition to the new production program it was decided to conduct an elaborate schedule of direct advertising through newspapers, magazines and billboards. A new sales policy was outlined whereby theaters will not buy pictures until they actually are completed and each has demonstrated its box-office value.

Establishment of foreign production units in France and Germany, with the possibility of a third in England, are contained in plans announced by Joe Brandt, Columbia president. Foreign screen talent is to be featured, Brandt stated, with foreign directors in charge of acting. Executive and supervising personnel, however, is to be enlisted in Hollywood and sent abroad. A few American directors also will be dispatched to assist in the European work, Brandt declared.

Among the directors are Frank Capra, Edward Sloman, Karl Brown, James Flood, Matt Moore, Louis King and Marshall Neilan.

The writing staff includes the names of Jo Swerling, James Warner Bellah, Lester Cohen, Dorothy Howell, James Whittaker, William M. Conselman, Casey Robinson and Seton Miller. These and others to be announced will prepare the novels and stage plays purchased for screen treatment.

ZIEGFELD SUED IN PAY ROW

Seymour Felix, who says he was hired by Florenz Ziegfeld to direct the Ed Wynn show, "Simple Simon," for $1500 a week, yesterday filed suit against Ziegfeld for $3750, the amount he says is due him for five weeks' work, for which, he asserts he was paid only half.

Attorney H. R. Snyder filed the suit.

BUCKETEER QUIZ TAKES NEW ANGLES

Complaints on Brokers Will be Submitted to Grand Jury Next Week

Opening up new avenues of investigation into the operations of Los Angeles brokers assertedly engaging in bucket-shop operations, R. J. Bauer, manager of the Los Angeles Better Business Bureau, and L. B. Spaeth, manager of the financial department of that organization, spent yesterday afternoon conferring with Dave Clark, chief of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's complaint department.

At the close of the conference Clark announced that he had received no new evidence but that the discussion had been confined to methods of procedure in following up the present investigation being conducted by the State Corporation Commission.

According to Clark, numerous complaints against certain Spring-street brokers have been received by his office since the inquiry started a week ago. These complaints will be checked by investigators and submitted to the grand jury when it opens the investigation next week.

HEARING POSTPONED ON INJUNCTION SUIT

Superior Judge Hanby yesterday postponed the hearing on the order to show cause why the State Corporation Commissioner should not be restrained from holding up the sale of 180,000 shares of Golden Ace Mining Company stock, pending an investigation of the company by agents of the commission.

The hearing was set for Monday, after C. F. Johnson, attorney representing the commission, and Fred G. Athearn, the commissioner, asked for more time to prepare a defense against the injunction suit.

Bride Arrested on Auto Charge Says Girl Friend Loaned Her Machine

Held as a fugitive for New Orleans authorities on a grand-theft charge, Mrs. Margaret Horn, 18 years of age, a bride of six months, yesterday blamed her predicament on a girl friend's change of mind.

With her husband, Herbert Joseph Horn, 19, the young woman was arrested by police a few minutes after their arrival here by automobile from the Louisiana city. The automobile in which they made the trip was reported stolen in New Orleans, according to police.

In the County Jail yesterday Mrs. Horn explained that a girl friend in New Orleans had loaned the car to her and her husband with the provision that it be returned in two weeks. She said she and her husband, who were married in Long Beach last December, hitch-hiked back to New Orleans and left there eight days ago in the automobile with a capital of $10. A passenger picked up en route made up a deficit in finances.

Firemen Seek Pension Funds Bill Support

Support of Constitutional Amendment No. 27, an act enabling the State Legislature to apportion a part of the corporation tax toward a pension fund for firemen, will be sought by the various firemen's organizations of California at the coming elections, it was announced yesterday by Capt. W. A. Myers of the Los Angeles fire department, president of the California State Firemen's Association.

Composed of 245 departments of the State, the association is sponsoring the amendment, which, supporters say, calls for no increase in taxes.

"The amendment provides a fund to be set aside every two years not exceeding 50 per cent of the corporation tax, establishing pension funds for small communities unable to maintain their own protective insurance for firemen, and strengthening the overworked pension funds of larger cities," Capt. Myers said. The association will hold its annual convention in San Francisco July 30-31 to August 3.

Financier Sees Glowing Future for Los Angeles

C. E. Vesy, a prominent official of the Commercial Credit Company of Omaha and Baltimore and well known in financial circles in the Middle West, is optimistic over prospects of Los Angeles becoming one of the greatest business centers of the world in the next few years. He is here on a visit as the guest of H. C. Nicholson, executive vice-president of the Seaboard National Bank.

"The wonderful expansion of the industrial, agricultural and business resources in every field of commercial activity is a great tribute to the citizens of the Southland," said Mr. Vesy yesterday. "I look for a 2,000,000 population of Los Angeles in a very few years because the progressive spirit behind every movement for commercial expansion assures unprecedented development for the city."

TAYLOR HOLMES DIRECTS FILM

Ray Enright Will Guide New Warner Picture

Carol Lombard Wins Lead in "Best People"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

How history does repeat itself, to be sure. Taylor Holmes, one-time star of the stage version of Harry Leon Wilson's story, "His Majesty Bunker Bean," is now to guide its destinies on the talking screen. He was engaged yesterday by R.-K.-O. to direct Arthur Lake and the remainder of the cast in the talking screen version of the play.

TAYLOR HOLMES

It was at the Cort Theater in New York about fifteen years ago that Holmes played the young hero role.

And we do hear that it is entirely likely that Holmes may be signed as director on a long-term contract with R.-K.-O. Heretofore he has been serving as star of stage and screen, and it is certain that the fans and theater-goers will miss him. But he has we learn, quite firmly made up his mind to stick to directing, for a time at least,

RAY ENRIGHT WILL STAY AT WARNERS

Ray Enright is not moving to any other studio, during the next several years, but is remaining with Warner Brothers.

He signed a new long-term contract with that organization yesterday. Not only this, but he will also have in hand the direction of one of the Warners' most important productions of the year.

This production will be "Red Hot Cinders," a comedy in which it is likely that the ebullient Winnie Lightner will have the leading comedy role.

Carol Lombard Signed

That very charming young actress, Carol Lombard, is rapidly coming to the front because of her excellent screen work. It is only recently that she received excellent notices on a Paramount picture.

CAROL LOMBARD

Now she has been signed by Paramount, we hear, to play the leading feminine role in "The Best People," adopted from Avery Hopwood's play. As heretofore announced in this column, "The Best People" is to be directed by Fred Newmeyer and will be made in New York.

John Holland With Columbia

That excellent actor, John Holland, is being kept as busy as the oft-press-agented bee.

Having made most of his best pictures under the direction of Henry King, he was selected for the masculine lead in "Eyes of the World," which he completed last month. And yesterday he was signed by Columbia to play one of the two principal male roles in "Ladies Must Play." Neil Hamilton and Dorothy Sebastian are the other featured players.

Marie Prevost Busy

Marie Prevost's many fans will be delighted to know that they are to see her again in farce comedy, in which she is so preeminently successful. And that is not detracting from her power to play emotional roles, either.

MARIE PREVOST

Miss Prevost has been signed by Christie to play the lead in a feature comedy, not yet titled.

Alice White, too, has been borrowed from First National, whose contract with her shortly expires, to play another leading role in the picture.

Fashion News Expands

So successful has been Fashion News, of which Hillis Hooper is head, that that organization is leasing a sound stage at Tec-Art studios where they will have full equipment for the filming of their Technicolor fashions reels which have lately become so popular. Meredith Fulton will continue in the capacity of chief director. Fashion News is a unique feature of screen programs, inasmuch as nearly every star in the business has appeared in its revues.

Edgar MacGregor Returns

Edgar MacGregor, "Good News" stage and film director, is back at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio after one of the busiest seven-day trips on record.

The director flew east a week ago, stopping off at Kansas City and St. Louis to keep business appointments. He then went to Baltimore for another conference, and hurried over to Annapolis to attend the June Week exercises at the Naval Academy and to see his son, Edgar J. III, graduate with high honors. He then sponsored his son's marriage to Miss Fay McNamara of Rutherford, N. J.

VITAPHONE FILM LAID IN RUSSIA

"Hearts in Exile" Follows Dolores Costello to Siberia; Shown at Downtown

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Russia under the Czarist regime is brought to the screen of Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater in "Hearts in Exile," a Vitaphone production which had its premiere showing yesterday. Lavishly mounted, the film presents some stunning shots of palace, garden and the Siberian wastes, their beauty enhanced by an insistent obbligato of music from Tschaikowsky and his contemporaries. Some of them, however, look artificial; and this is more in keeping with the narrative which is unfolded; for "Hearts in Exile," I should explain, makes no pretense at being other than an old-fashioned movie melodrama.

Dolores Costello, exquisitely photographed now and again, plays the ill-fated daughter of a fishmonger of St. Petersburg. In more or less scrupulous detail, her marriage to a Baron Serge Palma, and his subsequent banishment to Siberia with the boy she really loves—Paul Pavloff—are depicted by Director Michael Curtiz. After numerous reunions and separations, the lovers finally make their escape (Miss Costello has also landed in Siberia by this time) and the Baron does away with himself.

It is unfortunate that Grant Withers, essentially an American type, was selected to portray Paul Pavloff. At no time does he suggest the university student who, laughing in the face of his tormentors, is driven to the far outpost at Kara in the snows. One's sympathies are more nearly with the Baron, as characterized by James Kirkwood, though all three principals are handicapped in their total appeal by the dialogue put into their mouths. It is, at times, too literary; again, it is frankly colloquial. I was mildly surprised, too, at the pronunciation of the name "Serge." All except the church dignitary performing his wedding ceremony addressed him as if he were that kind of blue suit.

George Fawcett contributes a delightful bit as the fishmonger, growling affectionately at this one and that. A telling moment or two belongs to Olive Tell; and the others are David Torrence, Tom Dugan, William Irving and Rose Dione.

Pictorially, "Hearts in Exile" achieves its major distinction. And musically—there being, besides the classic excerpts, a theme song entitled "Just Like a Breath of Springtime," which is not without a certain haunting quality.

The short subjects are less conventionalized, a comedy called "Cry Baby," with Bobby Vernon, redivivus, boasting at last one amusing scene—wherein the actors in a talking picture, irritated at the yowls of Mr. Vernon's infant in the audience, pause in their amorous adventuring long enough to step to the foreground of the screen and reprimand him severely. Warnre's Downtown also has The Times-Universal news reel, an interview with Robert Ripley, the "Believe It or Not" man, and other Varieties.

Circus Provides Start for Noted Actor, Humorist

Will Rogers, whose second Fox Movietone comedy-drama, "So This is London," will have its premiere at the Carthay Circle Thursday night, started in the show business with an American circus touring South Africa.

Rogers broke horses for the British government during the Boer War, and then joined Texas Jack's Wild West Circus, touring South Africa and Australia, before returning to America. He was known as the Cherokee Kid in this show.

Col. Zack Mulhall gave Rogers his real start in theatricals, however, when the comedian joined his show on the Pike at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. Mulhall had a cowboy show and Rogers was a trick roper. When the fair closed Mulhall took Rogers to New York and secured for him an engagement at the Madison Square Garden.

Later the star of "So This is London" played in vaudeville and after learning that his extemporaneous comments scored as heavily with the audiences as did his rope tricks, sold his horse and made his patter and gum chewing supplant the tricks Comanche had done while the ropes were spinning.

Million Dollar Has Gay Bill of Vaudeville

The new vaudeville at the Million Dollar lends a note of gayety to the program. The feature film is "Ladies Love Brutes," starring George Bancroft.

The Rita Rubin trio do a series of song numbers accompanied by banjos and following are Lewis and La Varre in comedy of rural life, Bill Tellak in violin numbers and dances and Bud Murray's California Sunbeams, the headline act.

Shown in conjunction with Bancroft in "Lalies Love Brutes" are a Paramount news reel, a musical cartoon and a talking comedy.

Rehearsals of Drama Started

Ralph Simone, who will stage "Subway Express" here, is busy at work at the Mason drilling over forty players for the opening of this novel play at the Mason Theater on the 30th inst. There is plenty of room on the stage at the Mason, but the players will be restricted in their movements when they start to work in the small space of a subway car in which the entire action of the play takes place.

The settings arrived here yesterday and in a few days the car will be set up on the stage and rehearsals held on the set. The stage setting is an exact replica of a New York subway car and weighs two tons.

NOTED PAIR BOOKED TO PLAY HERE

Belasco, Curran Announce Engagement of Duncans; "Caprice" Due Monday

Edward Belasco and Homer Curran, local stage producers, have announced that they have taken over the management of Vivian and Rosetta Duncan, and will present them at the Belasco Theater here immediately after the limited engagement of Fay Bainter in "Caprice," which starts at the Belasco Monday night.

The irresistible pair recently scored here in concert, and in a similar type of entertainment with new songs and stunts will be seen for one week at the Belasco. Later the producers plan to present the sisters in a comedy that will give them a chance to display their well-known talents.

The debut of Fay Bainter in "Caprice" Monday promises to be one of the most fashionable of the Belasco premieres.

Following Miss Bainter's limited engagement will come the Duncan sisters for one week, and then Ina Claire, noted comedienne, who will be seen in Donald Ogden Stewart's comedy, "Rebound," with Robert Williams.

COMEDY TO START RUN TOMORROW

"Nancy's Private Affair" Due at El Capitan With Notables in Cast

Starting with the matinee tomorrow, Henry Duffy will present "Nancy's Private Affair" at El Capitan Theater.

This sophisticated comedy is from the pen of Myron C. Fagan, who has given a brisk, modern treatment to the theme. Minna Gombell will make her debut in Hollywood in the role she created in the original New York production, that of Nancy, the clever young wife, who engages in a battle of wits to win back her philandering husband.

Playing opposite Miss Gombell will be Ernest Glendenning, also of the original cast, who has just closed an engagement in "Candle Light" at the Empire Theater in New York last season.

To Kathryn Givney, popular with Henry Duffy audiences, has been assigned the important part of Mrs. Preston, a scheming woman. Effie Afton, recently seen as the ingenue in "Let Us Be Gay," also has a role. Layland Hodgson and Mia Marvin are prominently cast.

Miller Books "White Cargo"

Fred Miller announces that he has succeeded in closing contracts for the first western showing at the California Theater of "White Cargo," the talking film version of the well-known play.

The story concerns a group of white men in the tropics. Gypsy Rhouma has the role of Tondeleyo, the native girl, and she is supported by Leslie Faber, Maurice Evans and Humberstone Wright. The production will be screened starting on the 20th inst.

THRILLER PROVIDES START

Marjorie Rambeau, who is playing her first picture role in Pathe's "Her Man," was initiated to stage drama in that old thriller, "The Face on the Bar-Room Floor." Miss Rambeau was 11 years of age at the time and the piece was played over the Sullivan and Considine circuit. It was shortly after this that she burst forth as leading lady in "Camilla," appearing in the production first in Portland, Or.

DANCE HALL SHEIK WINS AT ROMANCE

Ballroom Contest Leads Couple to Matrimony in New Warner Film

Light and fluffy in premise and story yet rather diverting in entertainment is "Dancing Sweeties," which yesterday moved into Warners' Hollywood Theater for a week's run. Based on a yarn by Harry Fried, the plot revolves about a dance-hall sheik and his matrimonial adventures.

Authentic dance-hall atmosphere and an interesting type study are to be found in the film. The braggadocio of the youths who frequent these places is reproduced in good measure and the seriousness which permeates the dancing contests and the fervor which the participants exhibit are both conducive to quiet humor.

As Bill Cleaver, a soda dispenser, Grant Withers meets Molly O'Neil (Sue Carol) at the Palace ballroom and cleverly maneuvers her away from Needles Thompson (Eddie Phillips,) leaving his own partner, Jazzbo Gans (Edna Murphy,) flat. The dance-hall happens to be sponsoring on this particular night a public marriage and when the couple refuse to go through with the ceremony an enterprising manager (Sid Silvers, persuades Bill and Molly to "dance their way through life together."

After twenty-four days of married bliss and interfering relatives, the youthful two have a spat, all on account of Molly's inability to pick up a new dance step. The marital tiff leads to further complications when Bill steps out with Jazzbo and wins a new gold cup. After divorce papers have been arranged, a reconciliation is effected, and the tag finds Needles and Jazzbo meeting Bill and Molly in the park, the former couple proudly exhibiting one youngster and the latter triumphant with twins.

The four principals of "Dancing Sweeties" enact their various roles with sincerity. Miss Carol and Withers both sing what might be called the theme song of the picture. Tully Marshall, Margaret Seddon and Adamae Vaughn appear briefly. Ray Enright directed from a screen adaptation by Gordon Rigby and Joe Jackson.

The remainder of the current program is featured by a humorous short subject titled "The Royal Four Flusher," with Eddie Buzzell in the title role. Doris Dawson also plays a part. Henry Hull appears in another short, "The Matinee Idol," and a Technicolor novelty and a news reel complete the show.

Frances Marion Lauded for New Prison Picture

Frances Marion, noted woman author, is being congratulated by her feminine friends for having accomplished something which, it was said, could never be done.

For several years studios have avoided dramas in which prisons played an important part. It was argued that the "love interest" could not be maintained in such a picture. But it took a woman to weave a dramatic romance around such a locale.

According to the eighty-four women employed at the M.-G.-M. studios who witnessed a private studio preview of "The Big House" this week, Frances Marion has written a story which will have a world-wide appeal to womankind.

Featured in "The Big House," which comes to the Criterion on the 25th inst., is Leila Hyams, Wallace Beery, Chester Morris and Robert Montgomery are also in the cast.

TRIO WRITES SONGS

De Sylva, Brown, and Henderson are authors of three songs used in Paramount's Technicolor film version of the Schwab and Mandel musical comedy, "Follow Thru."

ROBIN HOOD DONS GARB OF COWBOY

La Rocque in Colorful and Dashing Role Pleases at California

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

In the guise of a modern Robin Hood, as a rambling Mexican bandit whose bravado covers a heart of gold, Rod La Rocque rides nonchalantly across the screen of the California Theater this week in the person of "Beau Bandit."

Robin Hood wore a feathered cap, a mantle of crimson cloth, and stalked his quarry with bows and arrows; "Beau Bandit's" sombrero sets at a rakish angle on his head, a bright serape lends color to his cowboy garb and a six-shooter hangs at his belt.

The two, Robin Hood of old folk lore and this "Beau Bandit," created out of a figment of Wallace Smith's creative mind, go about their business in identical manner. Both rob for the joy of robbing, to take from the unworthy to give to the worthy. Brigand figures such as they have quickened the imagination and stirred the pulse these many long years.

And so, this new R.-K.-O. effort at the California Theater has much in the way of charm, color and romance to offer the adventurous minded. It moves leisurely and interestingly across an outdoor background with mountains, buttes and desert land of a locale somewhere in the great Southwest.

La Rocque, as the Mexican bandit, occasionally slips on his dialect; he is not always as convincing a desperado as one might wish for, but he is, on the whole, good. His trusty henchman, a great menacing-appearing peon, is etched with vivid effect by Mitchell Lewis. Doris Kenyon, blond, appealing and with a talent for music, is the heroine; George Duryea is the man she is to marry. Charles B. Middleton is Perkins, the shifty-eyed heavy. Walter Long, Jim Denlon, Charles Brinley, Barney Furey and Bill Patten are cowboys. The little fat fellow—Denlon, I think it is—has quite a flair for comedy, not at all hard to take. Lambert Hillyer directed from the Smith story.

The comedy, "The Setting Son," adapted from an H. C. Witwer story, featured Alberta Vaughn and Al Cooke. It is broad slapstick which now and then hits a high peak of boisterousness.

"Great Unknown" Adapted From Edgar Wallace's Story "Sinister Man"

The idea essential to the story which Edgar Wallace once wrote, "The Sinister Man," is retained in the picture, "The Great Unknown," now at the Filmarte. It is a mystery, of that there is no doubt. It is as much a mystery at the end as it is at the start; what it is all about only Mr. Wallace knows and, unfortunately, he didn't explain. There is one old man who tries to be confusing by being three separate people, so that his murder doesn't help any, because no one knows just which of his three personalities has been put out of the way.

Exactly what is the status of another tall gentleman with a profile and a tailor is never quite made clear. He seems a questionable sort of person, for whenever he enters a scene, and one is never sure when he will, he always wants to know, "Well, what do you know about the Stanford Corporation?" Whether he ever finds out is all part of the mystery.

A few scattered street scenes of London afford moments of lucidity and interest, but they appear to have nothing to do with the case. There is, however, one episode which is adroit. The millionaire banker, to whom life is just one chicken sandwich after another, is shown in the usual tenement "dive." He wants a "pal" killed and is holding tryouts to find the best shot in town. The novelty of the scheme so inflames the genius of one killer that he shoots off the chandelier—and it may be supposed he lands the job.

"Day Dreams" may be classed under the term, "arty." Nevertheless, the idea, which is H. G. Wells's, is a delightful and keen piece of farce and one only wished it might have been elaborated to its full value.

Orpheum Will Screen Boles Vehicle Today

John Boles's latest vehicle, "Captain of the Guard," will make its bow at the Orpheum Theater today with the hero of "Rio Rita" and "The Desert Song" in the role of a young music teacher and composer.

Playing opposite Boles will be Laura La Plante whose success in "Show Boat" was marked. As a special feature the Orpheum will present Nyiregyhazi, noted pianist, in his first theater appearance. Two concerts are scheduled, dedicated to Charles Wakefield Cadman, local composer, who wrote the music for "Captain of the Guard."

Surprises Due at Late Frolic

Surprise night will be observed tonight at the midnight matinee of "Hell's Angels" with special attractions planned by Sid Grauman for the third of the series of late hour frolics at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

The features will be presented in addition to a complete showing of Howard Hughes's aerial epic and the Grauman prologue. Stars from various studios have been invited for informal personal appearances. In view of the popularity of the late hour shows, it has been necessary for Grauman to arrange added rail and motor bus transportation facilities for the departing audiences.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR

NEW SHIPSIDE DEPOT PLANNED

Auto Magnates Promoters of Warehouse Project

Program Told in Hearing Before Rail Board

Two Other Applications for Permits on File

BY WALDO DRAKE

Entry of Elmer C. Cord and John W. Cord, automobile magnates, into the race to establish the first privately owned shipside warehouse at the harbor was revealed yesterday when the local offices of the State Railroad Commission heard the Cords' application to build a warehouse on Mormon Island. Organized as the City and Harbor Warehouse, Ltd., the company would sell $100,000 worth of capital stock, using $35,000 for operation and $65,000 to build a one-story, concrete and steel fireproof warehouse on Anacapa street in the rear of Berths 174 and 175.

The application set forth that the company can secure a seventeen-year lease from the Banning estate for the necessary land, the warehouse to have an inclosed area of 80,000 square feet. After 1947, when title to the land involved passes to the Harbor Department, the Cord interests would seek an additional lease from the city, it has been learned.

Continued expansion of Los Angeles and rapid growth of industry in Southern California and the entire Southwest was stressed before the Railroad Commission as evidence of need of tidewater warehousing facilities. Continuing the application says:

"With the harbor now a common rail point with Los Angeles, many eastern firms can take advantage of water shipment rates to the west coast, warehouse at the harbor and then distribute by rail to California, Arizona and inland points, where they now ship direct by rail on frequent schedule, warehousing in the East. They can also distribute to near-by points direct from the harbor by truck at considerable saving over warehousing in the city."

Applications to build privately operated warehouses at the port have also been made to the State Railroad Commission by the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, of which E. A. Mills is president, and by the Wilmington Transfer and Storage Company, headed by Walter E. Seeley.

MANY TO SAIL ON NEW LINER WINNIPEG

The liner Winnipeg, largest of the French Line's five new European-Pacific passenger liners, will take out a capacity passenger list tonight when she sails for Le Havre on her maiden homeward voyage, according to Harold de Golia, French Line district passenger manager.

Among the travelers embarking here will be Hoyt Mitchel, head of the pioneer Southland family, en route on an extended European tour accompanied by Mrs. Mitchel and their two daughters, Germaine and Virginia; Mrs. E. J. Nicholson, prominent in Long Beach society; Mrs. Germain Herschfield, wife of the Universal film executive; Mrs. M. D. Tubman of Beverly Hills, and Mrs. Adrienne Moynier and her son, Andre, Mrs. Marian Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gardner, W. A. Gregg, Walter Gregg and Mrs. M. E. Saunders, all of Los Angeles.

Ernest N. Varnado, port manager of the Marine Exchange, returned to his desk yesterday after a month's illness.

Paxson Hayes, local scientist, will embark here on the 29th inst., for Mexico on his second expedition after the glider snake of Sonora swamps. He will sail on the little British steamer Oaxaca, which will on that date begin the first of three 2500-mile cruises along the West Coast. Her itinerary, it is announced by C. G. Krueger & Co., agent, will include stops at Ensenada, Mazatlan, Guaymas and La Paz.

Planking of Paul Whittier's seventy-foot Diesel cruiser Pagan was completed yesterday by the Harbor Boatbuilding Company. The $40,000 craft, to be powered by a 175-horsepower Superior-Diesel, is to be commissioned about August 15. The Harbor yards are also at work on an eighty-five-foot fisherman for Pete Dragich, costing $45,000 and to be completed September 15, and Robert Belcher's thirty-four-foot cruiser Ahoyoha, whose single screw will be driven by two Ford engines through a new gear box. She will be ready July 1.

Program of the convention of the Association of Pacific and Far East Ports, to be held at San Diego July 10, 11 and 12, was received yesterday by Port Manager Burt Edwards. On the opening day papers will be read by K. J. Burns, general superintendent of the Vancouver (B. C.) Harbor Commission; S. E. Hegardt, port manager of Oakland, and by Maj. T. C. Macaulay, executive manager of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

Advance interest, however, is being focused on a paper ot be delivered on July 11 by Congressman Phil Swing, named "Boulder Dam as It Affects Ports." The Los Angeles Harbor Department's motion picture showing local port facilities and their operations will be shown to the delegates on the second day. The third day will be given over to a luncheon and visit to the races at Agua Caliente. Members of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, Port Manager Edwards, Harbor Engineer George Nicholson and Traffic Manager Jay G. Starr, will represent the local port.

Reports were yesterday that the Lassco liner City of Honolulu, temporarily disabled two weeks ago by a fire, probably would sail from Honolulu for here within a week or ten days. It was found she would not need to be drydocked on that side. The engine-room force now is checking up the engines and boilers preparatory to bringing the ship over under her own power for repairs here.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13. (AP)—Rebuilt and equipped with auxiliary power, the old fishing schooner Metha Nelson passed out of harbor today, bound for Los Angeles. Three months ago, the old sailing vessel, which for many years plied between San Francisco and the salmon fishing banks in Alaska, was purchased by the Fox Film Corporation and taken to an Oakland shipyard for conversion. The work cost in the neighborhood of $65,000. She will be used in the making of motion pictures. The Metha Nelson is 156 feet long and was built in Eureka in 1896.

With Capt. E. T. Krafft on the bridge, the Norwegian motorship Tai Yang arrived here today from Yokohama with passengers, silk, general cargo and lumber. The vessel is engaged in the Far East-New York service of the Barber-Wilhelmsen Line. From here the vessel will proceed to Los Angeles, the Canal and New York. The Tai Yang recently made a record run from Los Angeles to Manila in eighteen days and twenty-one hours.

PORTLAND, June 13.—The Fairfield Steamship Corporation filed libel action in United States District Court today against the river steamer G. K. Wentworth and owners, the Hosford Transportation Company.

The action charges the steamer's crew with negligence which resulted in the collision on the Columbia River the 5th inst. between the steamer Maine and a barge in tow of the Wentworth.

The Fairfield Corporation claims damages in the sum of $15,000.

The Pennsylvanian and the Mexican of the American-Hawaiian Line are here stowing wool. The Pennsylvanian will take 6000 tons and the Mexican 5000 tons. The Georgian of the same fleet left yesterday for Boston with 9100 measurement tons of wool.

SEATTLE, June 13.—Word was received here today from the Columbia River Packers' Association vessel Memnon that John Turner, third officer on the ship, lost his life Sunday by drowning near Nuhsagak, Alaska. Further details were not received.

As an aftermath of the drowning of C. W. Sanky and Selden Silgriest, both of Oakland, Cal., and two Eskimos in the Kushokwim River near Bethel, Alaska, on Tuesday and the loss of goods from the barge on which they were working, the W. M. Tupper will be forced to sail from here two weeks earlier on its next trip to that region with provisions. The Santa Ana Steamship Company officials here announced today that due to the loss of the goods taken north by the Tupper on her first trip of the season, the ship would sail on its next voyage to the Bering Sea on August 1, instead of August 15.

The N. Y. K. liner Yokohama Maru arrived here today on its last voyage to this port. She will be replaced by the fast new motorship Hiyo Maru.

TACOMA, June 13.—The Grace freighter Charles arrived to load for South America today. The vessel got in from Port Ludlow, where she took lumber and is stowing an additional 550,000 feet and box shooks here. She will shift down Sound Sunday, returning here the 20th inst. to finish loading southbound.

The Hamburg-American liner San Francisco arrived today and is loading lumber, box shooks and canned goods for Europe.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

SHE SELDOM VISITS PUEBLO

Senora Soledad Yanez of Ventura Sees Metropolis of Southland, Los Angeles, Every Eighty-one Years, However, When She's Taken for Long Ride

VENTURA, June 13.—Lenora Soledad Yanez, 89 years of age, makes her visits to Los Angeles few and far between. Her first was by wagon in 1849; her second by automobile, yesterday—eighty-one years later.

"When I went there first there was only the adobe mission and half a dozen mud houses," she murmured in astonishment to her grandson, Frank Feraud, local grocer, as she viewed lofty structures along Wilshire Boulevard.

Hordes of city dwellers, rushing along, while horns honked and street car bells clanged at busy Broadway and Seventh left Mrs. Yanez bewildered.

"In 1849, the only inhabitants were a handful of drowsy Spaniards, Indians and Mexicans," she exclaimed. "This place has grown and the people have multiplied as if by a miracle. I can hardly believe it is the same town I saw eighty-one years ago."

Among the sights which Feraud showed his grandmother were the big theaters, Westlake Park, and the pier at Venice. The trip came as a surprise to Mrs. Yanez. Feraud drove by to take her for a little ride, she thought. Once in the car, he stepped on the accelerator and drove down to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Yanez was born in Santa Barbara. She has lived here sixty-five years.

"Did she like it?" Feraud answered with a smile. "I'll say she did. She is crazy about it. Believe me, I'll take her down to Los Angeles again before another eighty-one years passes."

RANCHER SHOT BY MISTAKE

John Yates of Near Calexico Enters Wrong Patch in Search of Watermelons; Watchman Fires at Him

CALEXICO, June 13.—John Yates, owner of a ranch three miles east of this city, has shattered bones in his right leg as the result of shotgun bullets fired by Eugene Ramos, a Mexican watchman, late last night when he entered the wrong patch in quest of watermelons.

Yates had been told by John Raptis, a melon grower, that he could go to the latter's field and help himself whenever he wanted to do so. With a companion, Yates drove his car to the watermelon field which he thought belonged to Raptis. As he entered the field, he saw a light flash a short distance away.

According to his story, he walked over to the man holding the light and asked if he was on the Raptis place. The answer was a load of buckshot which inflicted a serious wound. He was rushed to the hospital where doctors said amputation might be necessary.

After the shooting, it was disclosed that Yates had entered a melon field belonging to Ben Arkelian, where Ramos is employed as the watchman.

The Arkelian field adjoins the Raptis ranch. The Mexican was placed under arrest immediately, but would make no statement, except that he was given a gun and told to keep strangers out of the field.

Yates makes his home in San Diego, where he has a wife and two children. He is highly regarded here, and neighbors, including Raptis, who partially confirmed the story, were outspoken in their feelings against Ramos today.

ing the highest scholastic standing, had two claimants and was presented to Mary Perrine and Helen G. Pitney. The girls' grades were practically identical and Miss Perrine will have possession of the gown and Miss Pitney the cap, on alternating occasions. William Parsons, bearer of the mantle during the year just closed, made the presentations.

Class essays were by Dick Tarney on "The Evolution of a Billion-Dollar Harbor" and by Monroe Marlowe on "The Boulder Dam's Influence Upon the Development of the Southland."

Fellowships in the scholarship federation were presented to Lela Delhauer, Robert Dourson, Lucille Fletcher, Betty Ann Kelly, Henrietta Mesplon, Dorothy Nolan, William Parsons, Isabel Rogers, Monroe Marlowe and Frederic Shidler.

George E. Delevan, Jr., president of the board of trustees of the school, presented the diplomas.

The program of the Emerson school began with an Irish dance. This was followed by the presentation of the class gift by Mary Henderson, "Memories," play by class; "Sun and Wind Lullaby," by class; presentation of classes to junior high by Mrs. Bertha Clark and the welcome to junior high by George Hale.

MOTHER IN SEA-SEARCH AFTER SON

While She Scours Santa Barbara Channel for Her Offspring, He Sails Home

SANTA BARBARA, June 13.—The love of a boy for his new boat and the anxiety of a mother, started a four-hour search in the stormy Santa Barbara Channel for Everett Herter, son of Mrs. Caroline Herter, last night.

Young Herter with his tutor, purchased a new canoe and an outboard motor late in the afternoon, and decided to drive to his Sandyland Beach cottage, about ten miles down the coast.

The mother became anxious after several hours of waiting and came to town to start a search. Capt. L. Swede of the Mollielou took Mrs. Bridge aboard and started to search down the coast. Nick Bermudas in a speed boat also joined the search. In the meantime, the boy and his tutor arrived home safely while his mother and the other searchers did not come back to Stearns's Wharf until nearly midnight. The mother was overjoyed when she learned her son was safe.

TEACHER'S JOB IN BALANCE

Pasadena Board of Education to Decide Thursday on Reinstatement Plea of Charles E. Stickle

PASADENA, June 13.—Whether Charles E. Stickle, former Pasadena school teacher, will be re-employed as a junior-high instructor will be decided by the Board of Education at its meeting next Thursday.

Decision to withhold verdict on the teacher's plea followed an open meeting at which Stickle appeared before the board and made a verbal plea for reinstatement. The teacher resigned from his position some months ago when arrested on a charge of improper conduct in connection with examinations of young boys. He later was acquitted after standing trial in Justice Court.

Letters both for and against his re-employment were read by Secretary Courtenay Monsen. A number of women present appeared obviously embarrassed when the former teacher, in attempting to justify the action for which he was arrested and tried, related intimate details concerning the lives of the subnormal boys who had been placed in his care at the special attention school.

Although board members did not commit themselves on the ultimate decision, Vice-President Raymond G. Thompson said, "The court decision absolved Mr. Stickle of criminal intent. The fact remains, however, that he exceeded his authority and, therefore, may have been guilty of unprofessional conduct as a teacher."

Among letters urging Stickle's reinstatement were those from the Pasadena Teachers' Association, signed by President Beulah Coward and Secretary H. J. Paul, and from Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; George Hetzel, principal of the John Marshall Junior High School; A. C. Wickland, principal of the Cleveland and Garfield schools; Mrs. Robert Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Waterhouse, Doris Hewson, W. Virgil, Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Brockhouse, Mrs. Rhoda Stonecipher, Dr. Blanche B. Waddell and Mr. and Mrs. C. McCullom.

Water in Big Bear Now at Peak for Year

BEAR VALLEY, June 13.—Walter in Big Bear Lake seems to have hit the peak for the year now, at forty-six feet and four inches, which is six feet and eight inches below the top of the old dam. The level may be raised a trifle before the irrigation season becomes heavy and water is drawn from the reservoir which will not be before July 1.

During the past year the rainfall, or snow expressed in rainfall figures, reached a total of about thirty-one inches. This is far from a normal precipitation for the valley. Absolute records of sixty inches of precipitation are available and there are some records of ninety inches in one year but this cannot be verified.

The lake could be filled and the water reach the top of the new dam in three seasons of good rainfall and snowfall and possibly in two, it is said. The level is the lowest for a start of the irrigation season right now that it has been in many years, but it will be higher at the close of the season this year than it was last year, due to the fact that so much less water will be drawn out.

CARRIER ENDS FIRST QUARTER

John Frei of Ventura Has Walked Some 110,000 Miles in Delivering Mail for Uncle Sam in Various Communities from Brooklyn to Southland

VENTURA, June 13.—John Frei of this city today celebrated the completion of a quarter of a century as a letter carrier for Uncle Sam. It is conservatively estimated that in his twenty-five years of service, he has walked about 110,000 miles.

Figure it for yourself—take about 300 working days a year, multiply by twenty-five, multiply the total by fifteen, the number of miles he walks a day, and then knock off a couple of thousand to make sure the estimate isn't too high. Frei started out as a postman in Brooklyn on June 13, 1905. His salary was exactly $1 a year. Running postal errands he managed to average between 20 and 30 cents an hour. He remained as a "dollar a year man" twenty-one months.

The veteran letter-carrier will be 50 years old next month. He is married and has two daughters.

From 1914 to 1916 Frei worked as letter carrier at the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in New York City. In 1916, at the time of the historic New York subway cave-in, which claimed many lives, Frei was within ten feet of the disaster when it happened.

In 1916 Frei moved to Union City, Pa., and continued as a mailman there until 1926, when he came to this city.

CITY GOVERNMENT STUDIED

Various Forms of Municipal Administration Will be Surveyed by Ventura Board of Freeholders

VENTURA, June 13.—An extensive study of all forms of city government, in theory and in practice, has been mapped by the board of freeholders preparatory to drafting a new charter for this city. Representatives will visit twelve cities, eleven of them in California, while others will investigate the advantages and operation of the best-known types of administration.

Plans were made last night when the board of fifteen met to form a permanent organization and elect regular officers. James Blackstock was chosen chairman; J. E. Rains, first vice-chairman; Judge Merle J. Rogers, second vice-chairman, and W. G. Glover, secretary.

City governments which will be studied, and the board members which will visit them, follow: Monterey, Alhambra, W. H. Glover; South Pasadena, Floyd J. Hickey; Modesto, Visalia, Santa Barbara, J. E. Rains; Riverside, Redlands, Arthur Wilvert; Santa Ana, San Bernardino, J. M. Argabrite; Santa Monica, E. E. Wiker, and Yakima, Wash., J. H. Hinsdale.

Three different types of government will be examined by members. They are: Council-manager, Robert E. Sherdian; mayor-council, David J. Reese; commission, Merle J. Rogers.

Ventura is now a city of the fifth class, governed, along with several other cities in the same class, according to rules prescribed by the State Legislature. It is headed by a Council of five, and by independent elective department heads. Advocates of a new charter maintain that the present form of rule is archaic and inconvenient.

"LEGEND OF LAKE" PLAY IN PREMIERE

Arrowhead's Pageant of Indian Lore in Its First Presentation Today

SAN BERNARDINO June 13.—Vanguard of motor pilgrims from all parts of Southern California passed through this city today on the way to Lake Arrowhead, where the world premiere of "The Legend of the Lake," Indian pageant play, is to be staged tomorrow afternoon in a pastoral setting on the Lake shore.

Augmenting the expected throng the visitors in private automobiles, the Pacific Electric Railway and Motor Transit stage lines are operating special excursions, and hotels and resorts of the lake region have made preparations to accommodate a record crowd for the opening of the community, nonprofit play, which will be repeated tomorrow night and Sunday afternoon.

The spectacular drama, directed by Russell Stimmel, who staged the 1929 Desert Play at Palm Springs, will be featured by colorful dances, created by Katharane Edson, special music composed by Mildred Wheat and elaborate costumes designed by Adelaide Schumann.

Included in the cast are more than forty well-known dramatic artists, with Helen Freeman and John Philip Ryder as the heroine and hero, and Jeffrey Williams, Thor Neilsen, Jack Marchen and David Loring in the principal supporting roles.

The pageant, which will be staged in a natural amphitheater formed by a canyon indenting the north shore of the lake, tells the story of an Indian maid's sacrifice for her love of her people, which outweighed even her affection for her Indian lover.

Spectacular effects are promised by Stimmel for the night performance which will mark a departure in the staging of open-air drama in pastoral settings.

Man Implicated in Burning of Field of Grain

CALIPATRIA, June 13.—Jesse W. Corn, well-known rancher here, was arrested last night on a complaint accusing him of having been implicated with Rudolph Morris in the burning of sixty acres of uncut grain, belonging to himself and F. W. Converse.

The complaints assert that the men conspired to burn the field to defraud the insurance company. Morris was arrested several days ago when a bunch of keys found near the burned area was traced to him. According to the officers, he gave information which led to the arrest of Corn.

The latter was released under $500 cash bond, and Morris's bond was fixed at $1000, which he secured.

Pomona Grads Get Two Out of Four Honors

CLAREMONT, June 13.—Graduates of Pomona College received two out of the four international fellowships in chemistry granted by the National Research Council from the funds of the Rockefeller Foundation. With a vast number of applicants from college and university graduates over the entire country, Pomona feels elated in winning two of these fellowships.

Dr. Wesley Leighton '23, will spend the year at the University of Frankfort, Germany. During the past year Dr. Leighton has held a research appointment in the chemistry department at Harvard University.

Edward Radcliff, Paul Nollenberger and Roy Campbell are the board of directors.

San Diego City and County Officials and Members of Park Board Compromise on Highway

SAN DIEGO, June 13.—Unless there is a slip in the proceedings, the new paved highway to the north will be constructed along the easterly course of Torrey Pines Park. Such was the agreement reached today by the conference of city and county officials, representing the park board, the City Council and Board of Supervisors. There will be only one election, to be called in November, and that is to vote out of the park the strip necessary to build the East Highway.

The city will prosecute its appeal before the Supreme Court to determine control of Pueblo lands that have been given over for park purposes. This latter course of the Council was opposed, but, it refused to yield.

When the park board adopts a resolution agreeing to give the strip off Torrey Pines Park for the East Highway the Council agrees to drop the call for an election to vote out such strips as had been determined for highway purposes, including the Cliff route along the ocean front of Torrey Pines. Tentative agreement to adopt such a resolution as soon as a legal description of the proposed easterly route could be made available, was voiced by the park board. The board expects to meet next Thursday to consider the resolution and have a report ready for the Council on the 23rd inst., the date set for action on the Torrey Pines election. The Council agreed also, to call an election in November at the time of the general election, to vote the easterly route out of the park so that no complications could arise over the status of the road in the event that the State Highway Commission agreed to take it over and operate it as a State road.

The figures, several thousand dollars above those of last year are higher due to normal increase and the necessity of filling the deficit in the State appropriation for operation of the junior college, Miner B. Phillips, auditor, said.

Rowe Post, No. 30, American Legion, who have furnished a speaker to treat the history of the flag, in the person of Ernest Geddes. Charles Ross, accompanied by Loren Adair, will sing, and Boy Scouts from Old Baldy Council will be present in uniform.

Valley Group Plans Sea Trip to Gulf Waters

VAN NUYS, June 13. — Plans are under way for a party of San Fernando Valley residents to make the two weeks' excursion to Mazatlan and up the Gulf of California on board the steamship Oaxaca, leaving the 29th inst., H. Phelps Gates, valley advertising man and one of the charter owners of the ship, announced today.

The boat will be the first and only passenger steamer to make the excursion down the west coast during the vacation months. Paxon Hayes, owner of the snake farm on Ventura Boulevard, will be one of the passengers on the trip. He will resume explorations in the interior of Mexico that were interrupted several weeks ago by an encounter with a giant boa constrictor in which he was injured.

The sailing date has been arranged to accommodate teachers, students and families who cannot take a vacation until the close of the school term.

One of the chief attractions of the trip will be to give many of the passengers a chance to try their hand at large game fish in California Gulf waters. It is understood more than a score of valley residents will be on the ship when it leaves on the 29th inst.

Mammoth June Sale Of Homes In Beautiful Leimert Park

Builders in Leimert Park work on a flat percentage of profit over cost—thus guaranteeing the best of workmanship and full value to every buyer. But they must turn over their homes quickly in order to make money. It so happens that over 30 beautiful homes were completed at the same time. And in order to find immediate buyers, Leimert Park builders are co-operating in this June Sale—offering really sensational price reductions, terms and trades. A few of the values are listed below—but words are weak in describing the beauty of these showplaces, the charm of this country club environment, the indefinable atmosphere that makes Leimert Park such a delightful place in which to live and play. Come out—by all means come out—because the city will not witness another event like this for years to come.

4246 NINTH AVE., LEIMERT PARK. One and a half story modern art home designed by an architect who has done many of the showplaces in Beverly Hills. Two large sunny bedrooms, electric refrigeration, double garage, etc. High studio window in living room. The low price and terms will amaze any one knowing house values. Builder will accept trade.

4102 S. EDGEHILL DRIVE, LEIMERT PARK. Red Seal Electric Home. Take an expert with you—he'll say this superb home is worth at least $2500 more than June Sale price. Completely equipped with electrical features including dishwasher, kitchen fan, refrigeration and electric heat. Three bedrooms and 2 baths, beautifully decorated living room. See this gem. Will accept some trade.

4427 TENTH AVENUE, LEIMERT PARK. French Normandy home with 3 wonderful bedrooms, 2 lovely baths, new-style kitchen breakfast room, large living room. Price $9250. Will take very small down payment.

SEE THESE AND DOZENS MORE today or tomorrow without fail. Enjoy a drive through charming Leimert Park, with its genuine concrete streets, beautiful landscaping, golf courses right at hand, etc. Only 17 minutes from 7th and Broadway with rapid transportation on 7c Yellow car. Grade and junior high schools on the property. Unique restrictions protect the value of your property for all time. Come out to LEIMERT PARK OFFICE, 4322 Angeles Mesa Drive (now Crenshaw) or phone VE. 1176.

TRAMP, TRAMP, [illegible]

Just about this time of [illegible] year there emerges from [illegible] depths of winter, like [illegible] bit from its warren, the [illegible] of the road, commonly [illegible] as the tramp. He is [illegible] member of an [illegible] brotherhood, whose [illegible] adornments and [illegible] gard for the conventional [illegible] of dress signify a [illegible] knowledge of the art of [illegible] next to nothing. Irrigation Promoter Argues Boulder Power Pacts Take Away Rights

Secretary Wilbur Charged With Fraud by Colter, ex-State Senator

PHOENIX, June 14. (AP)—Fred T. Colter of Phoenix, former Arizona State Senator, today mailed a complaint for filing in the United States District Court at Washington charging Secretary of the Interior Wilbur with fraud in negotiating Boulder Dam power contracts with California interests.

The court is asked to restrain the Interior Secretary from carrying out the contracts. Besides Secretary Wilbur, the city of Los Angeles, the metropolitan water district of California and "all others" with whom contracts have been negotiated for energy to be generated at Boulder Dam are named as defendants.

"CONSPIRACY" TOO

The complaint charges the contracts were entered into as "the outcome of a conspiracy to defraud the State of Arizona." All the defendants are named as parties to the asserted conspiracy. It states that "Arizona's wealth and rights" are taken away without due process of law.

An attack is made on the Boulder Canyon Dam Act. It is charged the location of the dam is "at a point deliberately selected as too low for the waters to be diverted from the Colorado River onto lands of Arizona but which must go to serve the purposes of large landowners outside of the United States."

WHO COLTER IS

Colter is designated as plaintiff in his own right as a citizen of Arizona and as trustee for the Arizona High Line Reclamation Association, "a subdivision of the State of Arizona," and the Glenn Bridge High Line and Power District.

Colter, as trustee for the two latter districts, has during the last eight years filed on thirty dam sites on the Colorado River and its tributaries, all upstream from the proposed Boulder Dam.
